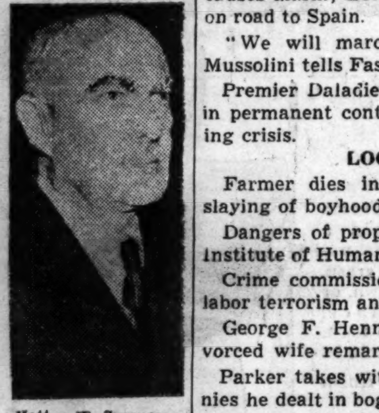
SUMNERS CALLS ON CONGRESS TO CURB PRESIDENT

Demands Repeal of Emergency Powers.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 13.—[Special.]—An appeal to both Republicans and Democrats to restore to congress the powers delegated to President Roosevelt in the "emergency" period was made in the house today by Representative Hatton W. Sumners [D. Tex.].



Hatton W. Sumners.

Sumners, chairman of the judiciary committee, is one of the most influential men in the house. Whenever he has taken the floor in opposition to the administration leadership, he has won his battle. It was he who administered the death blow to Mr. Roosevelt's court packing bill and turned the tide against the President's government dictatorship measure in 1938.

With many of the President's so-called emergency powers expiring this year, Sumners' speech was regarded as highly significant. He served notice upon the President that congress was ready to resume normal functioning.

Appeals Also to G. O. P.

The fact that the veteran legislator focused his plea upon the Republican minority as well as Democrats also was noted with attention by the law makers. A coalition of Republicans and anti-Roosevelt Democrats on several occasions has functioned successfully at this session to overcome the administration forces.

"The executive branch of the government," Sumners told the house, "had just as well understand—if there is anybody who does not understand it—that congress is going to begin to perform its normal constitutional functions as the legislative branch.

"The job ahead of us requires all that Democrats and all that Republicans can do to solve it."

Favors Monopoly Quiz Funds.

Sumners gained the floor to discuss an added $600,000 appropriation for expenses of the joint committee investigating monopolies in the United States. The Texan, a member of the investigating committee, favored the extra fund, but used the opportunity to express his views on the extraordinary powers granted the President by congress in the last six years.

"Every one will agree," Sumners said, "that in this country we are at the crossroads and must determine very soon which direction we shall go. Some believe the time and condition for controling our economic activities by competition is ended. It is out of date. Others do not agree. We must make that decision."

In the beginning of the Roosevelt administration, Sumners reminded the house, the people and congress both recognized that the nation was confronted by a great emergency.

"By common consent emergency powers were concentrated in the chief executive to deal with this emergency," he remarked.

Dictatorship Is Avoided.

"That would have been done regardless of who was President. It is instinctive with us to take such a step. It makes it possible for us to escape a dictatorship when conditions require a quicker pickup and stronger powers than Anglo-Saxon institutions normally afford.

"The time has now come when we must begin the normal functioning of our institutions. The legislative branch in these last six years has not been functioning normally and we have to go back to it.

"It is necessary now that the legislative branch come into its full responsibility because the President himself is going to need all that an independent patriotic coöperative legislative branch of the government can do."

Five Masked Swains Find Love's a Snare

Mr. Raccoon No. 1 scowled down yesterday from the highest perch in the Brookfield zoo's raccoon tree. Beneath him scowled Nos. 2 to 12 in order, seated according to seniority.

On the lowest branches sat five visiting raccoon boys, the cause of all the trouble. Romantic young fellows from the forest preserve, they had dropped in to visit the eight raccoon subdebs. And the subdebs' old admirers were jealous. It was spring. Their fancy was turning to thoughts of love. There weren't enough girls to go around anyway. And here were five handsome strangers.

Easy to Get in the Zoo.

Assistant Director Robert Bean explained that in the spring raccoons are romantic, and the visitors have just emerged from their winter's hibernation. They climbed the low wall, plunged into the moat, and swam over to the raccoon colony.

If they did try to go back home after a lovely evening, and he doesn't think they're that stupid, they couldn't get back. The zoo is so fashioned that it's easy to get over the wall and in, but impossible to get out. It's one thing to jump off the top of the wall into the water. And it's quite another to swim the moat to the bottom of the wall and climb up.

But even if their hostesses weren't so charming, Mr. Bean doesn't think the visitors would leave. They get beautiful coats and handsome physiques out in the open, clambering down to the brink of the stream to fish, and chasing frogs and mice for lunch.

Soft Life in the Zoo.

But in the zoo they get apples, and bananas, and carrots, and boiled corn, and cooked fish, and sometimes beef, right on their plates.

They can stay up late at night if they wish, and since it's always warm in the zoo they don't need to waste their winters hibernating in the hollow limb of a tree. In other words, Mr. Bean thinks the new raccoons wanted some soft living, as well as romance.

But he doesn't think they'll be very happy. Raccoons have very strict rules about seniority, he says, and it will be years before they will be eligible for higher perches in the trees.

RAIL EMPLOYES WAGE HOT BATTLE TO GET IMPROVED ICE WATER

A battle for ice water engaged the attention of the Illinois commerce commission yesterday. Members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen employed by the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern railway are attempting to force the management to install improved drinking systems for employés.

The brotherhood wants separate containers for water and for ice, holding it is "unsanitary to drink water in which ice is floating about." The railroad declares the Illinois commission does not have the right to force it to install separate ice and water holders.

At the end of long and heated arguments between the two factions members of the Illinois commerce commission adjourned to get a drink of their own ice water and continued the hearing to April 25.

THE BARBER SAID NO SOAP! AND HAD RAY PUT IN JAIL

Raymond Menard hadn't a penny yesterday when the barber finished trimming his hair in a shop at 4557 Clifton avenue, so Menard took off his top jacket and offered him that. The barber shook his head. Menard removed his second jacket and offered both. The barber, Angelo Cotsifakis, refused.

Menard pointed out that since he is partially bald the barber hadn't worked very hard, but added his third jacket to the pile. The barber was firm. Leaving his fourth jacket on, Menard thrust the other three into the barber's hands and, looking much thinner, walked out.

When the barber had him arrested by Policeman Alex Aulin and Sergt. Everett Mullaney, Menard's pockets were found to be stuffed with lingerie and stockings he said he had bought when he got all the jackets. He said, as the lockup door clanged behind him, that he is a WPA worker, 39 years old, living at 4359 Monticello avenue.

Dies in Chair for Slaying of Boyhood Chum

Elvin Wood, Grundy county farmer, was executed in the electric chair in Joliet penitentiary a few minutes after midnight this morning for the murder of his lifelong friend, Abner Nelson, wealthy farmer of Morris, Ill. Wood's last hopes vanished late yesterday when Gov. Horner denied a final plea for a stay.

The execution marked an unusually swift chapter in Illinois law enforcement. Wood shot Nelson to death Feb. 19 in a ransom kidnaping plot. On March 6 he was sentenced to death on his plea of guilty. Sentence was carried out on the date originally fixed—a rarity—and only 54 days after the commission of the crime.

Marches Calmly to Chair.

Wood marched unruffled to the electric chair. He was strapped quickly. The current was applied at 12:04 a. m. He was pronounced dead at 12:08. More than ninety persons witnessed the execution. Warden Joseph E. Ragen was in charge.

Wood ate a dinner of fried chicken, potatoes, asparagus, lettuce, pie, ice cream, and coffee. He smoked two cigars. He received spiritual consolation from the Rev. I. J. Obenshain, Methodist, and the Rev. W. H. Nibbelink, Baptist, both of Morris. During the day Wood was visited twice by his mother, Lydia, and his wife, Lenore, and once by his two children.

He received calmly the news of Gov. Horner's refusal to intervene.

Chronology of the Case.

The chronology of the Wood-Nelson case shows how it was carried swiftly to its conclusion:

Feb. 19—Wood, lodge brother and friend of Nelson, called at the latter's model farm near Morris, shot Nelson to death, then carted his body to the Illinois river near Seneca and threw it in.

Feb. 21—Wood confessed. He said he had planned to kill Nelson, hide his body, and then try to collect ransom, but his nerve failed. The same day Nelson's body was recovered.

Feb. 23—Wood was held to the grand jury by a coroner's jury.

Feb. 28—Wood indicted for murder.

March 2—Wood pleaded guilty.

March 6—Death sentence imposed.

Subsequently an appeal was made to the state pardon board and Gov. Horner refused to intervene.

CHAMBERLAIN ASSAILS DUCE'S ALBANIAN COUP

But Refuses to Scrap Pact with Italy.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 13.—Prime Minister Chamberlain today told the house of commons that Great Britain would lend Greece and Rumania all assistance possible if those two countries went to war to preserve their independence.

He said Italy's conquest of Albania had not made it necessary to denounce the British-Italian agreement of 1938, which provides for the maintenance of the present territorial and political status in the Mediterranean area. He added, however, that withdrawal of Italian troops and war material from Spain would be necessary for maintaining Britain's pact with Italy.

Daladier Pledges Aid.

While Chamberlain was delivering his declaration of policy, Premier Edouard Daladier of France in a formal statement delivered a similar pledge of assistance to Greece and Rumania.

[Liberal excerpts from the declarations of Chamberlain and Daladier may be found on page 6.]

Chamberlain's declaration, which members of parliament were called back from Easter vacation to hear, was chiefly devoted to a lengthy exposition of events and diplomatic exchanges which led up to Italy's invasion of Albania.

The prime minister, who spoke for thirty-five minutes, disclosed that both Italy and Britain suspected each other of planning to seize the Greek island of Corfu last Saturday and Sunday.

See Hitler March Blocked.

Chamberlain's restraint in language gave rise to a belief in some quarters that Premier Mussolini's seizure of Albania was as much to check a German move toward the Mediterranean as it may have been to increase Italian strength in the Mediterranean at the expense of the French and British.

These quarters said that if Reichsfuehrer Hitler has any idea of pushing down to Trieste and the Adriatic sea he would be blocked effectively by Il Duce's position astride the Adriatic's outlet to the Mediterranean.

Some observers saw in Chamberlain's declaration a sign that the war scare is subsiding and that the prime minister's supply of patience with the dictators is far from being exhausted.

Chamberlain read every word of his speech. His language for the most part was colorless, but he seemed to put sharp vigor into his voice when he said that public opinion throughout the world had been profoundly shocked by Italy's march into Albania.

Deplores Italy's Conquest.

He said that everyone, whether Christian or Moslem, realized that a powerful government had imposed its will on a defenseless country by a show of armed force.

Chamberlain was emphatic about the importance of maintaining existing positions in the Mediterranean and Balkan peninsula. He said:

"In the event of any action being taken which clearly threatens the independence of Greece and Rumania and which the Greek and Rumanian governments, respectively, consider it vital to resist with their national forces, his majesty's government will feel themselves bound to lend at once to the Greek or Rumanian governments, as the case might be, all the support in their power."

Admits Disappointment.

The prime minister then avowed, to the accompaniment of opposition jeers, that nothing yet had altered his conviction that he was right in signing the Anglo-Italian agreement. He admitted his disappointment over the seizure of Albania and its effect on British-Italian relations. At the same time he called on Mussolini to give practical evidence of a desire to carry out the remaining terms of the pact by removing Italian troops from Spain.

Chamberlain said Il Duce, in an ex-

U. S. Will Keep Out, Senators Warn Europe

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 13.—[Special.]—Inflammatory utterances and the promotion of war hysteria by President Roosevelt and other administration officials met general condemnation in the United States senate today.

W. F. George. [Top.]
R. R. Reynolds. [Bottom.]

Mr. Roosevelt's recent remark to the people of Warm Springs, Ga., that he would be back there in the fall "if we don't have a war," was the object of particular denunciation in the senate protest against propaganda and war hysteria.

Senator Walter F. George [D., Ga.] said the President's utterance had aroused general fear throughout the United States that this government had encouraged statements made in the British house of commons and the British house of lords today.

Points to British Statement.

He referred to the British policy of encircling Nazi Germany with a system of war alliances and the suggestion that the United States was encouraging this project. Lord Halifax, the British foreign secretary, told the house of lords that the judgment of his government was shared by the European democracies and "by the United States."

Senator George, one of the most eloquent speakers in the senate, has never been regarded as a critic of the administration's foreign policy. Today, however, he delivered an impassioned address demanding that congress let not only the people of Europe but the people of the United States know that it has the sole power to declare war.

"Whoever gives assurance, whether they be in high or low places, to European nations that this country is ready to go to war and will go to war is simply misleading European nations, because the congress of the United States and the American people have no idea of again engaging in a foreign war," said Senator George. "They are highly resolved upon that course."

War Propaganda Denounced.

Senator Robert R. Reynolds [D., N. C.] touched off the foreign affairs debate when he started a speech denouncing war propaganda and asserting that the only people excited about the situation in Europe were the people of the United States.

Senator Sherman Minton [D., Ind.], a New Deal yes-man, demanded to know whether there was any evidence that officials of the United States were inciting war hysteria. Senator George replied to Minton, saying:

"Undoubtedly there is wide propaganda in this country—very wide propaganda and very subtle in its nature—to get us into war; that is to create the war sentiment and mold the war mind here in the United States.

"Mr. President, there is no need to gloss over the matter. Within the last week the President of the United States, in bidding good-by to the people of my own state, said, 'I will see you again Thanksgiving if we do not have war.'

"My mail today is full of appealing letters from mothers and fathers who understood the President to suggest

LONG FORGOTTEN TOMB OF WORLD WAR FOES UNCOVERED AT YPRES

BRUSSELS, Belgium, April 13.—Coinciding with the announcement of military emergency measures, pick and shovel workers in the Ypres canal district today uncovered the remains of a great number of soldiers killed in the world war.

Identity plaques, bits of uniforms, and well preserved documents showed that the workers had chanced upon joint graves of Belgian, French, and German soldiers, hastily dug after a battle and since forgotten.

HITLER MASSES ARMY; PREDICT GRAB OF DANZIG

Berlin Says England Stirs Up Strife.

Turmoil Grows

With Germany crying defiance of the British-French guarantee of Greek and Rumanian independence, dispatches from Europe last night reported these ominous developments:

SPAIN—Troops mass near Gibraltar. German warships sail for maneuvers off Spain. Britain barricades road from Gibraltar into Spain.

POLAND—More troops are called as German soldiers mass on frontier.

ITALY—Premier Mussolini announces: "We will march straight ahead." Crowds shout: "On to Paris."

RUSSIA—Moscow indicates it will refuse to enter any anti-aggressor pact until the United States joins.

RUMANIA and GREECE—British-French independence guarantee comes as a surprise, it is indicated.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 13.—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's speech to the British house of commons, in which he pledged aid to Greece and Rumania, was greeted with jeers today in official German quarters.

The Nazis called his address weak and pale. They charged that Britain's policy was driving Europe to war.

Usually well informed sources asserted that Germany's attitude might be translated into action this week-end. At that time, they said, the Nazis in Danzig will proclaim openly their union with the reich. German troops massed in Marienwerder and Marienburg, on the outskirts of Danzig, are ready to march into the city if there is any opposition to this proclamation, it was said.

Expect No Opposition.

Germans asserted, however, that in the course of this operation the Polish corridor would not be touched, because that might precipitate a clash. They feel certain that England and France will not do anything about the Free City of Danzig. The English have indicated to the Germans repeatedly that they were not interested in Danzig.

THE TRIBUNE correspondent learned from reliable sources that Hitler had been contemplating an immediate expansion eastward to include what he terms the full German living space, but that he changed his mind shortly after his conquest of Czecho-Slovakia.

He has decided that Germany's real enemies are in the west, and that France and England must be taught that they are weak and Germany is truly strong, THE TRIBUNE was informed.

To Use Propaganda Machine.

The only way to do this without a war is to use Germany's tremendous propaganda machinery, it is held. The propagandists must seek to increase the size of the numerous weak spots in the British and French empires and must exploit the fear of war among the people of the former entente powers, Nazis assert.

Germany, which has taught systematically the creed of heroism and the doctrine that it is necessary to be ready to die for the fatherland, feels she is far ahead of England. Britain, the Nazis say, has not dared even to impose conscription on her citizens.

The British were attacked today in long columns of vituperations which branded as lies many English press reports that were based on fact. It was said one correspondent will be expelled.

Blast Palestine Policy.

"It is astonishing," said a semiofficial statement, "that Chamberlain, in view of the English action against the Arabs in Palestine, where they are displaying the most brutal violence, should dare reproach others for using violence. In Palestine homes are being bombarded, men, women, and children are being killed because they are fighting desperately for their freedom."

German propaganda blamed all the nervousness which gripped the world after Germany's invasion of Czecho-Slovakia and Italy's invasion of Albania on what it called panic engendered by an irresponsible press.

"No one can have faith any longer in the honesty of English peace assurances in the face of English methods of stirring up war fever in the world through unscrupulous panic mongering," was one official comment.

Recalls Prewar Drive.

"There is a general danger in all this, namely the danger that all Europe will be drawn into a new people's murder through English policy and methods. That is the real kernel of the matter. All else is mere phraseology."

The anti-British campaign recalled for those who remember the period shortly before the world war a similar anti-British drive which took place then. It was as if the clock had been turned back twenty-five years to the time when the world heard the plaints of imperial Germany about the encirclement policy of King Edward VII. of Britain. The new blasts recalled the God strafe English campaign, the German demonstrations of sympathy for the Irish, Arabs, Hindus and all nations which the Germans charged were oppressed by England.

Features of the German press drive of 1914, brought up to date and worked out with infinitly greater psychological cleverness than any propaganda in the day of imperial Germany, reappear in the press and radio of today.

Expect War to Be Averted.

Despite the nightmarish quality of the atmosphere in political Europe and ominous signs, however, usually sound observers of world affairs believed war will be averted for some time to come.

Close friends of the Fuehrer revealed that Hitler himself remains convinced he will get what he wants without a real war — through the sheer strength of his policy of intimidations and surprises, and through his propaganda campaign.

Hitler is directing the campaign personally at the crucial points. His aids are convinced that despite his lack of knowledge of the foreign field he will be able to direct the campaign with the same force he used in Germany on his way to power.

Speak of Lesson to Poles.

The news that Hitler had given up the idea he could coöperate with the western powers, however, was responsible for tremendous nervousness in French and English quarters as well as in the Netherlands, Denmark, and Belgium.

Until a short while ago the Germans believed they could compel Poland to relinquish what territory they wanted when the time came, but now official spokesmen assert Poland has joined the entente powers whether she signs an agreement with England or not. They speak openly of the lesson Poland will be taught very soon, but refuse to state what that lesson will be.

Hitler's fiftieth birthday on April 20 will be used as a political test for the smaller nations of Europe. The Germans expect that two hundred special guests will be in Berlin to demonstrate their friendship with Germany. They stressed especially the importance of the imminent visit of Grigore Gafencu, Rumanian foreign minister, who will stay in Germany until April 21.

Want Michael in Berlin.

A big Rumanian military delegation will be in Berlin, and the Germans are trying to induce King Carol of Rumania to send his son, Crown Prince Michael, as a special delegate to the Feuhrer's birthday celebration. Michael, who hates Mme. Magda Lupescu, the king's Jewish mistress, because of the important part she plays in his father's life, is susceptible to Nazi propaganda, the Germans believe. They hope he will help them further there plans in Rumania.

The Bulgarian army will send big delegations for the Fuehrer's birthday, as will Latvia, Lithuania, and Hungary. Italy and Spain are making special preparations to honor their axis partner.

The small southeastern powers asserted the visits of their representatives to Berlin are mere gestures of politeness and wisdom, since there is no point in antagonizing Germany, but that their independence is not involved.

Eyed by Nazis

Magda Lupescu, Jewish mistress of King Carol, against whom German Nazis hope to work through Carol's son, Crown Prince Michael of Rumania.

Crown Prince Michael of Rumania, whom Nazis are reported to be seeking as official guest representing Rumania at Hitler's fiftieth birthday celebration in Berlin. Nazis hope to win him to their views because of his hatred for Magda Lupescu, mistress of King Carol, Michael's father.

TAKE PRESIDENT TO TASK FOR HIS WAR FEAR TALK

Senators Resent Hints U. S. Backs Britain.

that he would be back unless 'we' went to war; and I say that undoubtedly America is entitled to know how we stand here in this body, and so is Europe."

Senator Claude Pepper [D., Fla.], another New Deal yes-man, demanded to know whether Senator George had deduced that the President was attempting to lead the American people into war.

"I am making no statement with reference to the President's motives; but the American people have not forgotten that many months ago the President, at Chicago, said that the thing and the only proper thing to do with certain aggressor nations was to quarantine them," said Senator George.

Terms Statement Disturbing.

"The people of these United States have not forgotten declarations which have been repeatedly made by men in high official positions; and consequently when good men and women, fathers and mothers, read the statement the President issued last Sunday, they were excited, they were disturbed."

Senator George then served notice that he would not vote for any proposal to give the President authority "to declare who is the aggressor, to say nothing about quarantining the aggressor, because when we take that stand, in my judgment, we shall take a step toward war."

"When we name the aggressor and when we insist upon treating the aggressor as an aggressor here, we have taken the first step toward war," Senator George continued. "And within six months the streets of American cities will again resound to the marching feet of American boys unless we have the courage here to say that we do hold this issue of peace or war, and that we will not go to war."

Urges Letting Europe Alone.

Senator George concluded with the assertion that there would be no war in Europe if the United States would let Europe alone.

When the gray haired, scholarly Georgian had seated himself Senator Hiram Johnson [R., Cal.], veteran foe of meddling in European affairs went over to shake hands with him.

"I can only say, thank God, there is a man," said Senator Homer T. Bone [D., Wash.], in a tribute to Senator George.

Bone told the senate that if the current war mania should become much worse it wouldn't be safe for the senator from Georgia to make such a speech; that he would be in danger of going to jail.

"Yes, and I'll say to the senator from Washington," Senator Reynolds interposed, "that he'd better be careful before he goes too far in trying to keep us from interfering in Europe's affairs. He'll be branded a Nazi or a Fascist."

Senator Minton, as a matter of fact, had sought to stigmatize Senator Reynolds with the brand of Naziism with taunts about the German-American bund. He sought to make it appear that Reynolds, in denouncing all un-American propaganda activities, favored the bund because he had not mentioned it by name.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] was the first to call the senate's attention to the statement of Lord Halifax that his government's policy had the support of the United States.

Spectators Applaud.

Spectators in the galleries applauded so vigorously that the chair had to admonish them about the senate rules when Senator Vandenberg observed, with reference to the Halifax statement:

"If there still be any doubt about it, after the post-war demonstration incident to the league of nations, I want to say, at least for myself, that any such judgment or any such resolution on the part of the United States will have to come from a majority of 531 members of congress before it will have the slightest validity whatsoever."

Senator Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.] asked Senator Reynolds whether the President had undertaken to explain what he meant by his Georgia remark. Reynolds replied that the President had adopted as his own an editorial in the Washington Post which interpreted the statement. The editorial called for a "preponderant show of force" by democratic nations to stop Dictators Hitler and Mussolini. The editorial, unqualifiedly approved by the President, further asserted that by "we" the President meant "western civilization."

Senator William E. Borah [R., Idaho], the senate's foremost authority on foreign affairs, was not present during the debate today, but he participated by proxy. Senator Reynolds read a letter written by Senator Borah to a student of St. Olaf college, Northfield, Minn., who had written for advice respecting "the growing war menace."

Letter from Borah Read.

If war should come, Senator Borah wrote, the young men now in college would be among the first to go.

"If they should cross the seas again to take part in a European war, those who are now seeking in every way to bring on a situation which means war would not be with them," Senator Borah continued. "When it comes to taking up the real burdens of war, those who agitate war are never there."

Senator Borah urged the youth of the country to investigate the real issues that threaten to involve this country in war. "A thorough investigation will disclose," he said, "that a more sordid, imperialistic war could hardly be imagined than this [European] war should it unfortunately come."

Masseur Is Fined $100 for Posing as a Doctor

E. G. Erikson, a masseur physiotherapeutist with offices at 7439 Cottage Grove avenue, was found guilty yesterday of posing as a doctor, in violation of the medical practice act, by a jury before Judge James G. Gullett of Elizabethtown, sitting in County court. Erikson was fined $100.

SPEAKERS WARN U. S. TO BEWARE OF PROPAGANDA

Devices Used to Influence Opinion Described.

Warnings that foreign propaganda is bringing danger to the American nation were given yesterday by speakers at the Institute of Human Relations in the Palmer House. Almost a thousand civic, social, and religious leaders attended the institute, which is sponsored by the woman's committee of the Chicago Round Table of Jews and Christians.

Effective antidotes for the current doses of propaganda seeking to enmesh the nation in the European conflict are required if America is not swept off its feet as it was in 1917, said Clyde R. Miller of Columbia university, secretary of the Institute for Propaganda Analysis.

To combat propaganda, said Miller, Americans must be able to recognize it and then suspend judgment until essential facts and implications have been ascertained.

Cites Devices of Propaganda.

Miller cited several devices commonly used by propagandists. He mentioned, among others, name calling. In name calling, he explained, the propagandist appeals to hates and fears by giving bad names to individuals, groups, or ideals which he wishes condemned or rejected. President Roosevelt, the Rev. Charles Coughlin, and Hugh Johnson were cited by the speaker as proficient name callers.

"Prime Minister Chamberlain of Britain is a more dangerous propagandist to democracy than either Hitler or Mussolini," Miller declared. "He reminds me of a police captain in secret cahoots with the gangsters. He and France ask help from America in fighting Fascism and preserving democracy. In the world war we fought not to save democracy but to preserve the English and French empires."

Thinks People Know a Phoney.

"The American people can smell a phoney a mile away," he asserted. "We might have a dictator for a day and raise our hands in salute. But on the second or third day our thumb would touch our nose.

"The public is catching onto the tricks of the propagandist. The more we have the sooner they will see through the whole shoddy business."

RUSSIA ATTACKS BRITAIN; CALLS ITS POLICY WEAK

Asks Action to Stop Nazis, Fascists.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, April 13.—Bitter complaints against what is branded as the weak, vacillating policy of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of Great Britain were broadcast in Russian, English, French, and German from the communist internationale station in Moscow tonight. The broadcasts again emphasized Moscow's dissatisfaction with British foreign policy.

Both radio speakers and the soviet press warned England that Chamberlain's policy to secure peace in western Europe by directing Reichsfuehrer Hitler's and Premier Mussolini's attention to the natural wealth in the Ukraine already has been costly.

"It can be even more expensive unless Britain adopts Moscow's plan of collective security and hastens to obtain military coöperation of both large and small states against the aggressor nations," communists asserted.

Convinced of Ukraine Plot.

Moscow is convinced that Hitler is planning to attack the Ukraine. The bitterness against Britain, foreign observers said, is due to the fear that bolshevism may be left to bear the brunt of the first German attack before a war can develop in western Europe.

It was reported in Moscow that Great Britain's suggestion that the soviet government take the initiative in forming a Black sea pact with Turkey, Greece, and Rumania to maintain the status quo of the Black sea area and to collaborate with Britain in the eastern Mediterranean received a doubtful reception.

Demand Pledge from U. S.

An official soviet spokesman, doubting the value of further pacts, said that Moscow intends to reserve her course of action until England, France, and the United States begin to support their words with deeds.

An announcement in Pravda and other soviet newspapers that a world lineup was needed against aggressor countries, as explained by the soviet foreign office, indicated that America first must abandon completely her isolationist policy.

It was reported that the British government had indorsed the Kremlin project and that the propaganda machinery of the British government was coöperating closely with soviet subsidized and controled semipublic organizations in America in gaining public support for acceptance of the soviet government as a full member of the democratic coalition.

124 VOTERS SPELL NAME WRONG BUT CANDIDATE WINS

A vote is a vote and must be counted even if the favored candidate's name is misspelled. Because this is true Dr. Thornton W. Merriam has been declared elected a member of the board of trustees of school district 75 in Evanston.

The Council for Democratic Action, an Evanston civic group, had waged a write-in campaign for Dr. Merriam in the recent election. When the unofficial tabulation was made it appeared that three candidates whose names were printed on the ballots had won. Dr. Marcus Hobart had 523, Hugh W. McLean 481 and Maurice Webster 462. Dr. Merriam was credited with only 408.

But when the official count was canvassed by the district board it was held that 124 misspelled ballots should be counted for Dr. Merriam.

TROOPS MASSING NEAR GIBRALTAR AROUSES ALARM

British Build Barricade on Road to Spain.

BY H. H. WALL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GIBRALTAR, April 13.—The Spanish city of La Linea, north of Gibraltar, was alarmed tonight by the continued arrival of Spanish troops from Cadiz.

Gibraltar military authorities took precautionary measures. About 250 engineers worked through the night to build a strong barricade on the main road to Spain about three-fourths of a mile from the no man's land which separates Gibraltar from La Linea.

Field guns, mortars, machine guns, tanks, trucks, and thousands of cases of ammunition were arriving incessantly at La Linea, which is a city of 65,000 population. Authorities there commandeered all motor cars and buses, including the cars of foreigners.

Fear Attack on Gibraltar.

La Lineans think that Generalissimo Franco, chief of Nationalist Spain, supported by Italy and Germany, might attack British Gibraltar, which always has been a prime objective.

In La Linea 2,000 troops have been quartered in the bull ring, hospitals, and schools. Some troops are in tents near the Queen of Spain's chair, a hill which is believed to be as high as the Rock of Gibraltar. A number of Italian technicians and engineers arrived in the La Linea neighborhood a month ago.

Military and air attachés of Marshal Henri Petain, French ambassador to Burgos, arrived here tonight. It was understood they were on a secret mission to British authorities.

[Marshal Petain, who returned to Paris early in the week for conferences, left Paris hurriedly last night for Burgos, Gen. Franco's capital.]

German Fleet on Move.

LONDON, April 13.—(AP)—Germany's decision to hold spring naval exercises off the Atlantic coast of Spain was interpreted unofficially tonight as a Nazi gesture to emphasize Germany's alliance with Gen. Franco in the anti-communist treaty.

Germany informed Britain and France that the maneuvers would start on April 18 and last about a month. It was reported six cruisers, including two of Germany's 10,000 ton pocket battleships, together with destroyer and submarine flotillas, sailed from Kiel today.

British naval circles believed that the submarines never would return to Germany. It long has been feared here that Germany would seek to use Spanish ports as an operating base for their submarines, which could then be in a position to endanger Britain's trade routes through the Mediterranean

Naval experts pointed out that if Germany were able to use Spanish ports in the Canary Islands she also would have an excellent base from which to attack Britain's route across the Atlantic.

Admit Guns Peril Gibraltar.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 13.—The value of Gibraltar as a naval base has been reduced since "the English parliament has revealed its apprehensions regarding the heavy guns which now have been mounted on the European as well as the African side of Spain," the Boersenzeitung, the organ of the German armed forces, said today.

German volunteers who helped Gen. Franco win the Spanish civil war have not yet been withdrawn to Germany and the Boersenzeitung article reviewed the strategic position of Nationalist Spain.

The recent development of military aviation has greatly benefited the offensive striking power of Spain, the writer, Col. Rudolf von Xylander, an instructor in Berlin Military academy, said. He argued that the Pyrenees, owing to their narrow depth, offer no great obstacle to planes.

He added that the Biscayan [northern] coast "provides a highly favorable position for the assembly of aircraft against France, since the planes could reach France without crossing the Pyrenees." He also pointed out that the distance from Gijon, Spain, to Plymouth, England, is only 500 miles. He said ports of northwestern Spain hold an "enfilading position, enabling them to threaten South Atlantic trafic."

SECURITY PLEDGE A SURPRISE TO US, RUMANIA CLAIMS

Asserts British, French Acted Independently.

BUCHAREST, April 13.—(AP)—King Carol of Rumania interrupted a brief holiday at his Black sea castle today to return to Bucharest for a study of British and French guarantees of Greek and Rumanian independence.

In quarters close to the government it was obvious the guarantees were welcome. In circles near the throne, however, it was said "Rumania has got something without asking for it."

Rumania was being extremely cautious. High officials declined to give an opinion until Carol, who apparently assumed personal charge of foreign policy, had expressed his views. An official statement from the foreign office said:

"Reports in the British press that Rumania had invited such a guarantee [by Britain and France] are without foundation. The declarations in London and Paris were spontaneous and an expression of policy which originated entirely in the western powers."

Say Pledge Is One-Sided.

The foreign office insisted that the British and French declarations were unilateral—that Rumania assumed no responsibilities as a result of Daladier's and Chamberlain's reassuring gestures.

It held that Rumania had done nothing which might be offensive to Germany, which on March 22 signed with Rumania an agreement for sweeping rights to exploit Rumanian resources.

A foreign office spokesman said that Rumania's hands were not tied by the German trade pact and that she still was free to trade with other nations. Similarly, it was asserted that Rumania's hands were not tied in the political sense by the British-French guarantees. Rumania, it was indicated, did not consider herself a link in any encirclement of Germany.

News to the Greeks.

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

ATHENS, April 13.—Prime Minister Chamberlain's mention before the house of commons today of the agreement reached between Britain and Greece was the first official indication of an understanding between the two governments. Forecast of this was not printed in the controled press.

There can be no doubt it is extremely welcome to the Greek people.

Late tonight it became known that Premier John Metaxas intends to stress the fact that the agreement mentioned by Chamberlain is one-sided—it no wise binds Greece to anti-Italian action.

The Italian assurances of respect for Greece's integrity have been given the fullest publicity and editorial writers have been instructed to play them up and stress the "traditional friendship of the Greek people for Italy."

JUGO-SLAVS CALL 50,000 TO COLORS IN DEFENSE MOVE

Grave Internal Crisis Faces Nation.

BY ALEX SMALL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, April 13.—Jugo-Slavia is taking no chances of being surprised in the present international crisis. The Tribune correspondent learned tonight that all reserve officers of the army have been quietly called to the colors. So have all soldier reservists who fill technical functions—the so-called specialists.

Even unofficial sources refused to state how many men have thus been called up, but a careful calculation placed the total at around 50,000.

Troops Called Quietly.

Like all the partial mobilizations which have alarmed Europe recently, this one was done quietly, the convocations being sent by letter to the individuals affected.

Furthermore, no one will admit that it is a mobilization at all. Officials here, as in every other European country, have a horror of the word mobilization. They put men in uniforms, give them lethal weapons, and force them to reside in camps or barracks, but they are not mobilized.

In the face of possible and impending danger, this tripartite nation—made up as its name indicates of three peoples, Serbs, Croats, and Slovenes—is morally and spiritually united as it never has been before. Such, at any rate, is the official story.

Feud Isn't Settled.

There is good reason, however, for being somewhat skeptical about the perfect unity, especially so far as the Croats are concerned.

The long standing feud with the Serbs, which has existed ever since the end of the world war or as long as the country in its present form has existed, still is unsettled. Official sources say that it is virtually settled, or that within a few days a formal agreement will be signed which will give satisfaction to all parties.

Possibly so, but the Tribune correspondent knows that two days ago Vlatko Matchek, leader of the Croat National Peasant party which has been creating all the trouble, sent a personal emissary to Belgrade.

Reports No Progress.

It was the second man in the party, Dr. August Kosshutitch, who returned to Zagreb, the Croat capital, after telling the Tribune correspondent that in negotiations with the regent, Prince Paul, and Premier Dragisha Tsvetkovitch, he had made no progress whatever.

Admission that the situation is far from favorable was made tonight in the semi-official statement that Premier Tsvetkovitch intends on Sunday night to go to Zagreb to have a heart to heart talk with Matchek.

A similar meeting took place two weeks ago, at the conclusion of which it was announced that the two leaders were in substantial agreement as to the form of the new régime which would give the Croats the autonomy which they have been demanding for twenty years.

Fate of Nation at Stake.

It is agreed here that the fate of the country will depend, to a large extent, on the success or failure of next Sunday's meeting.

Matchek has it in his power either to aid the Belgrade government mightily or to pursue a course of action which might well lead to disastrous consequences for the entire nation.

Leader of Arab Rebels in Palestine Flees to Syria

DAMASCUS, Syria, April 13.—(AP)—Aref Abd El Razzek, chief commander of Arab rebels against British rule in Palestine, was held by French military authorities at Palmyra, in the interior of Syria, tonight after he had fled from Palestine. The Arab leader crossed the border just ahead of British troops who had been pursuing him. His flight was believed to have paralyzed, at least temporarily, the Arab revolt against the British in Palestine.

'WE WILL MARCH STRAIGHT AHEAD,' MUSSOLINI CRIES

Fascists Shout 'Tunisia' and 'On to Paris.'

Achille Starace, secretary of Fascists.

ROME, April 13.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini declared tonight Italy would "march straight ahead" and a Fascist throng chanted "On to Paris" after the Fascist grand council sanctioned officially Albania's union with Italy.

The grand council in a twenty-three minute special session "acknowledged" the Albanian offer of the country's crown to King Victor Emmanuel III. of Italy, which the king was certain to accept.

The action gave speedy legal form to the Fascist conquest of Albania in the face of the new British and French pledge to resist aggression in the Mediterranean.

Italian authorities announced later that a delegation of Albanian notables would arrive by airplane tomorrow to present the crown to King Victor in a formal ceremony on Saturday.

Crowd Chants "Tunisia."

At the conclusion of the grand council meeting shortly before midnight Il Duce and Achille Starace, Fascist party secretary, appeared on the balcony of Palazzo Venezia and were cheered by a crowd of about 50,000 Fascists.

Il Duce, interrupted frequently by chants of "France," "On to Paris," and "Tunisia," told the throng:

"The historic events of recent days are the result of our will, of our faith, and of our force.

"We go toward friendly peoples in an attitude of friendship, against hostile peoples we will have a clear, decisive, resolute attitude of hostility.

"The world is asked to leave us tranquil in our great and daily task. In any case the world must know that tomorrow, as yesterday and always, we will march straight ahead."

The crowd also made occasional shouted references to Corsica, Savoy, and Nice, other French territory for which the Fascists have been agitating.

Promises to Maintain Order.

Starace preceded Mussolini's brief remarks by reading the motion which the grand council had adopted by acclamation. It said:

"The grand council, taking cognizance of the solemn and unanimous vote with which the Albanian constituent assembly decided to offer the crown of Albania to the king of Italy and emperor of Ethiopia, salutes with virile joy this historic event which, based on centuries of bonds and friendly association, has linked the people of Albania to the people and destiny of Italy in a more profound and definite union.

"The grand council declares that Fascist Italy with its men and its arms is in the course of guaranteeing to the ancient and valorious Albanian people order, the respect of every religious faith, civil progress, social justice, and peace through the defense of common frontiers."

Tomorrow the cabinet will meet to draft a detailed law establishing a new "personal union" between Italy and Albania. The chamber of fasces and guilds and the senate are expected to approve the law on Saturday. The king is to sign it later.

Surprised at Chamberlain.

Prime Minister Chamberlain's announcement in London of the Anglo-French pledge of protection to Rumania and especially Greece evoked expressions of surprise from Rome Fascists. They cited Greece's note to Italy expressing full satisfaction with Italian assurances to respect Grecian territorial integrity.

Fascists said their troops in Albania had stabilized the Mediterranean situation instead of disturbing it as the British and French governments insisted.

La Stampa of Turin, referring to French criticism of the Albanian occupation, warned that "Paris is obsessed with the idea of war. She does not take into account that the sure victim of war, however it may turn out, will be France."

Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, No. 2 Nazi, will arrive here tomorrow night for an official visit, which will extend through Sunday. Goering, who had been in Italy a month on a vacation before going to Libya, where a military review was staged for him yesterday.

Rome's defenses against air raids were tested today. Anti-air raid sirens warned citizens off the streets. Bombers flew over in sham attacks. Antiaircraft guns popped blank shells. Vatican City sounded its siren, but Pope Pius XII. continued holding a series of private audiences.

MISS LEE FARRELL.

WARSAW, Poland, April 13.—(AP)—Poland warmly greeted French and British guarantees to Greece and Rumania as a vital step in the stop Hitler campaign, but continued tonight to increase her military preparations.

Additional men were called to the colors to add to the 1,000,000 reservists and regular army soldiers already under arms. The war ministry announced the beginning of recruiting of youths 18, 19, and 20 years old who have not yet been conscripted.

Report Germans Massed.

German troops have been concentrated at three points on the Polish frontier, it was reported here. These points are Lauenburg, facing the Polish port of Gdynia in the Polish corridor; Schneidemuehl, opposite the Polish town of Bydogszcz, which has a large German population, and in Silesia, facing Czestochowa, the famous Polish shrine.

Although Hans von Moltke, German ambassador, failed to return to Warsaw today as scheduled, Polish leaders expected an early German demand for outright annexation of Danzig. There were reports that Adolf Hitler had expressed a wish to the Polish ambassador in Berlin, Joseph Lipski, to enter Danzig on his birthday, April 20.

Envoys' Families Leave.

Families of members of the British, French, Belgian, and other embassies prepared to leave Warsaw for home tomorrow by train. Similar precautions have been taken by foreign business men here.

Officials of the Polish embassy and consular offices in Germany were reported to have been instructed by the foreign office to send their families home.

Warsaw took no public notice of a German newspaper campaign which informed quarters said was intended to intimidate Poland and prevent her from signing a defense alliance with Great Britain.

Editorials supporting the defense agreement with London were published by the entire press.

The notices said that failure to register might result in delay in according British subjects protection in case of an emergency.

OFFICERS AND MEN OF BRITISH FLEET AT MALTA BOARD SHIPS

MALTA, April 13.—(AP)—Officers and men of the British fleet concentrated at this naval base were unexpectedly ordered tonight to report on board their ships by midnight.

[In London the admiralty said it had no information on the subject.]

Six Warships at Alexandria.

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, April 13.—(AP)—The 5,220 ton British cruiser Arethusa with five destroyers arrived here today to participate in coastal defense maneuvers with British land and air forces. The maneuvers originally planned for April 22 had been advanced to today.

RULERS WATCH BRITISH TROOPS FIGHT SHAM WAR

ALDERSHOT, England, April 13.—(AP)—King George VI. and Queen Elizabeth of Britain watched from a front line barbed wire barricade today as picked British troops repulsed an attack in a sham battle in Hampshire. The king, clad in a khaki service uniform of a field marshal, pored over maps with the field commander during the maneuvers.

Queen Elizabeth, in a violet coat with fox fur trimmings and a violet halo hat, listened intently to the officer's explanation of Britain's latest camouflage and defense technique.

While their majesties watched tracer bullets set fire to a heath, giving the warlike scene an unexpected realistic touch. The flames were threatening a wood when the king and queen drove away.

One artillery sergeant was killed and two gunners wounded seriously when a gun exploded at an artillery range in Essex, more than sixty miles from here.

Patients to Hear Swing Music to See if It Cures

New York, April 13.—[Special.]—The curative value, if any, of swing music when applied to mental cases will be tested at Brooklyn state hospital, Monday morning, when Vincent Lopez takes his orchestra there at the invitation of Dr. C. H. Bellinger, psychiatrist and hospital superintendent. Hospital psychiatrists will make behaviorism tests of twenty-five patients before and after the swing session.

U. S. AND FRANCE REMAIN IN CLOSE TOUCH: DALADIER

Premier Says His Nation Is Ready to Fight.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, April 13.—The French government, throughout the present European crisis, is remaining in permanent contact with the government of the United States, as well as with those of Great Britain, soviet Russia, Poland, and the Balkan entente, Premier Edouard Daladier disclosed today in an official statement.

The premier's declaration was primarily intended to synchronize the publication of French pledges of protection to Greece and Rumania with Prime Minister Chamberlain's statement to the British parliament.

However, it developed into a sort of address to the French people aimed at stiffening the morale of the country. In order to reach the widest possible audience the speech was broadcast over all state and privately owned radio stations.

France Consults with U. S.

While it was no secret to political observers that almost continuous diplomatic consultations have been going on between Paris and Washington, D. C., mainly through William C. Bullitt, the American ambassador, the premier's remark on the subject was interesting.

Here is the whole passage:

"At the same time, following the same methods, we have continued the diplomatic action necessary to maintain peace by affirming the solidarities which must unite all the countries resolved to preserve their liberties before the common peril.

"We are staying in permanent contact with the governments of Great Britain, the United States, Russia, Poland, and the Balkan entente.

"Our aim—and I am convinced we will succeed in it—is to organize that necessary collaboration of all the nations which do not think of menacing the vital interests of any people, whoever they are, who do not refuse any examination in good faith of present problems and who are determined to oppose any efforts at domination."

Reaffirms Pact with Poles.

In addition to giving new pledges to Greece and Rumania, Daladier also reaffirmed the French-Polish alliance.

Daladier announced France was determined to protect her empire with these words:

"France has taken the military measures which guarantee the frontiers of France and her empire against all surprise."

It was learned that as a direct result of pressure from Paris Chamberlain overcame his reluctance to give a guarantee to Rumania as well as Greece. Now that they have finally induced Britain to undertake a series of definite commitments on the continent, the French are aiming at bringing the soviet union—with which they also have an alliance—into a new network of pacts. They hope to transform these pacts into a genuine system of collective security.

This would be done by replacing unilateral guarantees to central European countries by a series of bilateral treaties.

The only concern expressed over the British and French declarations was that the guarantees become operative solely if Greece and Rumania make a request. There is little doubt that the loophole thus provided will be a source of preoccupation to the foreign office.

Fear Pressure by Hitler.

It is feared that Reichsfuehrer Hitler, instead of risking a frontal attack on the guaranteed states, will seek during the coming months to apply pressure in such a way as to demoralize them. To guard against this possibility of suicide by persuasion it was suggested that London and Paris should follow up their diplomatic action by economic and financial aid to enable the threatened states to maintain resistance.

In keeping with the firm note struck by Daladier, the French press continued to follow the strong tone which has characterized it since the beginning of the week.

No attempt has been made to hide the gravity of the situation from the public. For instance, the diplomatic correpondent of the semi-official L'Intransigeant said:

"The measures taken by the government are based upon unequivocal and definite information which gives the present situation a really dramatic character. Never, not even in the worst days of September, has the state of alarm been so acute in Europe."

Franco Receives Warning.

Even the Spanish dictator, Generalissimo Francisco Franco, long a sacred cow to the French, was warned in conservative papers of the terrible reprisals which would be made against Spain if he joined Italy in a war on France.

That France is taking every precaution to guard against a sudden attack was shown in an announcement by the war ministry that new distributions of sand to all buildings for protection against incendiary bombs would begin in Paris in the near future.

Considerable quantities of sand were distributed during the crisis last September. When the Munich accord lessened that war scare the piles of sand proved popular with children, who used them to create miniature playgrounds.

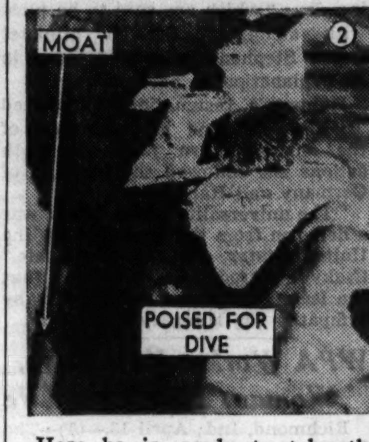
Ralph Raccoon, a country bumpkin, is attracted by the soft life and lovely ladies on the raccoon island at the Brookfield zoo. He comes in from his rural retreat and climbs the wall that separates him from raccoon luxury.



Here he is, ready to take the plunge. On the other side of the moat lie abundant food and animal companionship. But there is a catch to it. Once he gets in, he can't get out again.

REACHES ISLAND GOAL

The die is cast, and Ralph joins the select company of raccoons who don't have to work for a living. But he is a prisoner for life, because he can't swim back across the moat and climb the wall again. And, what's more, according to raccoon custom, he is relegated to the lowest limb on the raccoon tree, because the oldest one gets the top branch, and so on down.

SELLING VIA TELLING

By CALEB

PEOPLE go through life with six questions on their lips. Who? What? Where? When? Why? and How? are the simple tools with which one constructs his world and his place within it. News-editors, familiar with this human fact, use the same six-query yardstick to measure every reporter's "story." If it carries the answers to these questions, and the answers are facts—the blue pencil passes it by. What the public wants to know, a news story must capably tell them.

Using the publisher's practice of definite statement for his analogy, a business head recently pointed out its perfect applicability to selling-world activities—by citing an instance which took place in our store. . . . The time was Christmas; the place, our second-floor Gift Court; the characters in the incident, a lady quietly absorbed in looking at a Dresden doll display, and a nearby salesman.

The latter approached her with the pleasant remark, "Lovely aren't they?" and she turned in eager agreement. "Indeed they are—but expensive, too. I wonder what makes them so high in price?"

"Do you notice those delicate edgings of lace on the figure you're looking at? See their frail, yet perfect, placing around the neck of the dress, the hat-brim, the sleeve-borders? . . . All that work is originally done by patient, expert fingers—and not only is skill needed to add these decorative touches to the lady's costume, but real lace is used. Some of those surfaces measure less than a sixteenth of an inch, and require the most careful handling.

"Next, melted china is poured over the figure, and it is placed in an oven to bake. There the intense heat consumes the lace under its coating, and nothing but gleaming porcelain is left. When you consider," he continued, "that, in spite of every precaution, perhaps one piece out of a hundred comes out perfect, you can understand why the price of that piece must be in proportion to the costliness of such workmanship."

"So that's the reason!" exclaimed the lady. "Of course I understand now. I'll take that one there"—pointing—"and this one over here." Both dolls carried expensive price tags; but on the basis, not of mere selling talk, but of specific and interesting information not obvious to the customer, an agreeable sale had been consummated.

ALLIES PROMISE TO HELP GREEKS AND RUMANIANS

Britain and France Ready to Fight Aggressors.

change of notes, had promised that Italian troops, planes, and pilots would be withdrawn immediately after a Nationalist victory parade in Madrid next month.

The concluding passages of the speech, couched in vague and general terms, created unrest among members of parliament, who had evidently expected something stronger. Laborites broke out with petulant interruptions: "What about Russia!" "What are you going to do!" and "Cut out the blarney!"

Remarks Disconcert Premier.

Chamberlain paused. He seemed surprised and disconcerted. Then he assured the house that omission of mention of soviet Russia did not mean that the British government was not in close touch with Moscow's representatives.

He indicated that the wishes of other governments had to be taken into account in dealing with the bolsheviks. He announced that the British government, without any ideological prejudice, would endeavor to marshal the forces which are still in favor of peace and are willing to resist aggression.

After the prime minister finished speaking Clement R. Attlee, leader of the Labor opposition arose. He said he was disappointed in Chamberlain's declaration. He demanded vigorous action to rally the peace front forces, particularly the enlistment of Moscow.

Urges Inclusion of Russia.

Attlee charged Chamberlain still was hankering for an appeasement policy despite events in Albania and central Europe. He insisted that the only way to stop aggressions was an effective scheme of collaboration among Britain, France, and Russia.

Sir Archibald Sinclair, Liberal leader, also pressed for an understanding with the soviet government. He demanded the ouster of Chamberlain and Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, from the cabinet in favor of Winston Churchill and Anthony Eden.

Churchill supported Chamberlain, but criticized the way the British fleet was scattered from one end of the Mediterranean to the other when Albania was invaded. He expressed the belief that Mussolini's Albanian adventure was due to the dispersal of the fleet and adjournment of parliament. He called for immediate introduction of military conscription to put teeth in the pledges to Greece and Rumania.

Closer Ties with U. S. Urged.

Although the United States was not mentioned by Chamberlain, some Laborite speakers urged closer collaboration with America.

Viscount Halifax, foreign secretary, repeated Chamberlain's declaration of policy in the house of lords. He said Britain had warned Italy against occupying Corfu after Mussolini had issued a similar warning to Britain.

Halifax said recent acts of aggression by the Axis powers, Germany and Italy, were condemned not only "by the overwhelming mass of opinion in this country, but also by most of the states of Europe and by the United States of America."

The house cheered.

Parliament adjourned after eight hours of discussion. No vote was taken on the government's policy.

CHILD BURNS TO DEATH.

Evansville, Ind., April 13.—[Special.]—Donald Arthur Stofleth, 3 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stofleth, burned to death today in a fire which started in his attic bedroom. His mother and grandmother, Mrs. Mary C. Stofleth, were burned in a futile effort to rescue him. His father, a WPA worker, was away at work when the fire occurred.

British and French Vows of War Aid to Greeks and Rumanians

Chamberlain's Words

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 13.—Prime Minister Chamberlain today announced Great Britain's intention to defend the independence of Greece and Rumania in this language:

"I take this opportunity of saying that, on their behalf, his majesty's government attach the greatest importance to the avoidance of disturbance by force or threats of force of the status quo in the Mediterranean and the Balkan peninsula.

"Consequently, they [the government] have come to the conclusion that, in the event of any action being taken which clearly threatens the independence of Greece and Rumania, and which the Greek or Rumanian governments respectively consider it vital to resist with their national forces, his majesty's government will feel themselves bound to lend at once to the Greek or Rumanian governments, as the case might be, all the support in their power.

Dominions Are Informed.

"We are communicating this declaration to the governments directly concerned and to the powers, especially Turkey, whose close relationships with the Greek government are known and I understand that the French government is making a similar declaration this afternoon.

"I need not add that the dominion governments, as always, are being continuously informed of developments. I only want to add one or two further observations. As far as I am concerned nothing that has happened has in any way altered my conviction that the policy of his majesty's government in signing the Anglo-Italian agreement a year ago, was right.

"I do not say that in order to raise controversies that belong to the past, but in order to avoid any misunderstanding of my present attitude. I rejoiced at the restoration of friendly feeling between the Italian people and the people of this country, not for its own sake, but because I believe that it could make a valuable contribution to general peace.

Admits He's Disappointed.

"I frankly confess my deep disappointment at the action taken by the Italian government [the invasion of Albania], which has cast a shadow over the genuineness of their intentions to carry out their undertakings. No doubt some would say that we should now declare that the Anglo-Italian agreement should now be considered at an end. I do not take that view myself, for nobody with any sense of responsibility can in these days lightly do anything which would lead to an increase in international tension which everybody would deplore.

"Every one would deplore the loss of advantages that followed from an international agreement arrived at after mutual discussion. I believe, therefore, that there will be a widespread desire, all the greater because of uneasiness now prevailing, to see fulfilment of the remaining provisions of the agreement and naturally, in view of recent events, it is to the Italian government that we look for practical evidence that they share that desire. . . .

Warns of Common Danger.

"Once again this house is facing grave and serious issues. Once again there has been brought home to all of us the intolerable nature of a state of things which keeps the whole world in a continually recurring series of alarms, blighting commerce and industry, depressing social life and culture, and poisoning every phase of human activity in every country.

"We have exercised patience over a long period and experienced many disappointments in our effort to remove suspicion, promote good will and keep the peace. I am unwilling to believe that these efforts will not bear fruit, however discouraging the outlook may seem at this moment.

"The events of which we have complained in the past and which we condemn today cannot have failed to have stirred the minds and consciences of all peoples and surely, if slowly, they are working towards a common recognition of a common danger. Let us, therefore, not put patience aside. . . .

"We are endeavoring to the utmost of our ability to marshal the forces which are still in favor of peace and which are willing to resist aggression.

"I say today that we must stiffen our resolution, a resolution not only to make ourselves strong to defend ourselves with resolution; but a resolution also to play our part in siding with those who, if faced by aggression or threatened with loss of their freedom, decide to resist.

"In that resolution and in the steps we have taken, and which we shall yet take, to put it into effect I am confident that we have the approval of this house, of this country, and of the whole empire."

Daladier's Message

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, April 13.—Premier Edouard Daladier of France today pledged his nation's assistance to Greece and Rumania in the following words:

"I address to the French nation the following declaration which has been drafted by agreement between the government of the republic and the government of Great Britain.

"The French government attaches the greatest importance to prevention of any modification to the status quo imposed by force, or by the menace of force, in the Mediterranean and in the Balkan peninsula.

"Taking into consideration the special uneasiness that events of the last few weeks have brought on, the French government has in consequence given to Rumania and to Greece the particular assurance that, in the case that any action should be attempted which would clearly menace the independence of Rumania or Greece and which the Rumanian government or the Greek government felt it to be to its vital interests to resist with its national forces, the French government considers itself as engaged immediately to lend all the assistance in its power.

Cites Britain's Stand.

"The English government has taken the same stand.

"The French government, on the other hand, has been happy over the conclusion of the reciprocal engagements of Great Britain and Poland, who had decided to give each other mutual aid to defend their independence if they are menaced directly or indirectly.

"The French-Polish alliance is, furthermore, confirmed by the French government and the Polish government in the same spirit. France and Poland guarantee each other immediately and directly against all menace, direct or indirect, which attacks their vital interests. Today our ambassadors are communicating this declaration to all interested governments, particularly to Turkey.

Ready to Defend Empire.

"The protection of the territory of France and its empire against all attacks, direct or indirect, against its integrity and its rights, the seeking of peace as the sole aim of all the alliances necessary to assure the protection of its people against all activity menacing their independence—that is the policy that the French government has followed, conscious of its responsibilities and with the inflexible determination not to sidestep a single one of the duties which the safeguarding of the destinies of the fatherland imposes on it."

ITALIAN-GUIDED ALBANIA DECIDES TO QUIT LEAGUE

TIRANA, Albania, April 13.—(AP)—Albania decided today to withdraw from the league of nations. The new government telegraphed its decision to the league's secretary general at Geneva.

Italy, now master of Albania, withdrew from the league on Dec. 11, 1937.

Hungary Tells Why It Quit.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, April 13.—(AP)—Hungary resigned from the league of nations to assure herself of greater freedom of action in coming days "which are sure to be filled with struggle," Foreign Minister Count Stephen Csaky said today in an explanation to parliament.

Hungary's resignation, announced Tuesday, followed her signature of the anti-comintern pact. In both actions she followed the example of Germany and Italy.

"The universality of the league was a delusion from the start because the United States did not participate," Csaky declared. He contended that the league had never manifested any sympathy for Hungary's problems.

WPA Worker Kills Baby, Woman, Ends Own Life

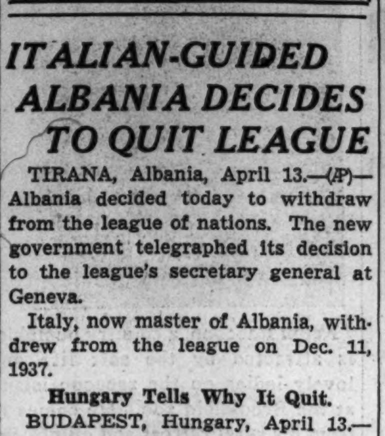
Richmond, Ind., April 13.—(AP)—The bodies of a man and a woman who "had posed as husband and wife several years" and their 14 months old son were found here tonight in their five room apartment. Coroner Russell Hiatt said investigation showed the man, Theodore Thurston, 52 years old, a WPA worker, shot the woman, Mrs. William Boggs, 39, in the head, put a bullet through his infant son's heart, and committed suicide. Police Captain Ervin Huseman quoted Mrs. Harmon Davis, Mrs. Boggs' mother, as saying her daughter never had divorced Boggs or married Thurston.

BURGLARS GET LOOT WORTH $531.

Burglars broke into the home of Emanuel Nussbaum, 4317 North Wolcott avenue, yesterday and stole $31, and household articles worth $500.

28 DIE, 50 INJURED WHEN TWO TRAINS CRASH IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, April 13.—(AP)—A passenger train collision caused the death of at least 28 persons and injuries to 50 others today on the Laredo-Guadalajara line of the Mexican National Railways, 140 miles north of Mexico City.



Arrow locates scene of train wreck.

Officials of the worker operated railway said a train which had left Guadalajara plowed into the rear end of another from Laredo, Tex., which had stopped to repair a defective air brake line. All the dead were said to have been aboard the Guadalajara train. Railway authorities said that the halted train sent back a flagman, but that the approaching train apparently missed his warning signal.

[James B. Stewart, American consul general in Mexico City, reported to government officials in Washington, D. C., that no Americans had been killed. He placed the number of dead at forty.]

Mexico City newspapers called attention to numerous accidents recently on the National railways. The railway union secretary several days ago said the workers were undisciplined and the management charged there had been sabotage attempts to discredit the railway and the country.

Half Million Found in Bed, Room of Widow After Death

Battle Creek, Mich., April 13.—[Special.] — Officials of the Battle Creek sanitarium are holding nearly half a million dollars in cash and securities found in the bed and about the room in which Mrs. Ethel F. Kaufman, 73 years old, of Toledo, O., died Tuesday. Approximately $100,000 was in cash. Mrs. Kaufman, widow of Charles Kaufman, former Toledo wholesale liquor dealer who died in 1922, had traveled all over the world after her husband's death, maintaining no permanent residence. She was buried today in Toledo.

ARMY TO TURN TO CONGRESS FOR MEN, WEAPONS

Will Ask That Essential Needs Be Filled.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 13.—[Special.]—The general staf of the army is preparing a list of essential needs to submit to future sessions of congress. Its purpose is to secure a program for building the military organization into an efficient fighting machine.

The greatest peace time appropriation in history, which already has become available in part, will not give the country a first class army although it is a step in the right direction, experts say.

The chief needs of the army are men and weapons. Training and organization are hardly less important.

Need 285,000 Men.

The strength of the army is now 13,000 officers and 165,000 men. The force should be raised to a strength of about 285,000, in the opinion of experts. This would permit the formation of a highly mobile field army of 60,000 troops, armed with the best of weapons, which could insure that no enemy would obtain a foothold on the American continent and would permit the formation of a small expeditionary force to aid South America in fighting off aggression from Asia or Europe.

This army needs modern weapons of all types. There is not a sufficient number of semi-automatic rifles, light and heavy machine guns, and light and heavy artillery. Coastal defenses are hopelessly inadequate.

Guard's Need Is Acute.

Complete lack of modern weapons will be remedied under the present expansion program. The new arms the program will bring, however, are but a drop in the bucket compared with its needs.

Lack of materials is more acute in the National Guard, in the R. O. T. C., in reserve organizations, and in citizens military training camps. These units have obsolete weapons. The National Guardsmen have but a handful of the new semi-automatic rifles, for example, and the army plans to give the 210,000 guardsmen only 12,500 of the weapons by July 1, 1940.

The army is without an adequate reserve. It has almost no enlisted reserve, although it has plans to recruit 75,000 men.

There are 115,000 reserve officers who are being recruited at the rate of 9,000 a year, almost entirely from college R. O. T. C. units, but these do not get sufficient training.

Need of Officers Great.

The need for able officers in the regular army, largely in the higher ranks, and in the National Guard in all ranks, has been mentioned earlier in this series of articles. Yet it may be emphasized again that, in the opinion of the general staff, one of the most vital problems upon the outbreak of war will be the securing of competent officers of all ranks.

At present the American army is far behind European war machines in organization. Its troops are formed in the bulky 22,000 men divisions of the war days with cumbersome distribution of artillery, tanks, machine guns, and other weapons.

Experiments with the streamlined division of about 10,000 men have been conducted, and although they have been adjudged a success the new organization has not been adopted for the army. The high command also has ordered changes in company formation, company composition, and drills, but these have yet to be adopted in entirety.

Needs Experimentation Funds.

The army needs money for experimentation in the development and improvement of weapons. Funds for this purpose are low.

Army leaders recognize that at present the army has not enough weapons to arm the 400,000 men it would call to the colors as a first line of defense in the event of war, to say nothing of arming a draft army of millions of men.

In the expansion program a step was taken to arrest this situation. Funds were made available for new weapons. These will not bring the new arms in sufficient numbers and more funds for this purpose will be asked of succeeding congresses.

Has No Weapons on Reserve.

Another defect is in stores of ammunition and weapons. Because there are not enough weapons for the army as it stands, there is no reserve of weapons or ammunition for troops that may be drafted. Nor is there even a reserve of dies and jigs from which they might be made.

Several millions were provided for a reserve of tools which will be turned over to factories to be converted to the manufacture of war materials. The army hopes to get even more money for such reserves.

The army needs all kinds of auxiliary equipment, such as searchlights, trucks, radio equipment, telegraph equipment, and the like. The general staff believes it should also have clothing stores and all that is necessary to keep an army in the field in far greater numbers than it now has.

[This is the eighth of a series of stories on army strategy and needs.]

Husband Hunted

BETTY MAE DYE.

Denver, Colo., April 13.—[Special.]—Betty Mae Dye, 17 years old, learned on her honeymoon that her husband was charged with bigamy. She told reporters she was sorry for Mrs. Sadie Fahrenbruch of Lincoln, Neb., wife of the man being sought. "It's too bad we both can't have him," Betty said. John Walker, district attorney's investigator, said the man being hunted was Harry R. Fahrenbruch, 34 years old, of Lincoln.

Franco's Foreign Minister Receives American Envoy

HELD ON DOPE CHARGE.

August G. Huth, 47 years old, was ordered held to the federal grand jury yesterday by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker on a charge of possessing narcotics.

ASSASSIN BOMBS CHIEF OF JAPS' HANKOW REGIME

SHANGHAI, April 13.—(AP)—Chi Kuo-tsen, Chinese chairman of the Japanese dominated "peace maintenance committee" at Hankow, was wounded today when an unidentified assailant tossed a bomb through a window into a room in which he was being photographed. The Japanese photographer was killed. Chi is head of civil affairs in Hankow, which the Japanese captured last Oct. 24.

Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, commander in chief of the American Asiatic fleet, announced today that he would leave Shanghai on Saturday for Hankow aboard the yacht Isabel. He is expected to spend two weeks on a cruise on the Japanese controled Yangtze river.

The cruiser Marblehead of the Asiatic fleet, which has been wintering in Philippine waters, reached Shanghai in the van of the fleet's annual northward summer movement. Most of the fleet is to move soon to summer bases at Tsingtao and Chefoo.

RAILROAD COAL BURNED.

Pana, Ill., April 13.—[Special.]—Fire, believed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion, destroyed the coal loading chutes of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad at Findlay, fifteen miles east of Pana, yesterday. Two hundred tons of coal also were burned. The loss is estimated at $65,000.

DEMAND LABOR TERRORISM BE STAMPED OUT

Crime Commission Calls for Law Enforcement.

Labor terrorism and murder must be stamped out, the Chicago Crime commission demanded last evening. The statement was issued in connection with the outbreaks of violence against Wieboldt department store trucks on Wednesday, when one man was killed and several were beaten.

"Whatever the merits of the controversy between the stores and the truck drivers," said Bertram J. Cahn, president of the commission, "it must not be made the basis of an excuse for murder, banditry, savagery, and a return to the law of the jungle.

"In this controversy there has been witnessed an organized brutality that already has resulted in one death, murderous assault, the injury of many, destruction of property, and utter disregard for public peace.

Demands Action by Officials.

"No pressure group in this community should be permitted to flaunt the law and commit violence. The Chicago Crime commission calls upon the law enforcing officials of this community to take decisive steps to end this outlawery immediately."

Strike violence subsided yesterday as seventeen police squads and more than fifty uniformed patrolmen guarded Wieboldt stores, garages, and warehouse and convoyed trucks carrying coal and merchandise.

Police seized several suspects for questioning in connection with the slaying on Wednesday of James Lawrence, Wieboldt truck helper, who was shot as he rode in a covered store truck. But solution of his slaying was no nearer, detectives said.

Demand Removal of Pickets.

Neither Wieboldt store officials nor representatives of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters — several locals of which are involved in the dispute—met during the day. Store officers said they would hold no further parleys until union pickets are removed.

The union heads also met with police officials and representatives of the state's attorney's office. All denied that their members or officers had been involved in the killing of Lawrence or in the street rioting on Wednesday.

Dan Carmell, attorney for the I. B. T., who also was present, asserted that the violence of Wednesday was prearranged to justify the issuance of an injunction against several of the labor unions. The injunction, issued several hours after the slaying of Lawrence, prohibits mass picketing of Wieboldt stores and bans interference with company employés.

Conciliator Tells of Poll.

Harry Scheck, federal department of labor conciliator, yesterday clarified some confusion over a vote allegedly taken by a number of Wieboldt truck drivers on Saturday night. This vote, taken at 637 South Ashland avenue, headquarters for local 725 of the I. B. T., was a declaration by some sixty former Wieboldt drivers, said Scheck, to ask the company to sign a temporary agreement with the union.

Scheck said the vote was not a poll to determine whether the I. B. T. should bargain for all the truck drivers at the Wieboldt stores. He said the application to the store for a temporary agreement was made so that the union, an American Federation of Labor affiliate, could call off a strike it had called on April 6.

"Quotations attributing control of the I. B. T. unions to me are unauthorized and untrue," said State's Attorney Courtney last evening. "I have been attempting to prevent violence in this situation and have watched closely the I. B. T. unions for the last five years."

An inquest into Lawrence's death was continued yesterday until May 12, to allow police time for further investigation. Mrs. Bernice Lawrence, 33 years old, 6019 Dorchester avenue, widow of the slain man, testified that she had not been living with her husband for some months.

PUSH STATE BILL TO AID PUBLIC IN LABOR PROBLEMS

Senate Hearings Near on Lantz Proposal.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 13.—[Special.]—The Lantz bill proposing a state board to consider the rights of the public, strikers, and nonstriking workers alike in labor disputes is expected to receive an early hearing before the senate committee on agriculture.

Simon E. Lantz.

The bill was referred to the agriculture committee because of references in the draft to special problems of farmers and farmers' coöperatives relating to perishable commodities and seasonal production.

Senator Simon E. Lantz [R., Congerville], who introduced the bill Tuesday, said last night that rights of innocent third parties especially will be recognized by the proposed board if the bill becomes law. Senator Lantz has been a leader of the farm bloc for twenty years.

Defines Unfair Practices.

To be qualified as an employé and thus receive the aid of the board strikers would have to refrain from improper conduct. Unfair practices of employés, as well as employers, are defined in the measure.

In addition to unfair practices listed for employers in the national labor relations act, the Lantz bill provides that employers must not:

1. Encourage [or discourage] membership in any labor organization.
2. Bargain collectively with the representative of a minority group or enter into an all-union agreement, except under certain conditions.
3. Deduct labor organization dues from employés' earnings without a signed order from the employé.

Lists Employé Don'ts.

The bill provides that employés must not:

1. Intimidate other employés in the enjoyment of their legal rights, or picket their homes.
2. Coerce an employer to interfere with other employés in their rights—as to union membership, for example.
3. Coöperate in picketing or boycotting, unless done in connection with a strike voted by secret ballot of a majority of employés in a collective bargaining unit.
4. Hinder the pursuit of lawful employment, as by barring the way to entrances or preventing the movement of trucks.
5. Commit any crime in connection with any controversy as to employment relations.

A. F. of L. Sponsors Rival Bill.

An opposing bill was introduced in the house of representatives by Joseph Sam Perry [D., Wheaton] on behalf of the Illinois State Federation of Labor. It is patterned after the national labor relations act, but applies to intrastate instead of interstate commerce.

Another difference is that it provides for penalties up to a $5,000 fine and one year in jail for employers who interfere with administration of the proposed law. Perry said yesterday there appears to be no need to hurry consideration of the bill.

WPA Worker's Wife Held on U. S. Alcohol Charge

Mrs. Stella Gentile, 35 years old, 3617 South Hermitage avenue, was held to the federal grand jury yesterday in $500 bond by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker on charges of possessing and concealing 35 gallons of untaxed alcohol. Martin Gerber, assistant district attorney, said Mrs. Gentile turned to the illicit liquor business because her husband's WPA wages of $55 a month were insufficient for their family of four.

STRIKE OF 1,500 TRUCKERS HITS BUILDING JOBS

More than 1,500 truck drivers and helpers employed by building material companies in the Chicago area went on strike yesterday for higher wages. The strike threatened to paralyze all government work projects and private construction by stopping deliveries of materials. Work on the State street subway already has been hampered.

The strikers are members of the Building Materials Chauffeurs' union, an American Federation of Labor affiliate. They are demanding wage increases which amount to about $1 a day. Their employers contend this would increase construction costs and cripple building industry.

Workers in the yards and quarries of some building companies were reported to have walked out in sympathy with the drivers.

EASTERN AIR LINE SERVICE CREWS QUIT ON STRIKE

An undetermined number of members of the Air Line Mechanics' association went out on strike early today at various terminals of the Eastern Air Lines throughout the country. The strikers are demanding higher pay and a 48 hour six day week, according to A. P. Martin, union president. All are service workers.

Eastern Air Lines' service apparently was not affected. Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, company president, estimated that only 52 out of a possible 250 walked out at the company's Newark, Washington, D. C.; Miami, and Atlanta terminals.

Robert H. Stoy, editor of the Air Line Mechanic, monthly publication of the union, said a late survey showed the strike to be 100 per cent at Newark, 90 per cent at Miami, 100 per cent at Atlanta, and 100 per cent in Washington and Chicago.

MANAGER QUITS IN KANSAS CITY CLEANUP DRIVE

Steps Out as Pendergast Rule Faces Doom.

Kansas City, Mo., April 13.—[Special.]—Henry F. McElroy, city manager of Kansas City for thirteen years, resigned today in the midst of a war to the finish against the dictatorial Democratic machine of Boss Thomas J. Pendergast.

Henry F. McElroy.

McElroy, who had the backing of Pendergast, offered his resignation to Mayor Bryce B. Smith. The mayor promptly accepted it, effective immediately.

Smith is an elective officer and McElroy was an appointee of the city council. McElroy, now 73 years old, was Kansas City's first manager, having acted since 1926.

Shortly before the meeting at which McElroy resigned, Mayor Smith announced he was not satisfied with conditions under the city manager.

"I have decided to step beyond the limitations of the city charter," the mayor said, "and take an active part in the administrative affairs of our municipal government."

Acts After Drug Exposure.

It was disclosed that McElroy wrote his resignation yesterday following the exposure by federal agents of a $1,000,000 a month drug ring operating out of here. The federal officers, who termed this city the "narcotics capital of the middle west," arrested a Kansas City policeman as a member of the dope ring.

The police department, alleged to be under the control of Pendergast, has been a target in a many sided attack by state and federal agencies on vice conditions here. Gov. Lloyd C. Stark, a Democrat, who is leading the fight to break the Pendergast machine, charged the police department is so politically dominated it actually protects the Kansas City underworld.

Federal agents struck on a new sector today when they seized 300 gallons of illicit alcohol in a raid in the district known as "Little Italy." The section was Pendergast's first political stronghold.

Foresee Machine's Doom.

The war against the Pendergast organization reached the boss himself for the first time last week with his indictment by a federal grand jury on charges of income tax evasion. Democratic factional foes of the machine contend its obituary was written in the indictment.

In addition to the personal attack on Pendergast, a steady barrage against his machine has made telling hits in recent months. In the last two years 278 persons, many of them members of the Pendergast organization, have been indicted for election frauds.

Snow, Rain, and Wind— It's California's Climate

Los Angeles, Cal., April 13.—(AP)—Wind, snow, and rain gave southern California a taste of winter today after nearly a week of high temperatures. Small craft warnings were posted when the wind reached a velocity of 35 miles an hour at Los Angeles harbor. A blizzard was raging in the Tehachapi mountains, and snow fell between Los Angeles and San Francisco.

U. OF C. EXPERT ON CRIME RAKES PAROLE POLITICS

Politics in the Illinois parole system was described yesterday before the Woman's City club by E. W. Puttkammer, professor of criminology at the University of Chicago and a member of the Chicago Crime commission.

E. W. Puttkammer.

"Improvements in parole are needed badly," Puttkammer said. "The parole board should be adequate for its tremendous task. The caliber of members has remained incredibly below the standards to be expected."

Political practices more powerful than statutes dictate the choice of six of the seven members appointed by the governor, leaving only the selection of the seventh man on a basis of fitness, he said.

The Ward-Schnackenberg bill giving judges the power to fix minimum and maximum sentences, within the limitations of the indeterminate sentence acts, and thus limiting the field of the parole board, would be of only superficial help, he said, expressing his opposition to the measure.

Kills Estranged Wife and Self in Lawyer's Office

New York, April 13.—(AP)—An estranged couple, meeting in a lawyer's office to effect a settlement in a separation suit, was shot to death tonight. Mrs. Lillian Greenbaum, 37 years old, died instantly with two wounds in her head, and Emanuel Greenbaum, 40, vice president of an auto parts concern, died twenty minutes later with a bullet through the right temple. The lawyer, Archibald Palmer, told police Greenbaum shot his wife as they sat on opposite sides of a table and then shot himself.

ENROLLMENT UP 22,627 PCT. IN 71 YEARS AT U. OF I.

Urbana, Ill., April 13.—[Special.]—Enrollment at the University of Illinois has increased 22,627 per cent in the 71 years of the university's history, it was announced today. In 1868, the university's first year, students numbered 77. In the current period, including all classifications of students and the 1938 summer session, 17,500 individuals have received instructions.

The university has grown from a small institution devoted to "agriculture and the mechanical arts" to a great university with 10 colleges and five schools, extramural and correspondence courses, and a world reputation for scholarship and research. Its physical plant is valued at more than 30 million dollars.

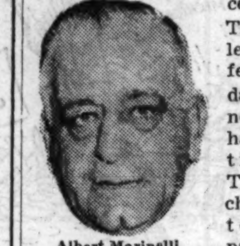
TAMMANY CHIEF BLAMES 2 AIDS IN PASSPORT DEAL

Marinelli, Ex-Clerk of N.Y. County, on Stand.

New York, April 13.—[Special.]—Albert Marinelli, former New York county clerk and Tammany district leader, testified in federal court today that he did not know he had had power to certify passports. The government charges that fourteen fraudulent passports were issued over his supposed signature.



Albert Marinelli.

A witness for the government against three men accused of falsifying passports as a result of the so-called Donald L. Robinson case, Marinelli shifted responsibility to Louis Levy, a clerk and notary in his office, and to Max Schwartz, a Democratic worker.

"I knew Schwartz by the name of Whitey, on account of his white hair," said the former official, who resigned when District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey accused him of being an associate of thugs and criminals. "He came to my office for a favor. He said he had a paper he wanted notarized."

Tells of Rôles His Aids Play.

Marinelli said he called in Levy and saw Schwartz pass an envelope to him.

"What instructions did you give Levy?" asked United States Attorney John T. Cahill.

"I just said, 'take care of this matter.' They walked out of the office."

"Did you ever know that the county clerk was authorized to certify a passport?"

"No."

Levy testified he approved many passport applications without seeing the applicants because he had been told to do so by Marinelli.

Acts for Schoolmate.

Schwartz, who is secretary of the Young Men's Tammany club, asserted he visited Marinelli five times at the request of Harry Zuckerman, a member of the club who had asked him to take an enevelope to the county clerk's office.

Zuckerman said he acted for Aaron Sharfin, a defendant and an old school acquaintance.

"Sharfin asked me to get Marinelli's signature on some confidential papers," Zuckerman declared. "He was very, very grateful to me for handling it."

Osip Garber, Russian born Fifth avenue photographer; Sharfin, former employé of the royal Egyptian consulate, and Edward Blatt, lawyer, are on trial.

Behind the case lies the mystery of a man and a woman, a strange couple, variously identified as Adolph Arnold Rubens or Donald Louis Robinson, and his wife, Ruth Marie Rubens or Ruth Norma Robinson. They went to Russia on a mysterious errand and were arrested there by the secret police. Their fate has not been learned.

Reweds Husband

Mrs. Etha Henneberry, divorced wife of George F. Henneberry, who remarried her in Joliet.

G. F. HENNEBERRY AND WIFE OFF ON A 2D HONEYMOON

Divorced Couple Reunited in Joliet Ceremony.

George F. Henneberry, wealthy head of a rotogravure company, and Mrs. Etha Henderson Henneberry, former golf champion, were on their second honeymoon yesterday after their remarriage in Joliet Wednesday. Their first marriage, of six years, ended in divorce last Aug. 19.

The Henneberrys were reported to have started for California. In obtaining the license in the Will County courthouse Wednesday Henneberry gave his address as Dundee, Ill. He also has an apartment at 3240 Lake Shore drive. Since the divorce Mrs. Henneberry had been living at 201 East Delaware place. She is 37 years old.

First Married in 1932.

The Henneberrys were first married Feb. 25, 1932, after both had been divorced. Henneberry's first wife, the former Janet Hibbard, divorced him in 1931. They had two sons, Robert Paul Henneberry, who was shot to death by a fellow student at Williams college, Williamstown, Mass., in 1936, and George F. Jr., who was killed in an automobile accident about sixteen years ago.

Mrs. Henneberry's first husband was Jack Henderson, an official of the Crowell Publishing company. They were divorced in 1930. A year ago she won a court order to force Henderson to pay for the education of his eldest son, Jack Jr., although Jack is now more than 21 years old.

In obtaining her divorce last August Mrs. Henneberry testified before Judge Peter Schwaba to two acts of cruelty. Under the terms of an out of court settlement Henneberry agreed to pay her $350 a month unless she remarried.

Henneberry's offices are at 4001 Ravenswood avenue.

EX-CONVICT SHOT TO DEATH CALLED DRUNK OR INSANE

Police said last night that Peter Eiden, 27 years old, an ex-convict who was shot and killed early yesterday by a theater janitor from whom he had demanded aid in committing a robbery, was either insane or intoxicated at the time of his death. Eiden was killed by Louis Pangrazio, 40, of 3533 West 13th place.

Eiden was seen breaking into a delicatessen at 1257 South Millard avenue by James Zimmerman of 1314 South Millard avenue. When Zimmerman grappled with him Eiden fled. Later he accosted Pangrazio on his way home, and demanded that the janitor help him complete the robbery. He followed Pangrazio home and was accidentally shot when he grabbed the rifle with which the janitor tried to drive him away.

Police records showed that Eiden served two prison sentences of a year each in the Bridewell.

MRS. LEHMANN AMENDS SUIT AND WINS A DIVORCE

Mrs. Morella Oldham Lehmann, who was queen of the Michigan cherry festival in 1933, won an uncontested divorce yesterday before Judge Rudolph Desort from George W. Lehmann, grandson of Edward J. Lehmann, pioneer Chicago merchant. Her attorney, Benjamin B. Davis, announced that she will receive $10 a week support for her son, George Jr., 18 months old, and an out of court settlement in lieu of alimony.

Morella Lehmann.

Mrs. Lehmann filed suit for separate maintenance on March 30. She accuses her husband of drunkenness and almost constant extreme cruelty over a two year period. Yesterday she amended her bill to one for divorce and testified to two acts of cruelty. She said that her husband struck her last Jan. 6 and on March 26, the day they separated. Her testimony was corroborated by Miss Patricia Patten, 2738 Pine Grove avenue.

Mrs. Lehmann is 27 years old and lives at 618 Grace street. Lehmann, who was represented by Robert E. Cantwell, is 26. The Lehmanns were married in December, 1936.

PUNISH THE MURDERERS.

A man working as a helper on a Wieboldt department store truck was shot to death on Wednesday. The driver of the truck fled, was overtaken by the murderers, and severely beaten. Shortly afterward another of the company's trucks was halted by the same or another band of murderers, the driver was dragged from his cab and beaten over the head with a baseball bat. He was left unconscious and bleeding on the street. Six shots were fired at the driver of another truck and four shots at the driver of a fourth.

All of this happened in broad daylight on the streets of Chicago. The murderers chose to operate on the day Mayor Kelly was taking his oath of office; as if to defy him and the police department.

If we are to avoid a reign of terror such as Minneapolis, New York, and other cities have experienced in recent years, this challenge must be answered at once. The merits of the labor controversy as it involves the employer and the rival unions can be examined later. Public opinion demands that officials concentrate their efforts now upon catching the murderers, trying them, and punishing them. If the idea is allowed to take root that murder is excusable if committed in the course of a union controversy, murder will become the standard tactic in the adjustment of such disputes.

The community demands and expects prompt and decisive action. No excuses will be tolerated. The murderers can be caught if the police want to catch them. A substantial reward has been offered; too many men know who the killers were to guard the secret successfully. Witnesses are available who can, if they will, identify the murderers. If the guilty are not brought to justice, the citizens of Chicago will have every reason to believe that the gunmen are enjoying protection because of their political influence.

A murder has been committed and other murders have been attempted in pursuit of a private quarrel. Probably the gunmen are professional killers, hired for the job. The safety of the community demands that the guilty be caught and executed. They killed in cold blood and must be dealt with accordingly unless this is to be but the first of a long series of brutal killings.

ADMINISTRATIVE JUSTICE.

Jerome Frank of the Securities and Exchange commission defended the SEC in his recent appearance before the Chicago Bar association. More generally, he defended the administrative process, the new justice under which a commission is vested with power to make regulations, investigate violations thereof, and prosecute, judge, and punish the offenders.

The scope of these powers arouses wide apprehension that they will become instruments of tyranny. Mr. Frank does not share these apprehensions.

He asserts that there should be no fear of tyranny under the administrative process because the SEC, despite its wide powers, has not used them arbitrarily. That is not the opinion of the Supreme court, which in the Jones case found the commission's action to be "wholly unreasonable and arbitrary."

Nor are these fears quieted by the remedy that Mr. Frank proposes for these instances of arbitrary conduct. He says:

"The way effectively to prevent the use of the important power to prosecute citizens is to see that those intrusted with such power are decent and intelligent human beings with a thorough sense of their great responsibilities. If prosecuting attorneys in our great centers of population are not men of this kind, if they are not alive to the fact that the destruction of civil liberties means the end of our kind of democratic civilization, then our future cannot be a happy one.

"And so it is with such an agency as the SEC: You may begin to fear it when its officers become bigoted, ignorant, careless, or corrupt. To reverse the medal, the way to meet the possibilities of so-called 'administrative absolutism' is to see to it that administrative officials are the right kind of God fearing human beings who detest absolutism."

But if one is to judge by acts rather than words there is the further opinion of the Supreme court in the Jones case, in which it said of the SEC's action:

"It violates the cardinal principle on which the constitutional safeguards of human liberty ultimately rest—that this shall be a government of laws—because to the precise extent that the mere will of an official or an official body is permitted to take the place of allowable official discretion or to supplant the standing law as a rule of human conduct, the government ceases to be one of laws and becomes an autocracy."

Justice Sutherland stated there the one great lesson of the centuries that have seen the development of our democratic civilization—that no individual can be trusted with arbitrary power. Even if he is trustworthy when he receives it, its exercise soon corrupts him. The only safe delegation of power is that hedged by strict rules—rules written in the statutes and enforced by the courts.

This misuse of power comes to light daily. It appears even in the courts that are supposed to protect us against it, as evidenced by the case of the Democratic judge, Manton, who was forced off the federal bench in New York and now faces trial on criminal charges. It appears among Mr. Roosevelt's patronage dispensers, as witness Jimmy Hines. If the SEC continues to possess its arbitrary powers it will be only a question of time until some bigger Jimmy Hines sells to the manipulators of Wall street the control of the commission.

Mr. Frank argues against the whole weight of history when he urges us to put our trust, not in laws, but in men. He argues, in effect, for the fiction of benevolent dictatorship. If dictators had been uniformly wise and good the world never would have seen democracy.

THE LONGEST DEPRESSION.

At the meeting of his stockholders the other day, Mr. Fred Sargent, president of the North Western railroad, had some things to say which deserve the widest public attention. His company failed last year as it had the year before to earn even its bare operating expenses. The improvement in 1938 over 1937 was small. In both years the net consolidated loss of the company exceeded 15 million dollars.

Mr. Sargent's railroad occupies a strategic position in a rich agricultural, industrial, and mining area. The company has been conservatively managed. It has not been looted or over-financed. It might have recovered from the effects of the drouth of a few years ago and the general business depression as well, but it cannot lick the drouth, the depression, and the determination of the government to destroy it. That is asking too much and Mr. Sargent was entirely justified in placing the blame where it belongs: On the administration.

Mr. Sargent called attention to the multiplication of regulations of the railroad industry, which effectively prevent a railroad company from adjusting its expenses to meet its revenues. The regulations are calculated to bankrupt a railroad by simultaneously increasing its expenses and preventing it from increasing its revenues. No business could survive a prolonged dose of this treatment and only the most fortunately placed companies have done so. The government has assumed the prerogatives of ownership, but none of its responsibilities. Needless to say this condition cannot last much longer. Government ownership, for all its waste and inefficiency, would be preferable.

But even that is only part of the story. As Mr. Sargent showed, the business of his company has suffered from the government's action in bribing farmers to store their wheat and corn in sealed cribs on the farms. The grain so held is doing no one any good. It isn't being eaten by men or animals or turned into industrial products. It is deteriorating more or less rapidly. A policy which at best is only postponing a day of reckoning for the farmers is at the same time depriving the American people of food and keeping vast numbers of workmen out of employment in moving and processing farm products.

The administration in Washington wishes the country to believe that real efforts are being made to restore employment. How can it square its pretensions with the fact that government policies have brought about a reduction in employment on the North Western railroad alone from 46,000 men ten years ago to fewer than 25,000 last year? Government control of rates has prevented the company from building up its income. Government regulation of wages and working conditions has forced the company to lay off men by thousands. Government interference with the flow of goods to market has destroyed other jobs not only on the railroads, but also in factories and stores. The government prevents the nation's economy from functioning properly and then makes matters worse by imposing additional taxes to support the people the government has deprived of self-support.

And then they pretend to wonder why this depression has lasted longer than any other in the nation's history.

THE TORRIO SENTENCE.

John Torrio, having pleaded guilty to income tax frauds, was sentenced to prison for two and a half years on Tuesday by the United States District court in New York. The plea was by arrangement with the district attorney's office after a trial had substantially proved Torrio's guilt. The assistant prosecutor recommended the lamentably weak sentence after the judge had actually pronounced a more severe one.

Torrio was too hot for the Roosevelt political machine to handle. Trained in New York, he ruled the Chicago underworld until he was driven back to New York, where he organized an equally murderous gang. When his tax frauds were discovered he corrupted the government attorney handling the case. That man, discovered, killed himself. The attorney general concealed the connection between the suicide and the Torrio case until the fact was forced into the open by THE TRIBUNE.

In Chicago, Al Capone was also willing to plead guilty to tax frauds if given the same sentence, two and a half years, that Torrio won. Capone was told that he could not bargain with a federal court. His eleven year sentence, following trial and conviction, ended gang terror in Chicago.

In New York, Torrio was able to bargain, not with a court but with the prosecutor's office that is part of the Roosevelt patronage machine. Another link is thereby forged in the chain of evidence that connects Mr. Roosevelt's machine, working through such men as Jimmy Hines, with the New York underworld.

It is true that Torrio was not on trial for his many murders. But he was on trial for more than simple tax frauds—namely, the corruption of a government official, which aggravated his offense and should have lengthened his sentence.

The treasury's investigators, who are civil servants not easily susceptible to political pressure, were prepared to prove the corruption in the case of the suicide, Boyd, as prosecutors' opening statements showed. If others than the dead man were involved, the plea of guilty, by ending the trial, saved them from exposure.

Torrio could not have carried on his illegal enterprises undisturbed for so long a period without corrupting many men. He is a shrewd criminal and has a shrewd criminal lawyer. They undoubtedly exploited his knowledge and his silence to the utmost in bargaining for leniency.

REAL NEWS.

"Why?" asked the society reporter in surprise. "They aren't very prominent people."

"That may be," he replied, "but this is the first account of a wedding you have turned in for ages that hasn't had as a last line, 'They will reside with the bride's parents.'"—Washington Star.

PHILO VANCE'S LAST MYSTERY.

The departure of Philo Vance—with the death of his creator, Willard Huntington Wright, alias S. S. Van Dine—for a realm where murder cases are said to be nonexistent causes us a pang or two. He was a paragon of erudition and dandyism whose career we followed, during the first half of his thirteen years, with considerable pleasure. The fact that he then became, for us, an insufferable prig, an affected esthete and a preening bore, for all his cleverness, does not prevent us from sighing over his disappearance.

The reception committee that welcomed him to the Isles of the Blessed was composed of the leaders of his profession. "Here comes the American dude," said Inspector Bucket ["Bleak House"] as Philo sauntered down the gangplank, smoking his eternal Régie cigaret. "A bit of a toff, what? In my time we solved our cases by legwork, but this fine lad never got his trousers out of press."

* * *

"He reminds me of an old music hall song, Gilbert the Filbert, the colonel of the nuts,'" said Sherlock Holmes, over his pipe stem. "A pure amateur—but gifted, Bucket, gifted. No suggestions of ever doing any work harder than opening a bottle of Château Yquem. . . . Well, we all have our little eccentricities, Bucket. I took dope for a while just to get the readers interested."

"At any rate he speaks French with the true Parisian accent," said C. Auguste Dupin. ["Murders in the Rue Morgue."] "Too many of the members of our colony are English. . . . I must warn him against that fellow Vidocq, who was more of a stool pigeon than a detective."

* * *

As the committee took charge of Philo and led him toward the clubhouse for an aperitif—Amer Picon, it would be, in honor of his taste for unusual drinks—Sherlock said quizzically:

"I regret to hear, my dear Mr. Vance, that you left an unsolved case at home."

"What case?" asked Philo. "Everything was goin' splendidly when I got my passport."

"It was something about missing letters," Sherlock answered. "What became of all those G's you dropped?"

"Why, haven't you heard?" drawled Vance. "They were picked up by the G-men."

EIN STEIN THEORY.

My stein, ein stein of good address
I raise in Gambrinian thoughtfulness,
Whilst pondering (like a barroom Cato)
Upon the nude biped of Plato—
Man, c'est à dire—his worthiness
And eke his leaning toward excess . . .
And wonder why both I and you
Don't other, hotter drinks eschew
And stick to this same golden brew?

"Love" Is a Hard Boiled Word.

The game of tennis originated in France. [See the tennis incident that caused a duel in the early chapters of "The Three Musketeers"; also the Tennis Court Oath of the French Revolution.] In the seventeenth century French players used "l'œuf" [egg] as slang for zero. When the English adopted the game, "l'œuf" was also taken over as "love."

But now Wimbledon, near London, instead of the gardens of the Tuileries, is the tennis focus of Europe; and the French have adopted the English word "love" for use instead of their own "l'œuf."

Evanston Explains Its Pyromania.

Before we, "The Evanston Arsonists," go down in Bible history as the unholy reason for the Eleventh Commandment [4-6-'39], allow us a feeble word of explanation.

Some years ago, before the fire department started the systematic burning off of all vacant lots, every spring we were kept busy running to every part of the city with expensive apparatus intended for the more serious business of saving life and property. Aside from this, grass fires started, and left unwatched, destroyed many valuable trees, shrubbery, telephone poles, and garages. The present practice was inaugurated with marked success in reducing fire alarms and saving taxpayers' money.

Carpenter street, on the west side, was named after Philo Carpenter, pioneer real estate speculator, who opened a log cabin drug store in that region. The nearby Elizabeth, Ann, Ada, and May streets were named after his daughters.

The difference between baseball and football as emotional stimulants can easily be determined by one's suffering from cold in bitter weather. We get much colder over baseball at 50 degrees than over football at the freezing point.

WHAT HAPPENS TO FOOD AFTER IT IS SWALLOWED?

THE breaking down of food—by nature's chemical processes—into fine particles, and its assimilation by the system, are indisputably marvelous. Few of us, however, realize that the mere propulsion of this material—irrespective of its digestion—from the mouth to the rectum is equally ingenious.

The alimentary canal is made up of muscle not unlike that found in any other part of the body. It differs, however, in various sections in its ability to react to stimuli. The upper portion is far more sensitive than the lower. In other words, the esophagus [the tube leading from the mouth to the stomach] is more active than the gastric pouch; the entrance to the latter is more responsive than that to the colon. In the bowel there is always a point of lowered tension following one of greater. This alternating contraction and relaxation continues down the structure in a definite rhythm. These waves are known as peristalsis and are directed toward the rectum.

The digestive tract has a figurative signal system along its route—at the back of the throat, at the opening and exit of the stomach, at the juncture of the small intestine and the large, and at the end of the rectum. Under normal circumstances these trafic guides are perfectly timed. Just as the driver of an automobile may travel over a boulevard for a considerable distance without halting, so what we eat may pass through the entire course on schedule. We know that foodstuffs leave the "bread basket" within four or five hours after ingestion and reach the colon within twenty-four.

So far we have been discussing the smooth, regulated flow of traffic under a set of signals working at top efficiency. But should the motorist increase his speed he may arrive at the next light before it changes to green, or he may be forced to pause because the light is not in harmony with the others. Thus one region of the food avenue may become hypersensitive or the stop sign may be out of step. For example, in a spastic condition, or colitis, the large intestine has become unusually irritable and, consequently, overly energetic.

To draw another analogy, one might conceive the digestive tube to be similar to a roller coaster at an amusement park. Here the car [the food] is pulled up the first incline [into the mouth] and is then allowed to coast on over the other humps—the momentum gradually decreasing until the vehicle comes to the depot.

This is the procedure with the average person. If, however, the colon becomes extremely irritable—as in colitis—it is comparable to placing a steep hill at the end of the roller coaster. One would swing back and forth without completing the ride. These patients develop constipation because the overwrought large bowel has clamped down upon its residue and will not allow it to be expelled. These individuals are, as a rule, high strung in temperament and the excitability of the bowel wall is merely a local manifestation of a "hair trigger" nervous balance. The same type of overstimulation, however, may result from repeated insults through the use of drastic cathartics. In such a situation the colon replies either by excessive activity or by laying down on the job entirely.

If the impelling force on the loop-the-loop is shut off too quickly, there would not be sufficient impetus to carry the car to the terminus. Thus—if the colon becomes lazy—there is not sufficient contraction to drive the waste products to the rectum for expulsion.

When edibles do not journey through the intestine in the proper way many symptoms may arise. If the gauge at the end of the stomach does not open when it should, peristaltic waves are often reversed with resultant vomiting. If the bowel content is held back at the rectum it may shuttle back and forth or merely stagnate, causing marked gas formation, distension, and irritation of the lining of the bowel wall.

CYSTITIS.

W. I. writes: What causes cystitis? After it has been cleared up is it likely to recur?

REPLY.

Cystitis is an inflammation of the bladder. The chief cause is infection which may be carried down from the kidney or up along the urinary passages. Many types of infection may be responsible.

It may recur if the original factors are duplicated. The most common organism is the colon bacillus, and sulfanilamide is an excellent remedy.

ASK YOUR DENTIST.

L. D. writes: If the teeth have sharp edges which irritate the tongue, must they be pulled or can they be dressed down by a dentist?

REPLY.

The dentist can decide, after examination, if suitable results can be obtained by smoothing the rough edges. In some cases this is all that is necessary. Jagged roots or stubs of teeth, however, should be removed, as such structures are likely to set up infection.

MORE THAN ONE KIND.

C. O. writes: Is there more than one kind of diabetes?

REPLY.

Yes. True diabetes, or diabetes mellitus, is a condition in which the urine contains sugar and the blood harbors an excessive amount. Great thirst and profuse excretion of urine are the chief symptoms. In diabetes insipidus there is no sugar but huge quantities of urine are thrown off daily.

IS THE C. I. O. FASCIST?

Gary, Ind., April 9.—I add my amen to the letter on John L. Lewis in Illinois signed "Miner's Wife," April 2, 1939. It confirms previous letters in this column in regard to the high checkoff and dictatorial powers of Lewis in the miners' union. Some may rush to the defense of Lewis and say he has changed since the launching of the C. I. O. Let us see.

The contract between the soft coal miners and operators expired March 31. At the start of negotiations Lewis thundered for a 50 cent a day increase, six hour day, a five day thirty hour week, a guarantee of two hundred working days annually, and vacations with pay. But true to his past record Lewis dropped all demands to improve wages and conditions for the miners and offered to settle for a closed shop agreement or removal of the penalty clause from the Appalachian agreement. Removal of the penalty clause would enable Lewis to combat dual unionism and thus retain his precious checkoff.

In other industries the C. I. O. has done likewise and in some cases more ruthlessly. Harold Ruttenburg, C. I. O. research director, told 2,200 employés of the McKeesport Tin Plate company last December they would have "to take a wage cut or no jobs after Dec. 26." Of course he was silent about any cut in dues.

There is another and more dangerous side to the C. I. O. Its vertical form is identically the same as the Fascist vertical unions in Italy. In Italy the workers cannot obtain a job unless carrying a card in the Fascist unions. The officials of the unions are of the ruling party. In Spain under Franco the labor charter reads, "All workers will be organized in vertical unions. . . . All officials must be Falangists."

The C. I. O. is playing the identical rôle here as the vertical unions in those two countries. It is organized in the same manner and is under the thumb of the ruling party through the National Labor Relations board. Consciously or unconsciously it is playing the rôle of reaction. As yet it has failed in its mission to establish a dictatorship despite its backing by a few large industrialists. One of the reasons it has failed is that the workers of America are too wary to join a union led by Lewis. But lest we forget—eternal vigilance is the price of liberty.

EX-COAL MINER.

WHY WERE WE THERE?

Chicago, April 10.—May I express to you my hearty commendation of the illuminating and instructive article on guns, gold, and men in yesterday's TRIBUNE accompanied by Mr. McCutcheon's fine cartoon bearing on the same subject.

The latter reminded me of the public statement Col. Henry Allen, former governor of Kansas, made here a year or so ago. He was in Europe with the American Red Cross for a long period during the world war and became friendly with a prominent Italian general. In conversation with him following the armistice the general said, "But colonel, I never have been able to understand why your people are over here." Col. Allen said he was quite surprised at the remark but, after some hesitation, had to reply that he didn't know either.

W. SCOTT.

SUGGESTION TO WAR HAWKS.

Waterloo, Ia., April 10.—You are to be complimented on your editorial, "Americans Without Pride." Most Americans would be thoroughly content if Mr. Henry L. Stimson, and those who are at present spreading British propaganda, would buy a one way ticket to England and enlist as a private in the British army.

True Americans have no stomach for defaulting England and France who rewarded our participation in the world war by beating us out of 25 billion dollars. Only the insane or the rank pro-British would ask for a second helping of such.

F. W. WITWER.

REFUGEE CHILDREN.

Chicago, April 7.—We were not surprised at reading, in your column of today, the letter entitled "Anti-Refugee," written by a public school teacher, inasmuch as "improving the quality of the 1,000,000 United States teachers is the nation's No. 1 educational problem." [Time, Feb. 27, 1939.]

He states the resolution recently sponsored by Senator Wagner would admit 20,000 more refugee children into America a year than are now allowed by the quota.

The fact is this: The Wagner resolution—senate joint resolution 64—only covers 1939 and 1940 and provides for a maximum of 10,000 in each of those two years. Admission would be conditional upon a number of requirements being met, including the assurance that the children would be cared for adequately by responsible citizens or responsible private organizations of the United States, and thereby not become public charges.

ALBERT HIRSCH,

McLAUGHLIN FOR PRESIDENT.

Whiting, Ind., April 9.—Please announce to your readers my hat is in the ring for President in 1940. My platform will be:

1. Take the 22 million off relief and put them and the 12 million unemployed to work.
2. Open up every closed factory.
3. Wipe New York, Philly, Boston, etc. off the map.
4. Move California 1,000 miles eastward.
5. Make Chicago a seaboard city and the national capital.
6. Keep America 1,000 more miles away from the next European war.

How will I carry out my program? Easy. Funny Einstein didn't think of it. I would start digging at the Atlantic coast and transport the dirt to the Pacific coast. I would not stop until I reached Chicago. I would keep all our closed factories busy making shovels and pick axes. I would pay off the national debt by selling the new 1,000 miles of made land on the Pacific coast to the refugees.

JAMES L. McLAUGHLIN.

NEUTRALITY.

Chicago, April 10.—As the hearing for a new neutrality act comes up in Washington at this time let's all write to our congressmen, to encourage them to pass a real neutrality act which will limit the use of our soldiers and sailors, our munitions and arms and money to the defense of America inside American territory and American waters. It is not our business to become the policeman of the world. We have plenty at home which needs our attention.

GEORGE HOPPE.

ONE OF OUR SOLONS.

Chicago, April 9.—The cartoon in your todays issue is just what Hittler wants. Its just that kind of stuff that has encouraged Japan and Hittler to carry on.

TRUST ESTATE.

Chicago, April 1.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. A man died ten months ago, leaving all his estate in trust for his wife, then to go to his two sons. One of the sons is executor, in fact, both were named, but as the one lives out of the state so could not act. They are named joint trustees of the estate.

2. When does the trusteeship begin?

3. Does it begin at the end of the executor's year of handling the estate?

4. Does it begin immediately on the death of the father? Does any responsibility devolve on the son who is not executor to see that the estate has been properly handled by the executor?

5. Is that the duty of the court alone?

6. In other words, does the executor have to show the co-trustee how he has handled matters between the time of taking over the estate and the time of the beginning of their co-trusteeship?

M. M.

1. Creditors are allowed a year in which to file their claims and ordinarily the probate estate is not distributed until after the expiration of such year.
2. After the close of probate proceedings.
3. Yes.
4. No.
5. In general the executor reports to the court. The advisability of the heirs watching him depends on whether exceptional facts are involved.
6. At the close of the proceedings he would file a final account and they would have an opportunity to examine it and would be heard on objections.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

PROVISIONS OF WILL.

Clinton, Ia., April 2.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My father owns property in Chicago. When my mother died last year he had it fixed so that it is in his and my name as joint tenants and not tenants in common so that when he passes away it goes to me. He also made a will in which he appointed me executrix.

1. Does a will have to be filed?

2. Who does this?

3. We had a lawyer draw up the will and in looking it over there [4] isn't anything to indicate it was filed.

The lawyer left out a clause which we want in it and left in the paragraph where it says [5] "should I pass away, etc., before my wife, all is left to her"—not in just those words, but it goes on to say "if both pass away, then the property, etc., is mine."

Of course mother was dead at the time so leaving that paragraph in and mother having passed away [6] does that make any difference?

7. Can't a public stenographer just rewrite it, leaving that paragraph out?

8. I inquired about that paragraph being left in and was told it was O. K.

K. V.

1. The Illinois statute requires filing after the death. The necessity for probate would depend on facts that are not before us.
2. The person who then has the will in his custody.
3. He is in a better position to advise you than we are.
4. There is no need to file it officially before the death.
5. In our opinion the lawyer ought to be glad to redraft it without charge to correct this mistake. Have you taken the matter up with him?
6. Such blunderings are sometimes relied on with other facts as evidence that the testator lacked mental capacity.
7. The corrected instrument should be executed in the same manner as the original instrument. You should not rely on making corrections on the face of the existing instrument.
8. It is not clear to whom you addressed the inquiry referred to.

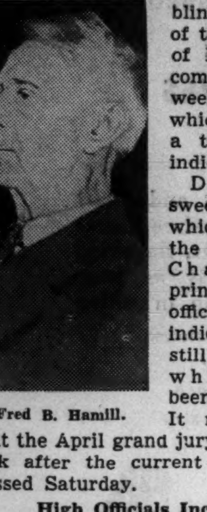
CHAMPAIGN VICE QUIZ RESULTS IN 50 INDICTMENTS

5 More Officials Named; Jury Urges New Drive.

(Picture on Back Page.)

Champaign, Ill., April 13.—[Special.]—The grand jury investigating vice and gambling in this seat of the University of Illinois today completed seven weeks' work in which it returned a total of fifty indictments.



Fred B. Hamill.

Despite its sweeping inquiry, which resulted in the indictment of Champaign's principal public officials, the jury indicated there is still vice here which has not been uncovered. It recommended that the April grand jury take up the task after the current jury is dismissed Saturday.

High Officials Included.

Prominent among those indicted by the retiring grand jury and the charges against them were:

James D. Flynn, mayor of Champaign, malfeasance.

Fred B. Hamill, state's attorney of Champaign county, malfeasance.

Among the others named in the indictments were gamblers, resort keepers, and inmates of disorderly houses. The jury returned seventeen indictments on March 27, twenty-six last night, and seven today. Prosecutor Hamill and the four city commissioners were included in today's indictments.

Defendants Post Bonds.

Mayor Flynn and the four commissioners, all candidates for reëlection at next Tuesday's election, surrendered and posted bonds of $1,500 each. Hamill posted a similar bond, and former Sherif Roth retained his liberty by scheduling a $7,000 bond. Roth had posted bond of $10,000 when the first of two sets of indictments were returned against him last month. Police Chief Argo, ill at his home, arranged to post bond there.

The grand jury investigation was begun at the insistent demands of citizens for a cleanup of this student town following the fatal shooting of William Spurrier, University of Illinois sophomore, outside a Negro resort on Feb. 16.

Attorney General John E. Cassidy undertook the task of presenting to the grand jury charges that protected vice and gambling dens were being operated as temptations to university students. Special Prosecutor Walker Butler of Chicago was sent here to take charge of the grand jury and was aided in the inquiry by T. P. Sullivan, chief of the state bureau of investigation.

Charge Failure to Do Duty.

The grand jury found that all of the community's principal law enforcing officers had failed to do their duty in ridding the city of vice and gambling dens being openly operated here.

Mayor Flynn, who is completing a four year term, was charged with intentionally failing to perform his official duty and failing to use "any sincere effort or attempt to stop gambling and the keeping of common gambling houses in Champaign." It was also charged he neglected his duty relative to the operation of disorderly houses in the city.

Malfeasance, the charge against the public officials, is punishable by a fine of not more than $10,000 and removal from office. No prison or jail sentence is possible on the charge.

Among the others indicted along with the public officials were Sadie Ford, colored, inmate of a disorderly house, who was charged with perjury; Harry Butts, charged with keeping a disorderly house; John Maier, bribery and conspiracy; Harold McGuire, bribery; Fred S. Bonegart, bribery; Garrett Leffler, keeping a gaming house, and Glenn Pitcher, gambling.

Bigamy Charged

MRS. HELEN DUERR.

MRS. IDA BURRUSS.

Mrs. Ida Louise Lapsley Burruss, 60 years old, 622 Woodland park, yesterday resumed the stand in Felony court to testify against Mrs. Helen White Duerr, 40, of Coral Gables, Fla., charged with bigamy. In testimony before Judge George B. Weiss, Mrs. Burruss, member of a Mercer county, Ky., family, said that she and her husband, now a nationally known sales analyst, were wed in 1903 when he was a typewriter salesman.

In 1933 he left her, she told Assistant State's Attorney William Crawford, and a year or so later obtained a Mexican divorce by mail. At about the same time, she said, Mrs. Duerr got a similar divorce from her husband and Burruss and she were later married. The state contends that the Mexican divorces were illegal.

Mrs. Burruss, on cross-examination by Robert Cantwell, attorney for Mrs. Duerr, admitted she had received twenty-two alimony checks from Burruss. A daughter, Barbara, 24 years old, will testify Saturday. Mrs. Burruss also has pending in Superior court a $50,000 damage suit against Mrs. Duerr, charging alienation of affections.

BOY CONFESSES 25 BURGLARIES; 3 OTHERS HELD

Three young men and a boy were being questioned yesterday by Gresham police after the boy confessed taking part in twenty-five burglaries. Loot was recovered from two of the men.

Those held are Donald Newquist, 21, of 7750 Morgan street; Frank Webb, 20, of 1005 West 77th street; Thomas Pagokis, 22, of 7203 Stewart avenue, and James Callahan, 15, of 8220 Emerald avenue. Newquist was arrested Wednesday night in a restaurant at 7930 Halsted street, when an employé noticed he was carrying two pistols. The others were seized later.

Policeman Raymond Mulligan said two stolen watches were found on Newquist, a pistol and a stolen toaster were in Pagokis' home, and a pistol was in Webb's home. Mulligan said Callahan admitted the burglaries. The others would admit only that they got the stolen articles from Callahan.

KICKED BY HORSE, FARMER DIES.

Holland, Mich., April 13.—[Special.]—Gerrit Kleinheksel, 67 years old, Allegan county farmer, died in the Holland hospital yesterday. He was kicked by a horse ten days ago.

JAUNTY PARKER DENIES HE DEALT IN BOGUS MONEY

Says Revenge Prompted Pal to Accuse Him.

Frank J. Parker, once known as the airplane bootlegger, took the stand yesterday in the federal District court of Judge Charles E. Woodward and denied that he ever had anything to do with the possession or marketing of counterfeit money. Parker and August Englehardt, who was returned from prison to face trial with him, are accused by the government of owning $17,880 in spurious bills which were dug up on the Tam o' Shanter golf course near Niles.

Testimony in the trial was finished yesterday afternoon. Arguments of counsel are to begin this morning. It is expected the case will go to the jury before the end of the day. The maximum punishment of the defendants, if convicted, would be twelve years in prison.

Parker, 43 years old, ruddy, and beginning to get gray, was trimly attired in a gray tweed suit and seemed calm and confident that he could prove his innocence.

Denies Bootlegging in U. S.

He testified that he owns the Bismarck and Roosevelt breweries and an apartment building at 1618 Jonquil terrace. In 1925, he said, he operated three distilleries in Canada. Asked if he had sold any bootleg liquor in the United States, he replied in a hurt tone: "No; that would have been illegal."

On cross-examination by Assistant United States District Attorney A. Bradley Eben, Parker admitted that he was sent to Joliet penitentiary in 1913 as an accessory to burglary. Paroled in eleven months, he was returned for parole violation and served three years more. He was then given a pardon by Gov. Len Small.

Much of Parker's direct testimony was devoted to explaining his connection with Englehardt. The latter already has been convicted of counterfeiting and was brought here from Terminal Island prison in California.

Explains Golf Course Letters.

Parker said he hired Englehardt in his business, and had rented him a flat. They played golf together at the Tam o' Shanter course in 1931, 1932, and 1933. The government contends that Parker corresponded with Englehardt about the hiding place of the counterfeit $20 bills, which secret service men, tipped off by an informer, found buried in fruit jars under the fifteenth green.

"I used to kid Gus about shooting into the trees on the fifteenth," Parker said. "I never knew anything about the jars and my letters referred only to golf. I was just giving Gus a rib."

Parker flatly denied that he had ever told Frank Hicketts, an ex-convict and his former friend, that he knew "where a lot of hot money" was secreted. Hicketts testified Tuesday as a government witness that Parker had offered him a percentage on any sales of the spurious cash Hicketts might make. Parker testified yesterday that he and Hicketts had argued about a $5,000 business deal and intimated that this furnished Hicketts with a revenge motive.

"I lent Hicketts money when he got out of prison," he said. "But I never rode around in a car with him, as he said, and I never told him anything about counterfeits."

Englehardt had been a witness in the morning. He asserted that a map he drew, supposedly pointing to the illegal hoard of bills, was really an outline of a mining property of Parker's in Colorado, and that such notations as "green" and "flag" were used to describe the mine surroundings.

The government put several federal agents on the stand in an effort to discredit evidence that had been presented for the defense.

THIEF GRANTED TIME TO THINK OF AN EXCUSE

Dalbert Frederisy, 17 years old, 341 West 74th street, has until April 20 to think of some reason why he should not be sentenced for petty larceny. When he could offer none yesterday to Judge J. M. Braude in Boys' court the case was continued to that date. Frederisy and Donald Hannon, 16, of 6328 South Sangamon street, were caught by police Tuesday night after they had entered a grocery at 1224 West 69th street. Frederisy said he and Hannon, now held by juvenile authorities, wanted money to spend. Neither had been arrested before. On motion of Assistant State's Attorney Roy McCarthy the charge was reduced from burglary to petty larceny.

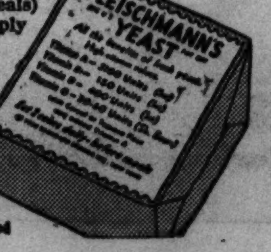
Get a BOOST by eating Extra Vitamins this MORE EFFECTIVE way

2 cakes of Fleischmann's High-Vitamin Yeast supply:

VITAMIN A—6200 UNITS (Int.)
VITAMIN B_1— 300 UNITS (Int.)
VITAMIN D— 800 UNITS (Int.)
VITAMIN G—100-120 UNITS (Sh.Bour.)

All the average person needs (plus meals) of Vitamins A, B_1, D—and a rich supply of Vitality Vitamin G.

Eat one cake ½ hour before breakfast or lunch, one ½ hour before supper. Or, if you prefer, eat the 2 cakes at one time. Simply eat it plain or in a little water or milk.



SO-CALLED "Spring Fever" may really be due to a shortage of vitamins. Many people's everyday meals, studies show, fail to give enough of all the vitamins they need.

And, even if you get extra vitamins daily, they may not give the help you expected—if slow digestion keeps you from making the full use of them you should.

More than Just Vitamins—That is why eating extra vitamins in the new Fleischmann's High-Vitamin Yeast can offer more complete results than just vitamins alone.

This new, improved yeast is richer than ever in 4 vitamins—A, B_1, D and G—needed by everyone in ample amounts to help build up good general resistance, steady nerves, strong bones, healthy digestion, and for plenty of pep and vigor.

"Booster Action"—In addition—the remarkable "booster action" of fresh yeast helps to stimulate and quicken slow digestion. This better digestion helps you use the vitamins you eat more fully. It "boosts" their assimilation.

Begin today. See if eating Fleischmann's High-Vitamin Yeast regularly doesn't make a difference in how you feel and look.

ALL REPUBLICAN JUDICIAL SLATE TO BE OFFERED

Convention Summoned to Meet Tonight.

An all Republican ticket of twenty-six candidates for the Circuit and Superior courts in the county judicial election June 5 will be reported to the party convention tonight. Chairman Edward F. Moore of the slate making committee sent telegrams yesterday to the eighty delegates hurriedly summoning them to reconvene.

Several days ago the convention recessed until next Monday. This date has now been advanced because of a legal theory that the body must complete its work by tomorrow. It was decided to take no chances.

Slate Almost Finished.

After his committee worked all day and evening yesterday, Chairman Moore announced that its task is almost finished. Ten committee members interviewed most of forty possible candidates. The others will be questioned about their qualifications today.

Meanwhile, it was reported that the movement initiated by some of the sitting judges, who favor a deal with the Democrats to offer the voters an uncontested coalition ticket, was far from dead. Thus far the slate makers have stood firm against this movement, as indicated by Moore's statement that an all G. O. P. ticket will be proposed to the convention.

The eight sitting Republican judges whose terms expire signed a letter to the committee which was interpreted as meaning they would prefer to insure their jobs by going on a coalition ticket.

Telegrams Sent to Judges.

These judges were asked yesterday morning by telegram to notify the convention whether they would run on an all Republican ticket. Moore said no replies had been received. A decision must be made today as to what shall be done about the matter, he said.

The Chicago Bar association went on record recently against a coalition ticket, urging that the voters be given their choice from two full slates.

The board of governors of the City club yesterday also went on record as opposing a coalition ticket.

Democratic leaders were scheduled to act tomorrow on the basis of what is done tonight by the Republicans. Chairman P. A. Nash is expected to return to Chicago tomorrow and name a slate making committee which will go into session at 11 a. m.

WBBM'S TOWER COLLAPSES; PUTS STATION OFF AIR

The new 490 foot broadcasting tower of radio station WBBM, situated near Lake and Schermer avenues, one-half mile north of Glenview, collapsed at 9:50 o'clock last night when a guy wire snapped. Broadcasts from the station were stopped for nearly four hours and network programs were transferred to station WIND. WBBM resumed broadcasting at 1:30 a. m. from a temporary tower. The cause of the tower collapse was believed to be a cable defect. The damage was estimated at $30,000. The tower had been erected a month ago, and put into operation two weeks ago.

Arrangements were completed early today for WBBM to use the station of WENR near Downers Grove, owned by the National Broadcasting company. Three months will be required to erect a new tower at Glenview.

Station W-G-N was silent for approximately forty-five minutes last night because of disruption of power service to the transmitting plant in Roselle. The disruption was due to a sleetstorm which weighted down and snapped an electric wire. Broadcasts were halted shortly before 10 o'clock and resumed within the hour.

Release Former King of Bombers in Shooting Quiz

James Belcastro, known for years as king of the bombers, was released yesterday after he told Capt. John Egan of the Maxwell street police that he knew nothing of the shooting Tuesday night of Daniel Pintozzi, former 20th ward precinct captain. Belcastro surrendered for questioning voluntarily Wednesday night.

REVEALS HOLDUP SLAYING SECRET AFTER 7 YEARS

Young Father of 3 Puts Blame on Companion.

For seven years Otto Gehrke of 2758 Roosevelt road, a violin teacher and a salesman for a loop music concern, kept a secret. Yesterday he disclosed it. To the Brookfield police he confessed his part in the slaying of William J. Stinson, who was shot to death in a robbery of his Brookfield drug store on April 16, 1932.

In his statement, Gehrke, who is 27 years old, implicated Robert Wilson of 5488 Hyde Park boulevard, formerly of Brookfield, as the actual killer. Wilson, also 27, was seized and confronted by Gehrke. He denied the story, but Gehrke was firm in his avowals and both were locked up.

Trapped on Anonymous Tip.

Capt. Chester Crosby, acting chief of the Brookfield police, had been searching for weeks for the two men. He said he received anonymous information that they were the killers. Not until Wednesday did he find Gehrke, who announced he was glad to rid himself of his terrible secret. Gehrke is married and has three children.

"I haven't had a good night's sleep since Stinson was killed," he asserted.

He said that in 1932, while he was out of work, he lived for a time with Wilson and his parents at 3419 Arden avenue, Brookfield.

Describes the Slaying.

"I was broke," he continued, "and couldn't pay any board. Wilson persuaded me there would be some easy money in sticking up the store. We went there late in the evening. Wilson had a pistol and I carried a blackjack.

"He stayed outside and I went in and demanded money from Stinson. Stinson bent down behind his counter and then ran to the door and outside. Wilson fired. The bullet hit him and fatally wounded him. Then both of us fled. We hid in the doorway of a church until dawn, and Wilson threatened to kill me if I ever told. Since 1933 I haven't seen him. I've worked hard. It was the only crime I ever committed."

Capt. Crosby said he had driven 2,700 miles looking for Wilson. He was informed several times, he said, that the fugitive was in towns out of the city. Yesterday he learned that Wilson is married to a registered nurse. By consulting nurses' registries he found the Hyde Park address and arrested the alleged killer there. Lieut. William Hoffman of La Grange assisted in the arrest.

DEMOCRATS CHOOSE LOREN E. MURPHY TO RUN FOR HIGH COURT

Rock Island, Ill., April 13.—[Special.]—Circuit Judge Loren E. Murphy of Monmouth was nominated today as the Democratic candidate for the 4th district Supreme court seat from which Justice Warren H. Orr is retiring. Judge Murphy will oppose Judge Albert M. Crampton of the City court of Moline, the Republican nominee who was chosen Monday at a convention in Quincy, Ill. The election will be held June 5. Keen rivalry for the Democratic nomination deadlocked the convention here for almost two days. The stalemate was broken when Adams, Brown, and Mason counties, originally pledged to Attorney Carl B. Berter of Quincy, swung their support to Judge Murphy on the twelfth ballot.

FOES OF SPECIAL BLOCK CHOICE OF ELECTION JUDGES

Three trustees of the village of Dixmoor stayed away last night from a special board meeting called by Charles Special, village president. Since no quorum was present, officials to serve at the polls in the village election Tuesday couldn't be chosen. Special ordered another meeting for tonight, but it was expected the three trustees, who oppose his régime, again will refuse to attend.

Clerk Charles Wilson, an anti-Specialite, said his faction already had submitted recommendations for judges and clerks to man the one polling place and had been assured that the county clerk's office would approve them and issue credentials.

Special denied this. He said he wanted only to guarantee a fair election and offered his list of election officials, whom he called impartial. One of the judges he would choose is his wife, Carmelia.

Special's control of the village, which has 950 population, is at stake. Three trustees and a police magistrate are to be elected. Special and Police Magistrate Charles A. Braun have been convicted of a speed trap conspiracy and sentenced to a year in jail. The verdict is being appealed.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt may have her differences with the Daughters of the American Revolution, but the young people under the organization's wing remain in her good graces. An invitation from Mrs. Roosevelt to visit the White House was the subject twenty high school girls were discussing yesterday afternoon in Grand Central station. They boarded the Capitol Limited of the Baltimore and Ohio for Washington, D. C., and the continental congress of the D. A. R., opening Monday in Constitution hall.

The party was chaperoned by Mrs. George Harbert of Park Ridge, national vice chairman and state chairman of the society's good citizenship pilgrimage for senior high school students. In the company as the pilgrim from Illinois was Miss Susie Wright of Indianola. Mrs. Eli Dixson, vice president general from Illinois, and Mrs. Jacob F. Zimmerman, state regent, were among the D. A. R. officials taking the same train.

Drop Charge Against Son in Woman's Mystery Death

A charge of manslaughter against Walter Procunier, 28 years old, was dismissed yesterday by Judge George B. Weiss in Felony court. Police said they were satisfied Procunier was not involved in the death of his mother, Frieda, 53 years old. She was found fatally injured Sunday in a basement areaway at 3010 Sheffield avenue. Procunier and his mother had spent part of the evening together at a tavern.

PAY ROLL 'KITTY' SCANDAL FACES WISCONSIN QUIZ

House Refuses Whitewash for Merit System.

BY FRED GRAFF.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., April 13.—[Special.]—A legislative inquiry into a pay roll kitty fund, by which civil service employés of the Wisconsin legislature are being forced to pay the salaries of non-civil service employés illegally employed, appeared certain today.

The lower house refused to take up under suspension of the rules a bill removing all legislative workers from the merit system and whitewashing the present system.

The bill, introduced by Assemblyman Edward J. Larson [R., Plymouth], would bar criminal prosecution of legislative clerks and messengers hired illegally, as well as those who employed them, and exempt employés of future legislatures from civil service.

Fifty Witnesses Questioned.

Norris E. Maloney, district attorney of Dane county, is continuing his inquiry into the alleged shakedown fund. It is charged that more than a dozen non-civil service employés of the legislature received salaries through this fund. Nearly 50 witnesses had been questioned tonight. Others, Maloney said, will be subpenaed.

Maloney said he had information indicating that civil service employés of the assembly contributed $567 in February and about $1,100 in March to the kitty fund. This was used, he charged, to pay clerks and messengers who did not take civil service examinations. Wisconsin law provides that all legislative employés, other than the senate and house chief clerks and sergeants at arms, must be selected from certified lists submitted by the bureau of personnel and based on civil service examinations.

Despite earlier testimony that the contributions were voluntary, Maloney said today that several of those who paid into the fund testified they were told how much to give.

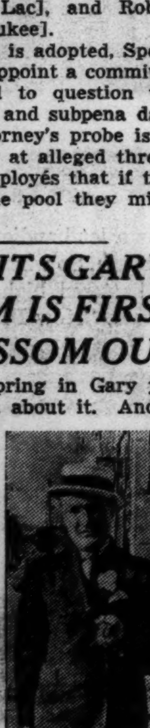
Quiz Put Up to House.

The house resolution calling for an investigation of the fund was introduced by Assemblymen Mark S. Catlin Jr. [R., Appleton], Elmer Genzmer [D., Mayville], Maurice Fitzsimons Jr. [D., Fond du Lac], and Robert Tehan [D., Milwaukee].

If the resolution is adopted, Speaker Thomson will appoint a committee of five authorized to question witnesses under oath and subpena data.

The district attorney's probe is directed particularly at alleged threats to civil service employés that if they didn't pay into the pool they might lose their jobs.

SPRING HITS GARY AND SAM IS FIRST TO BLOSSOM OUT



Sam [Spring] Velo.

It was really spring in Gary yesterday. No doubt about it. And it wasn't because of twittering birds, sunshine, or rising temperature. It was because of Samuel Velo.

Sam, who is 50 years old and a veteran steel mill worker, made spring official. He emerged from his home at 902 Broadway in straw hat, white shoes, and a springtime suit. In his coat lapel he wore a boutoniere [artificial]. As he walked he twirled a cane.

"Nothing unusual; nothing at all," commented Sam to his steel worker friends. "It's April. Easter's past. Ain't it spring then?"

ESTATE OF $250,000 LEFT TO FAMILY BY R. E. DURHAM

Raymond E. Durham, president of Lyon & Healy, Inc., who died April 2 in Chandler, Ariz., left an estate valued at $250,000, it was disclosed yesterday when his will was filed with Clerk Mitchell C. Robin in Probate court. The bulk of the estate is left in trust for the widow, Mrs. Eleanor Durham; a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Poor of Johannesburg, South Africa, and two sons, Robert Gregory Durham, a law student at Yale, and Raymond E. Durham Jr., who is associated with Lyon & Healy. Mrs. Durham and the First National bank are named trustees. The family home is at 2 Kent road, Winnetka.

DRIVER BURNED IN BLAST.

Galesburg, Ill., April 13.—[Special.]—Harold Dillard, 24 years old, a truck driver from Laddenia, Mo., was seriously burned early today in an explosion at a filling station in Wataga, near here. To build a fire in the station stove he used a can of what he thought was kerosene, but which turned out to be naphtha. The station was destroyed.

ARTHUR GREENE DIES; MEMBER OF PIONEER FAMILY

Funeral services for Arthur R. Greene, member of a pioneer Du Page county family, will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in St. John's Episcopal church, Naperville. Mr. Greene, who was 48 years old, died Wednesday in his home three miles south of Lisle. With his death Oak Cottage farms, comprising more than 800 acres, will pass from supervision of a male member of the Greene family for the first time since 1842, when the first Greenes came from Vermont.

Mr. Greene was born and lived in the same house that his father lived in for seventy-five years. He was graduated from the University of Illinois. He was a member of the township school board and was active in farming and civic organizations. He was a member of the finance committee of St. John's church, as were his father and grandfather.

DIES IN DIXON AT 72.

Dixon, Ill., April 13.—[Special.]—Mrs. Henry Floto, 72 years old, a resident here for many years, died today. The funeral will be Saturday.

JAPS BAN LAVISH FETE FOR CREW OF FUNERAL SHIP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, April 13.—Japanese national psychology, which often runs counter to western customs and ideas, compelled the government today to discourage a lavish welcome for the American cruiser Astoria which was planned by various individuals and organizations.

The Astoria, bearing the ashes of Hiroshi Saito, former Japanese ambassador to Washington, D. C., will arrive in Yokohama on Monday escorted by three Japanese destroyers. Saito died in Washington on Feb. 26. As a gesture of good will, his ashes were sent to Japan aboard the American cruiser.

The Japanese believe it is proper etiquet to hide the inner feelings and extend the warmest welcome to show their appreciation of the friendly gesture. American authorities, however, in keeping with the solemn occasion, requested that the functions honoring the personnel of the Astoria be limited to as few as possible.

OBITUARIES

Christian Sloier.

Christian Sloier, retired police hero, died yesterday in his home in the Fullerton hotel, 3919 Fullerton avenue. He was a Spanish-American war veteran and the son of Policeman Nels O. Sloier, who was killed in the Haymarket riot.

Mr. Sloier, who was 61 years old, was head of gambling raiders when Herman Schuettler was chief of police. The former policeman won The Tribune and the Carter H. Harrison gold medals in 1916 for battling three bandits single-handed and capturing one of them.

Marshall served as president of the Federal Wholesale Druggists Association of the United States and Canada in 1922 and from 1928 to 1931.

HOUSING GROUP SEEKS PLACE TO SPEND $7,000,000

The Chicago Housing authority is looking for a place to spend $7,000,000 obtained from the Federal Housing authority, Mayor Kelly was informed yesterday by Joseph W. McCarthy, C. H. A. chairman. McCarthy said construction bids for the $9,000,000 south park gardens project will be sought on July 1.

The Housing authority announced that it had changed the name of the south park project, 37th street and South Park way, to the Ida B. Wells Housing project. The change was made at the request of Negro groups to honor a colored woman, who for more than fifty years and to her death in 1931 had devoted her life to the uplifting of her people.

URGE PURCHASE OF MILK SURPLUS WITH U. S. CASH

Dairy Co-ops Ask Action by Congress.

Representatives of sixty-two dairy organizations affiliated with the National Coöperative Milk Producers' federation met in the Congress hotel yesterday and adopted resolutions urging the federal government to appropriate large sums to buy up surplus dairy products as a means of stabilizing prices.

The delegates complained that the state department, through its trade agreement program, has increased the distress of farmers by taking away protection against importation of dairy products, oils, and fats that are in direct competition with American production of milk and its derivatives.

Want Butter Buying Resumed.

Among the specific recommendations were: That butter buying be resumed by the Dairy Products Marketing association, a stabilization corporation set up last June, which abandoned operations a few weeks ago; that this corporation find export outlets for butter and other products; that losses on such exports be subsidized, and that $150,000,000 be appropriated for the purchase of all surplus agricultural products.

The delegates also called on the government to continue the milk price control system that has been unsuccessful in many milksheds. The system was outlawed in New York after it raised the price of grade A milk to 16¾ cents a quart and cut consumption greatly [Chicago now pays, with no official control, 12 cents a quart]. They suggested that new and more stringent laws be passed to enable the government to exercise dictatorial powers along this line.

Urge Managed Currency.

In discussing a permanent program the federation held that Washington should lift the level of all basic commodity prices by "the device of managing the currency."

"To this end," the resolution urged, "we recommend the establishment of a nonpolitical monetary authority with a mandate to so manage the gold content of the dollar as to preserve the price relationship which commodities bore to each other in the years 1922-'29. . . . Management of this character is not inflation. It is merely putting currency to work for the people instead of letting it be the tool of bankers and rich investors."

The federation claims that it represents 360,000 farmers engaged in milk production.

ROBBER UNABLE TO TAKE TAUNT LANDS IN CELL

The trouble with George Allen Thompson was that he couldn't take a taunt. Thompson, who is 33 years old, and lives at 4308 Sheridan road, walked into Kemp's restaurant at 1031 Wilson avenue early today.

He held his hand in his right overcoat pocket as if he had a gun and demanded the receipts from Miss Ann Laney, cashier, and Byron Keller, the manager. Keller turned over $48. James McAlindan, 1268 Victor avenue, a customer, saw what was going on.

"You're an egg," he said challengingly to Thompson. The latter resented the remark. He took his hand out of his pocket and advanced. That was enough for both McAlindan and Keller. The moment Thompson took his hand from his pocket they knew he didn't have a gun—because there wasn't any bulge left in the pocket. They overpowered Thompson and turned him over to Sergt. John Fabianski of the Town Hall police. Thompson admitted to Lieut. William Drury that he served a term in an Ohio prison several years ago.

Woman Captain

CAPT. ANNA SCHETININA.

MOSCOW, April 13.—(AP)—More than 8,800 women sailors now work aboard soviet ships, according to figures published today.

In addition, 21,974 women work on river boats on the Volga and other streams, including many engineers and mechanics and several skippers.

A pioneer among soviet seawomen is Anna S. Schetinina, 29 years old, the first to achieve the rank of captain on a seagoing ship.

She studied at the naval school in Vladivostok and at 16 began spending summers at sea, first as "cabin boy" and then as sailor. She was 24 when she became a captain.

INDICT 13 HELD AS MEMBERS OF RUSTLING RING

True bills against thirteen men held as members of a cattle rustling ring were returned yesterday by the grand jury. The men were arrested recently by the Cook county highway police. They were charged with stealing $50,000 worth of stock in Cook and Will counties and northern Indiana.

Feopil Jungiwicz, 151st street and Kedzie avenue, Harvey; Nathan Fischer, 147th street near Ridgeland avenue, Tinley Park, and Henry Yunker, 143d street and Keane avenue, Orland township, each were charged in indictments with failure to keep proper records of their sales. All are cattle dealers.

The other bills, charging larceny or burglary, or both, were returned against Robert Line, Crestwood; his brother, Leland, 720 West 120th street; Earl Anderson, Oak Forest; Frank Benca, Orland Park; Edward Kooyenga and his brother, Drew, both of 115th street and Cicero avenue, Worth township; James Baker, Crestwood; Edward Mosel, Posen; Patrick Lydon and Rolland Lyons, Blue Island.

SENATE REJECTS WILLIS' INDIANA VOTE QUIZ PLEA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 13.—[Special.]—The senate today dismissed the petition of Raymond E. Willis, Republican, asking an investigation of the 1938 Indiana senatorial election in which he was defeated by Senator Frederick Van Nuys, Democrat.

The senate acted on a voice vote without debate shortly after its elections committee filed a report recommending that the action be taken.

Willis, a newspaper publisher of Angola, Ind., charged that Van Nuys was reëlected as the result of wholesale frauds, including improper registrations, tampering with election returns, and intimidation of WPA workers.

The committee's report, prepared by two Democrats and one Republican, said there was insufficient evidence to show that a recount or an investigation would change the outcome of the election or provide any basis for possible corrective legislation. Willis was defeated in the election by about 5,000 votes.

HARVEY MAYOR TO BE ARRAIGNED ON THEFT COUNT

F. W. Bruggeman.

Mayor Frank W. Bruggeman of Harvey will be arraigned tomorrow before Justice of the Peace Harry Leviton in Berwyn on a charge of embezzling $10,000 from the Harvey treasury. The money represents payments made by the village of Dixmoor for water service. Bruggeman, arrested Wednesday night at an Elks banquet, said the charge is a political plot to discredit him in the mayoral election Tuesday.

He said he had deposited the $10,000 secretly in a Blue Island bank with the full approval of the city council. This was done, he said, to prevent holders of water bonds, involved in litigation with the Harvey government, from attaching the funds.

The charge against Bruggeman was brought by Alfred Kennedy, 15421 Ashland avenue, Harvey. Bruggeman said Kennedy is a worker for Frank G. Ring, Democratic candidate for mayor. Bruggeman, a Republican, is seeking his fourth four-year term.

PHYSICIAN FREED ON $20,000 BAIL IN ABORTION DEATH

Dr. Benjamin H. Breakstone, 61 years old, who was ordered held to the grand jury Wednesday on a charge of murder by abortion, was released yesterday from the county jail in $20,000 bond. The grand jury action was recommended by a coroner's jury investigating the death on March 11 of Mrs. Hermine Leith, 19, of 644 Surf street. Assistant State's Attorney Edward Spiro said the case probably would go before the grand jury within a week.

SHOT IN QUARREL OVER REFUND ON REPOSSESSED CAR

Joseph Yancey, 24 years old, 3148 Union avenue, was shot through the chest yesterday during a quarrel with James and Sol Rosenberg, owners of a used car business at 2533 State street. The quarrel arose over a car bought by Yancey from the Rosenbergs five months ago. He was forced to return it because he couldn't meet the payments. Yesterday he and an unidentified friend demanded a refund from the Rosenbergs. He was given $36, but wanted more. According to the Rosenbergs, Yancey drew a knife. James Rosenberg then shot him, police said. Yancey was taken to the Mercy hospital.

LADIES LAY SIEGE TO LAST SEASON SILKS AND SATINS

BY DORIS LOCKERMAN.

There is just one rule at a rummage sale: No expert comes out empty handed.

A small knot of people who stood in front of 1006 Michigan avenue for two hours yesterday morning became, with the opening of the doors, a darting, surging mob as they pushed and grabbed for bargains in debutante cast-offs. The articles are offered for sale each year by the Junior league.

From Gowns to Galoshes.

In the crowd was one lone man, who headed straight for the evening gowns, where last year's long skirts of tulle and satin swept the bare, dusty floor. He ran an appraising eye over the rack, fingered a green velvet critically, and sauntered away. He felt the afternoon dresses and from them wandered on to the sweaters. A few minutes later he turned up at the wrapping counter, two shiny galoshes tucked inelegantly under his arm.

The league workers cheerfully renewed acquaintance with many of their customers, who come to them year after year for their wardrobes. One woman of forty, swathed in a long leopard skin coat and wearing her yellowed hair piled atop her head in modish curls, was familiar to several.

"Hello, there," welcomed a smiling worker, as the blonde one plumped a scarlet evening dress on the counter. "I see you are still wearing my plaid dress. I told you it was an import." She turned to ring up the $2 sale, "You can always depend on us for quality, you know."

Blue Satin Goes for $1.50.

The iridescent blue satin gown that once was the pride of a bridesmaid went to a scrawny young woman for $1.50. The girl who sold it gave its sleeve a last, endearing pat as the buyer carried it away.

"My divine dress!" she lamented, "and I know she isn't big enough to fill it out."

The aristocrat of the rummage sale was a mink cloaked woman who peered at the old clothing through oxford glasses, and piled her final, discriminating choices onto the burdened arms of a colored maid who trailed her.

IT'S CIRCUS TIME AGAIN; THE SHOW STARTS TONIGHT

The elephant baseball team has had its final batting practice. The high wire walkers, the fire divers, and the human projectiles are ready. The Greater European Olympia circus will open its engagement in the Chicago Stadium at 8:15 o'clock tonight. The 500 members of the troupe represent Belgium, Sweden, Russia, Holland, Spain, China, France, Argentina, and the United States. There are thirty-nine clowns, and there will be, of course, tanks of pink lemonade.

Asks Annulment

Mrs. Frederick Albert Mitchell-Hedges in New York court yesterday.

New York, April 13.—(AP)—Referee Daniel F. Cohalan reserved decision today on the application of Mrs. Dorothy Copp Mitchell-Hedges, dancer, for an annulment of her marriage to Frederick Albert Mitchell-Hedges, English explorer now living in England.

She based her suit, which was not defended, on the ground that the Mexican mail order divorce Mitchell-Hedges obtained from his first wife in November, 1934, is not legal in this state.

An associate of Frederick P. Rich, one of her attorneys, said she and Rich plan to be married if the annulment is granted.

MOTHER OF BOY KILLED BY TRUCK MENACES DRIVER

Last December Bruce Burns Jr., 5 years old, was killed by a truck at Rockwell street and Evergreen avenue. The driver, Fred Lipkowitz, 1742 Humboldt boulevard, was exonerated.

Last night Lipkowitz received a telephone call from a woman. "Come over to 1729 Humboldt boulevard," she said, "I have a moving job for you."

Lipkowitz hurried over. He was confronted by Mrs. Henrietta Burns, 2047 Evergreen avenue, the boy's mother. She pointed a small pistol at Lipkowitz. Before she could fire he seized and disarmed her.

Policeman Paul Reser and a squad were called. They took Mrs. Burns to the North avenue station. There she declared she had meant to kill Lipkowitz because his truck had killed her son. She said she purchased the pistol by mail order a month ago for that purpose.

"And I'll still kill him," she threatened.

Mrs. Burns said she was particularly anguished by loneliness because her husband is now in prison and her son is gone.

AUTOIST INJURES GIRL ON SIDEWALK AND DRIVES AWAY

A vicious hit and run driver ran his car upon the sidewalk at 42d street and Lowe avenue last night and severely injured Miss Rita McNamara, 15 years old, a high school girl.

She was walking to her home at 4229 Lowe avenue when the machine bore down upon her. She was dragged nearly sixty feet. The driver then sped away.

No skid marks were found as would be expected had the driver lost control of his car. Miss McNamara suffered fractures of both legs and the pelvis and severe bruises, and was taken to the Evangelical hospital.

Dies of Injuries Unfelt for Week.

Edward Ciszewski, 25 years old, 3334 North Karlov avenue, died early today in the Chicago Memorial hospital apparently of injuries suffered in a trafic accident. On March 31 his motorcycle collided with a car driven by M. H. Node, 516 North avenue, in Balbo drive, near the outer drive. Police said Ciszewski did not notice any effects until April 7 at which time he entered the hospital.

Felix Schmidt, 45 years old, 1100 North Paulina street, died yesterday in County hospital of injuries suffered March 27 when he was struck by an automobile at Wood and Thomas streets. Ernest Dicicco, 1521 North California avenue, was the driver.

A hitch-hiker killed Wednesday by a truck near Kankakee was identified yesterday as Max Morauski, 22, of 11745 Wentworth avenue. The identification was made by a brother, Phillip.

Injured by Truck; Dies.

Carl Swanson, 65 years old, 3349 Hutchinson street, died last night in the Belmont hospital of a skull fracture suffered when he was run down by a motor truck at Berteau and Kimball avenues last Monday. The driver was Louis Behrendt, 43, of 1633 North Mozart street.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 251 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 195 were killed in Chicago, where 5,185 were injured in the same period.

THE MASSACRE Chicago's 1939 Trafic Toll

HIT-RUN DRIVER OF DEATH AUTO GETS 1-14 YEARS

Judge Robert J. Dunne in Criminal court yesterday sentenced George Nielsen, 19 years old, to one to 14 years in the penitentiary on a charge of manslaughter. Nielsen was convicted as the hit and run driver whose car killed Clarence DuBois of 7205 Sangamon street on Feb. 4 at 73d street and Vincennes avenue.

Nielsen's arrest followed the receipt by police of an anonymous letter telling where the car could be found. Nielsen testified yesterday he could not remember striking DuBois. He and four companions, crowded in his car, a coupe, were returning from a visit to a night club, he said. Nielsen lives at 449 West 81st street.

Assistant State's Attorney Irwin Clorfene said Nielsen previously had been arrested for speeding and reckless driving.

Bandits Slug Policeman but Fail to Get $600

Policeman William Durkin was escorting Alexander Phillips yesterday from a bank to the tavern at 4107 South Ashland avenue, where Phillips is employed. Phillips was carrying $600. Three bandits confronted them in front of the tavern. Both Durkin and Phillips offered battle, and both were slugged. People ran outside from the tavern hearing the commotion, and the gunmen fled empty handed.

SMALL FRY TAKE THE SPOTLIGHT; SMELTS ARRIVE!

Here's How to Cook Fish Nice and Flaky.

Small fish, such as smelts and perch, are deliciously crisp on the outside and flaky on the inside when they are fried in deep fat. Have the fish cleaned at the market, head, tail, and entrails removed. Wipe them with a damp cloth, then wrap in parchment paper and store in the refrigerator until time for cooking.

Roll each fish in flour, then dip in slightly beaten egg which has been diluted with water, and roll in fine, dry bread crumbs or in cornmeal. Drop into deep fat heated to 375 degrees [60 second bread cube test] and cook until well browned. The fish will be done in from three to five minutes, as a rule, though this depends somewhat upon size.

Remove fish from the frying kettle to crumpled paper towels to drain. Sprinkle with salt and pepper on each side, and serve hot with tartar sauce.

Sometimes it's not possible to get fresh fried products to the table immediately after they have been cooked. Other dinner-getting processes may require attention. In this event put the cooked fish on a cookie sheet or in a pan and keep them hot in a moderate oven until the dinner is all ready. They shouldn't be kept in the oven longer than is absolutely necessary or they will dry out and become less tender than they should be.

TARTAR SAUCE.

[One and a fourth cups.]

2 egg yolks
1 teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon dry mustard
½ cup salad oil
3 tablespoons lemon juice or vinegar
1 tablespoon finely minced onion
1 tablespoon finely choppped sweet pickle
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 tablespoon minced pimiento or chopped stuffed olives

Mix egg yolks, sugar, salt, pepper, and mustard. Beat with a rotary beater and add oil gradually, ½ teaspoon at a time until several tablespoons have been added. Then add a little lemon juice or vinegar, and alternate oil and acid in small amounts, beating continually. Add oil in larger portions as the sauce thickens. When oil and vinegar have been beaten in thoroughly, add remaining ingredients. Parsley may be omitted from the recipe and added at serving time, if the sauce is to be stored. It will keep for weeks in the refrigerator, in a covered jar.

A quicker tartar sauce consists of a cup of mayonnaise into which is put a tablespoon of each of the following: Chopped pickle, chopped olives, minced parsley, minced onion, lemon juice, capers [if wanted]. This mixture will keep well, too, if parsley is omitted.

TWO MILLION WOMEN

DISSOLVES GREASE!

BAB-O

Here are the simple facts that are making thousands of women switch to Bab-O daily. The thing to blame for 90% of your scouring and scrubbing is grease! It's practically everywhere . . . binding dirt and stain to bathtubs, sinks, stoves, refrigerators—even woodwork. Without grease, 90% of this dirt would wipe away.

That's why Bab-O saves you so much scouring and scrubbing. Bab-O dissolves grease. Bab-O contains a special ingredient that just melts grease. With grease gone, dirt and stains wipe gently off. There's no needless scouring and scrubbing.

That's why Bab-O works faster, and you use less—so you save money, save surfaces, and save your hands.

Two million women have already changed to Bab-O as the fastest, easiest, safest way to do the household cleaning. So just try it! Ask your grocer for Bab-O today.

BOTH A DELIGHT, AND A RITUAL— THE ARTICHOKE

How to Buy, Cook and Eat Them.

Eating an artichoke is a ceremony. Off come the coarse green petals, one by one, to be dipped in melted butter and eaten—at least the tops! Each leaf is good for a single tender, delicious bite; the rest of it is tough and must be discarded.

At length one comes to the heart of the artichoke. The experienced "choke" eater removes with one swoop of his spoon the feathery fibres which give the vegetable the latter part of its name. Then he settles down to enjoy every delightful morsel that remains. Indeed, the reward for patience in the initial stages of artichoke eating is a rich one.

Artichokes really aren't vegetables—they are flowers. But they are edible flowers, with a flavor something like that of asparagus. If the artichoke is small, one is served to each person. If large, they are cut in two. In the latter case the chokes may be removed in the kitchen.

When you buy artichokes, select them for roundness and uniformly green scales which cling tightly to the head. If the heads are pointed and the scales spread and gaping, the artichoke will certainly be tougher than you'll like it.

Select artichokes of uniform size, one for each person, unless they are very large. In that case, split the artichokes from top to bottom and make each one serve two. The stems should be cut close to the heads. Drop into boiling, salted water and cook uncovered from 25 to 40 minutes, depending upon size. Test for doneness by pricking the heart, from the bottom, with a toothpick or the tines of a fork. Drain and serve at once with melted butter, hollandaise sauce or another thin sauce. The sauce usually is placed in a small dish on the serving plate or beside it, so that dipping may be done with facility.

Artichokes will be in season for another month, which is good news for artichoke lovers.

PEANUT BUTTER MAYONNAISE IS FINE ON SALADS

The dressing is as much a part of the salad as the salad itself. An unusual new dressing can give a familiar salad a brand new taste. Try this peanut butter mayonnaise on any mild fruit salad, or thin it with a little cream and use it in making cole slaw.

QUICK PEANUT BUTTER MAYONNAISE.

[About 1¼ Cups.]

⅔ cup sweetened condensed milk
¼ cup vinegar or lemon juice
¼ cup salad oil
1 egg yolk
⅓ teaspoon salt
Few grains cayenne
1 teaspoon dry mustard
3 tablespoons peanut butter

Place all ingredients except peanut butter in mixing bowl. Beat with rotary egg beater until mixture thickens. Just before serving blend in peanut butter.

THIS OMELET ISN'T HARD TO MAKE OR TAKE

Omelets are reputed to be hard to cook. It's a reputation which this particular omelet has never deserved. The addition of milk thickened with tapioca accounts for the recipe's fall-proof qualities. You can substitute your own favorite combination of fruits or vegetables for the vegetables suggested in this recipe.

VEGETABLE OMELET.

[Serves Six.]

½ cup peas, cooked or canned
½ cup diced celery, cooked
⅔ cup diced carrots, cooked or canned
2 tablespoons sliced onion
2 tablespoons butter
Dash of salt
Dash of pepper
2 tablespoons quick cooking tapioca
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¾ cup milk
1 tablespoon butter
4 egg yolks, beaten until thick and lemon colored
4 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Cook or reheat peas, celery, and carrots. Sauté onion in butter until tender and add to other vegetables. Season with salt and pepper. Combine tapioca, salt, pepper, and milk in top of double boiler. Cook eight to ten minutes, stirring frequently. Add butter and cool slightly while beating eggs. Add egg yolks and mix well. Fold into stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn into hot, buttered ten inch skillet. Cook over low flame for three minutes, then bake in a moderate [350 degrees] oven for fifteen minutes or until done. Omelet is sufficiently done when cutting knife comes out clean. Place vegetables on half the omelet and fold over. Serve at once.

MARY MEADE'S PARTY HINTS WILL MAKE THAT IMPROMPTU EVENT GO

Everybody enjoys those simple little parties that are so informal as to seem impromptu. But you can be pretty certain they aren't really impromptu. The hostess must give a great deal of thought to all the details, especially to the menu.

A clever woman will work out her own menu ideas or have plenty of helpful cookbooks and menu plans on hand when she gets the party-giving notion.

Several of Mary Meade's booklets were written especially for the hostess who is looking for menu and recipe help. Among them are "Hostessing with Sunday Suppers," "Tips on Tea Parties," "Catering to Bridge Appetites," "Parties for Growing-Ups," "Buffet Suppers and Dutch Lunches," and "Parties for the Bride-to-Be." These booklets sell for 3 cents each, or 5 cents each by mail. Booklets are available at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and in the Tribune Tower lobby. Mail requests should be addressed to Mary Meade.

DUCKLINGS JUST DUCKY WHEN FIXED THIS WAY

Duckling has been featured in many Chicago stores for some time now. It is prepared and baked in much the same way as roast chicken or may be split down the back and broiled. Duckling is not so fat as most domestic mature duck.

ROAST DUCKLING.

Clean and draw; rub salt over surface of cavity and rub outside surface with oil. Larger ducklings [3 to 4 pounds] may be stuffed; smaller ducklings [2 to 3 pounds] may be left unstuffed or stuffed with a stalk of celery, an apple or an onion. Place on rack in an open roasting pan and bake in a moderately slow [325 degrees] oven. Allow 15 to 20 minutes per pound. Baste frequently with drippings. Serve with pan gravy.

BROILED DUCKLING.

Clean and draw duckling and split down the back. Wipe thoroughly with damp cloth. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and rub with oil. Place on greased broiler rack in preheated broiler. Broil at moderate [350 degrees] temperature, allowing 10 to 15 minutes to each side. Use small ducklings, about 2 pounds.

TRY NEW SIRUP WHEN YOU SERVE FRENCH TOAST

French toast is more interesting if you serve it with a sirup different from the one you use on griddle cakes right along. This cranberry sirup proves the point. It's very good on potato pancakes, buckwheat cakes, and waffles, too.

CRANBERRY SIRUP.

[1¼ cups sirup.]

¾ cup jellied cranberry sauce
⅓ cup water
¼ cup sugar

Press cranberry jelly through a sieve and add water and sugar. Heat to boiling point. Serve hot or cold on griddle cakes, waffles or French toast.

It's PURE LARD that gives famous dishes that famous flavor!

"We professional chefs and cooks have our individual quirks, as do most experts. But we do one thing in common. We use Pure Lard to get the richness and flavor for which our foods are famous."

George Rector
Food Consultant, Wilson & Co.

Wherever you go, you will find that the foods you rave about, because they are so rich in flavor, come from a kitchen where lard is used. In fact it is the shortening most commonly used by those who make cooking a profession.

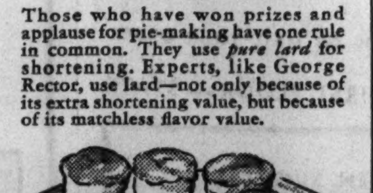
With Wilson's new, modernized, Certified LARD you can definitely improve your cooking and baking—at less cost. Especially, you will notice an improved flavor. Your family and friends will notice the difference, too.

Try Wilson's New Certified Lard. Let just one pound prove what you miss in richness and flavor, when you depend upon shortenings that do not have the natural food qualities of lard. Available at your neighborhood stores in paraffine-protected cartons only. Never in open bulk. Make a taste test today, and save money in the bargain. See your dealer.

FRENCH FRIES
There's a special crispness and flavor together with a toast-like brownness to French Fried Potatoes, deep-fried in Wilson's new, Certified Pure Lard. Nothing excels it in obtaining rich, satisfying flavor. They're digestible and nutritive fried in lard.

WHERE PIE-MAKING IS AN ART

Those who have won prizes and applause for pie-making have one rule in common. They use pure lard for shortening. Experts, like George Rector, use lard—not only because of its extra shortening value, but because of its matchless flavor value.



HOT BISCUITS
Biscuits must be light and fluffy, with a toasty brown top when they come out of the oven. But, in addition, biscuits must have flavor to please the palate. That is why those who are proud of their biscuits will use Wilson's new Certified Pure Lard for shortening.

THE SOUTHLAND'S MOST FAMOUS FRIED CHICKEN

In the Sunny South they know Fried Chicken—and they know how to fry it to perfection. Would it surprise you to know that among the South's leading exponents of Fried Chicken lard is used—to get just the right crispness—and to get just the right mouth-melting flavor?

IT'S SPRINGTIME! CAST OFF WINTER MENU DOLDRUMS

Fruits and Vegetables Are Getting Cheaper.

BY MARY MEADE.

The year's first carload of water melons found its way to the city this week. The shipment emphasizes to Chicago's housewives the fact that spring fruits and vegetables are here and that it's time to get out of the winter menu doldruns.

Pineapple from Cuba is not exactly cheap, but its price is unusually reasonable for this early in the season. However, you'd better wait until next month to get out the preserving kettle if you plan to can pineapple.

Cantaloupe has taken a bit of a drop in price, too. It's not quite such a luxury as it was a few weeks ago. Strawberries remain about the same in price, but those big luscious Louisiana berries featured in many Chicago stores for this week-end are getting around to shortcake quality.

Now's Time for Broccoli.

Bright green, tight-budded broccoli or fine quality is being sold quite reasonably. Green pea prices are getting down to where they should be. So if high prices for this vegetable have been holding you back all winter, now is the time to indulge.

The prices of new onions and tomatoes have dropped this week. Tomatoes are still comparatively high, but you'll be using them in small quantities. Greens, including collards, turnip tops, and mustard greens, are available and are not high priced.

Through the rest of this month asparagus will be everyday stuff. It has been a bit expensive for anything but use as a special treat because of bad weather, but it's suddenly dropped out of the luxury class and is appearing at sale prices in most Chicago stores for the first time. The following general cooking methods are given just by way of review.

BOILED ASPARAGUS.

Select asparagus with unbroken tips, close clinging scales, and stalks that are brittle at the cut end. One pound serves four persons, or makes about two cups of asparagus when cut in pieces and cooked. Cut off the tough ends of the stalk, which may be pared and cooked for use creamed or in soups. Scrub with brush and remove the scales if desired.

To cook whole, tie in a loose bunch and place upright in rapidly boiling salted water which comes half way up the stalks. After ten minutes of cooking in the upright position, turn over to cook the tips. About fifteen to twenty minutes' total time is required. Do not use a cover. Drain and serve with melted butter or any preferred sauce. Asparagus may be cut in one inch pieces and cooked, uncovered, in boiling salted water if desired.

The following recipe contains at least two bargain ingredients—rhubarb and lard—to recommend its use some place in your week-end menus.

RHUBARB COBBLER.

[Serves five.]

1½ cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
3½ tablespoons lard
½ cup milk
3 cups diced rhubarb
⅝ cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon flour
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter

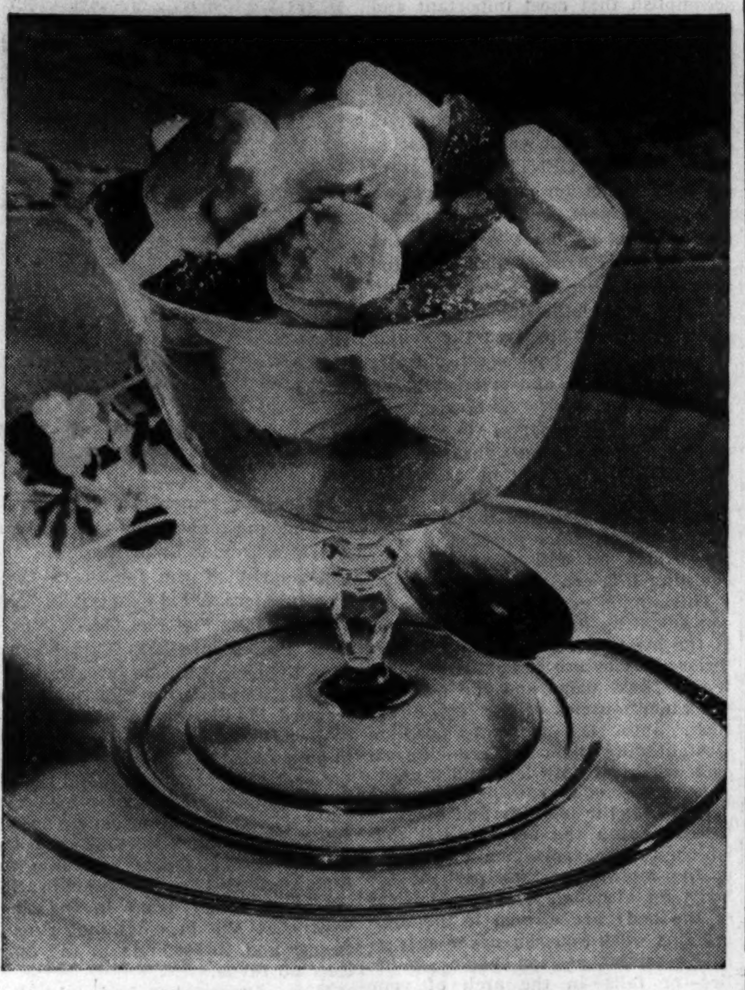
Sift flour, baking powder, and salt together. Cut in shortening with pastry blender or fingers. Add milk slowly, stirring only enough to hold ingredients together. Knead lightly in bowl. Cut rhubarb into one-inch pieces and combine with the sugar, the tablespoon of flour, spices, and one-eighth teaspoon salt. Spread in bottom of greased deep-dish pie plate and dot with butter. Top with dough which has been patted out to fit baking dish. Bake in hot [425 degrees] oven for about fifteen minutes, then reduce heat to moderate [350 degrees] and bake ten minutes longer.

Beef Chuck a Good Buy.

Are you familiar with arm and blade steaks and pot roasts, rolled and boneless neck cuts, chuck pot roasts, shoulder fillets, triangle pot roasts, and the English cut? All these retail meat cuts come from the beef chuck or shoulder. They are always economical cuts and should be unusually reasonable now.

This is one of the less tender cuts and needs to be braised. Chuck makes the best of hamburger and is fine for stews, pot roasts, and Swiss steaks. To cook, sear on all sides in hot fat; add a small amount of hot water [about one-fourth cup to begin with], cover and simmer until tender, adding more water when necessary.

Blends Winter and Summer



This appetizing fruit cup is a perfect transition from winter to summer fruits. It contains avocados, cut in rounds and marinated in slightly salted lemon juice, and sliced bananas for winter fruits. Spring fruits are sliced strawberries and wedges of fresh pineapple. Canned pineapple may be substituted for the fresh fruit. A mixture of the juices from all the fruits included is poured into the cup, too.

MARMALADE PIE EASY TO MAKE, EASIER TO EAT

One of the best things about orange marmalade chiffon pie is that there is no orange rind to be grated or orange juice to squeeze in making it. It's only one of the best things about this pie, of course—the very best thing is the taste.

ORANGE MARMALADE CHIFFON PIE.

[Filling for one 9-inch pie.]

1 tablespoon plain, unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
½ cup hot water
1 cup orange marmalade
¼ teaspoon salt
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
½ cup cream, whipped
1 baked pie shell

Soften gelatin in cold water, add hot water, orange marmalade, and salt. Bring to a boil, stirring well. Chill until mixture begins to congeal. Fold stiffly beaten egg whites and whipped cream into marmalade mixture. Pour into baked pie shell and chill until firm. Garnish with whipped cream just before serving. If marmalade is very tart add ¼ cup sugar to hot mixture.

TRY THE WIENER SCHNITZEL IDEA WITH LAMB CUTS

Lamb in a sour cream and paprika gravy is every bit as good as the same combination with veal, known as wiener schnitzel.

LAMB PAPRIKA.

2 pounds lean shoulder of lamb
2 tablspoons flour
1 tablspoon fat
1 cup hot water
1½ teaspoons paprika
¾ cup thick cream

Have lamb cut into 1 inch cubes. Dredge in flour and brown in hot lard. Add hot water, cover tightly, and let simmer slowly until done, about one hour. Add cream and paprika. Stir until heated through.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

This is the time for all you thin skinned women to give the complexion the spring tonic it needs at this tag end of winter. Our idea of what it should be isn't exactly a bracing tonic in the sense that lavish applications of astringent would be. It's rather a soothing one. In other words, a generous soaking in oils that will repair the damage wrought by wind and cold.

One of our pet oils comes to mind immediately. It's a swell oil, not a bit expensive, and in all the years we've used it to make a crackled, dry skin smooth again it's never let us down. It's a vegetable oil, rather light, and it's to be used exclusively for combating dryness and roughness. It isn't a cleanser. And it's a marvelous massage oil because it doesn't leave the skin greasy.

There are lots of tricks you can work with this oil. Use it on your hands, working it in well, for a night treatment that is practically miraculous. Use it on face and neck after cleansing and let it soak in as long as you possibly can. Use it on your body after bathing at night and let the parched skin soak it up. And for a rollicking anti-dryness treatment mix some of this oil with your favorite lubricating cream and leave the rich blend on for as long spells as your schedule permits.

With all the colds going around, all the high wind, and the quick changes in temperature, dry skins really are taking it these days. The flakes and fine lines are noticeable on some of the best groomed faces. Oiling is essential — and we can't think of a better way to go about it than to use this inexpensive soother.

Junior's Hoop Can Give You a New Figure

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

"Work with a child's hoop," says Prof. De Revuelta, head of a large school for dancing and allied arts. "By varying the hold on the hoop, its position in relation to the body, and its movements, amazing things can be accomplished from the perfecting of movements used in various sports such as golf, tennis, fencing, and swimming; developing grace and sense of balance in dancing and walking, and in both sports and dancing accomplish that most important and difficult feat of all—the coördination of the movements of feet and body."

For correct posture and carriage, he says, borrow Junior's hoop and assume the correct vertical position using only the CENTER muscles of the body. Then, for more correct posture: place legs and feet together and raise hoop above head, resting rim firmly on back of shoulders and neck [the higher the hoop, the harder the pull and the quicker you will reduce]. The hoop gives the center of balance, holds body erect, elevates muscles of chest, and raises sagging shoulders.

To bring internal and external CENTER muscles into use: inhale and HOLD the position taken by the muscles of the abdomen, diaphragm, and posterior muscles, and press hard on inner muscles of legs. Now raise up and down on toes, counting 1, 2, etc.

This simple exercise slenderizes by concentrating on the center muscles of the body; the abdominal and posterior muscles are strengthened, flattening those parts and the push on the inner muscles of the legs forces them into the correct position, straightening them and reducing excess weight of both legs and hips.

It is also the most perfect exercise to strenghten the arch of the foot which, to the sportsman or dancer, is the most important part of his body, for although all other muscles of the body are strong, if the arch remains weak you can never acquire that essential, perfect balance, which lies—or falls—in the arch of your foot.

Without changing your posture, bend at the waist and make a circle with the hoop to the right, over the head to the left, and back to the forward bent position where you have completed the circle. This reduces the waistline.

Engagement

[Bloom Photo.]

MISS ETHEL DIXON.

Interesting romantic news today is the announcement being made by Mr. and Mrs. Homer Laing Dixon of the engagement of the fourth of their six daughters, Ethel Frances, to Alexander Charles Fletcher. Mr. Fletcher is a Bostonian, Yale '33, who has been living in Chicago for about two years. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Fletcher of Boston.

Miss Dixon and Mr. Fletcher plan to be married in June. She was about the first of Chicago's so-called society night club singers, for since making a great hit in the Service club revue, "Stepping High" in 1932 she has sung in several places, including the Blackstone and the Drake hotels. She made her social debut in the same year that she became known as a dancer and comedienne in the Service club revue.

Miss Dixon has one brother, Homer L. Jr. Her five sisters are Mrs. Katharine Dixon Agar, Mrs. Howard Buhse [Virginia Dixon], Mrs. Parker Bryant [Elizabeth Dixon], and the Misses Lucia and Joan Dixon. Ethel Dixon was educated at the University School for Girls and at Westover.

Chicago Hears Prize Symphony by Van Vactor

BY EDWARD BARRY.

David Van Vactor's Symphony in D, the very work which won the $1,000 prize in the New York Philharmonic-Symphony orchestra's 1937-'38 contest, was introduced to an Orchestra hall audience last night by the Chicago Symphony orchestra. The composer conducted.

Mr. Van Vactor is an Evanstonian and a member of the Chicago Symphony orchestra. This slight, agreeable looking young fellow of 32 looked even younger last night as he faced the orchestra and set about his task of acquainting the home folks with the work that he had conducted before a blasé New York audience three months ago.

The new symphony is packed with novel melodic, harmonic, and rhythmic devices. It is distinguished by the most scrupulous workmanship. So novel, in fact, are these devices and so scrupulous the workmanship that a certain suspicion is bound to arise in the listener's mind—the suspicion that the composer may have admitted these devices, and may have worked them out in all their meticulousness without asking himself just what they express. That is, their novelty and the surface logic of their working out may have been deemed sufficient reasons for their admission.

Also, except in such marvelously successful passages as the middle section of the slow movement, the composer neglects to woo the ear with enough sheer beauty of sound—of actual tone. Many of the instrumental effects fail to come off properly. And it is this simple beauty of material which prepares the way for music's assault on the higher faculties.

Mr. Van Vactor and his symphony were cordially received, the audience justly applauding the vigor and virtuosity of much of the work and deciding that its lack of immediate, overwhelming appeal must be ascribed to the difficulty of assimilating such novel fare on a first attempt.

José Echaniz, the Cuban born Basque pianist who appeared as soloist at last Tuesday's concert, returned to play the Liszt A major concerto under Frederick Stock's direction. His performance had glitter, ease, and an immense effectiveness. Sometimes the music itself seemed too blatant even for Liszt, but the soloist managed to make even its worst passages sound not too revolting. And Efrem Kurtz, principal cellist of the orchestra, sang with great beauty of tone the little mammy song which is intrusted to him midway of the work.

Mr. Stock opened the concert with the Moussorgsky Fantasie, "A Night on Bare Mountain," and Honegger's "Pastorale d'Ete." After the symphony and the concerto he closed the program with excerpts from the last act of Wagner's "Siegfried."

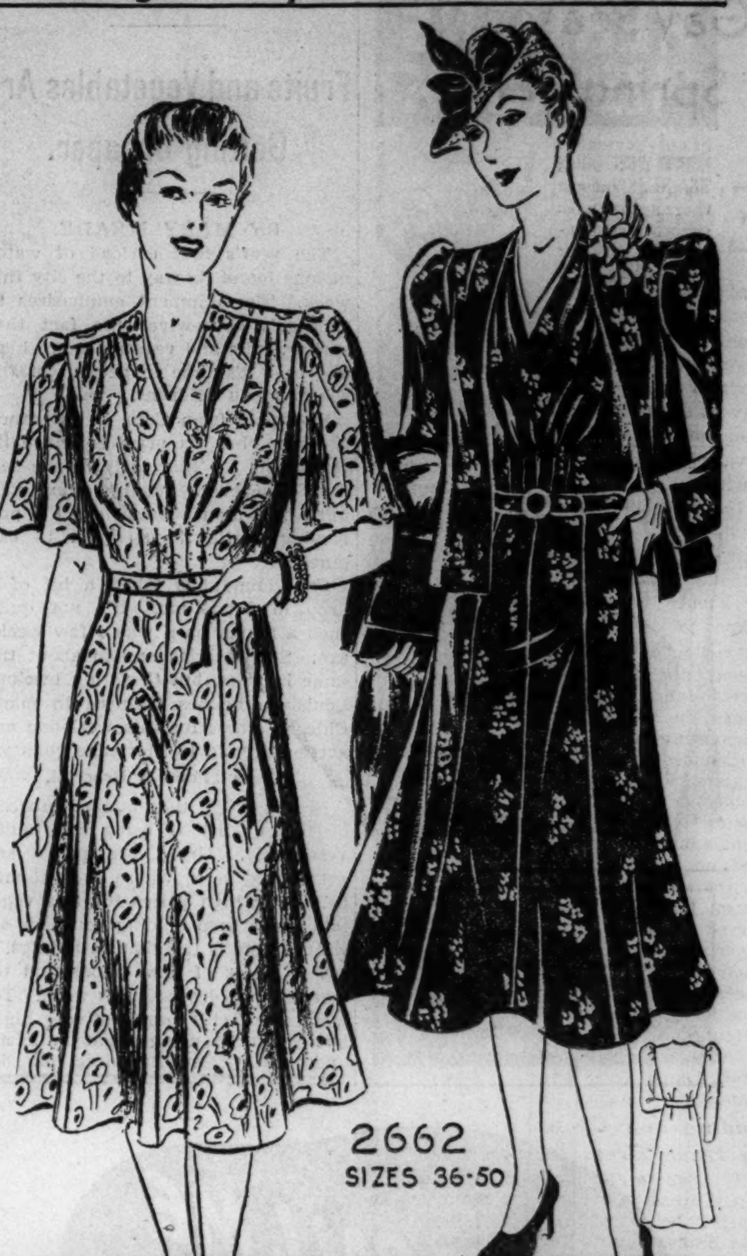
Delightfully Feminine Frock



FROCK FOR WOMEN.

If ever there was a season when femininity had its innings, this is it. Everywhere fashion has forsaken stark, plain, and mannish effects, and has gone in for shirring, flare, and other types of soft detail. The dress illustrated today is designed for the larger silhouette and strives to minimize its faults with, we think, exceptional success.

The V neckline is faced with a bit of contrasting material. The shoulders are broad and beneath them is plentiful shirring to soften the bodice lines. The sleeves are allowed to flow freely, lending flattery to the upper arm. The slim waistline is made particularly slender by means of strategically placed darts. The skirt is paneled for both flare and slenderness.

There is a simple jacket you may make to create of this frock a spring ensemble. It has no collar, and its puffed sleeves are long.

All types of silks and cottons make up well in this pattern, particularly prints.

Style No. 2662 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, and 50 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3⅞ yards of 39 inch material, with ⅝ yard of 18 inch fabric for the neckline facing. The jacket requires 2 yards of 39 inch fabric.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central Station, NEW YORK CITY, inclosing 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Engagements Announced

At a tea on Easter Sunday at home in Evanston Mr. and Mrs. Harold Young Currey announced the engagement of their daughter, Carolyn, to Lane Ladd of Evanston. Miss Currey attended Carleton college. Mr. Ladd attended Antioch college and took his master's degree in business administration at Northwestern university last June. He is engaged in business in Chicago.

At a tea on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. George F. Voris announced the engagement of their daughter, Virginia, to Frank Oberkoetter, son of Mrs. Frank Oberkoetter of Peoria. The wedding will take place in June. After a wedding trip to Colorado Mr. Oberkoetter and his bride will be at home in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Luther Thalman of Wheaton have announced the engagement of their daughter, Jane Messer, to Halvor Gordon Melom, son of Mrs. Emma Jane Melom of Fresno, Cal. The wedding will take place in June and after a wedding trip through the east the couple will make their home in California. Miss Thalman is a graduate of the University of Michigan. Mr. Melom was graduated from the University of California.

Mr. and Mrs. William Baumrucker of River Forest announce the engagement of their daughter, Florence, to John Franklin Fort, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie R. Fort of Plainfield, N. J., and grandson of the late John Franklin Fort, former governor of New Jersey. Miss Baumrucker, who lives at 111 East 75th street, New York, is a graduate of Radcliffe college.

Mr. Fort attended Deerfield academy and La Villa school, Lausanne, Switzerland, and was graduated from Amherst in 1933. He taught at Le Rosey, Rolle, Switzerland, for a year, and was graduated from the Columbia Law school in 1937. The wedding will take place this summer.

Clubs to Open Gay Season of Spring Parties

BY JUDITH CASS.

ENTERTAINMENT committees of several clubs have thrown off their Lenten lethargy. Perhaps it was that during the quiet six weeks before Easter the men and women responsible for the entertainment of fellow members at the Cliff Dwellers, the Saddle and Cycle, the Country Club of Evanston, and the Tavern sharpened their wits and fired their imaginations, and lo, the results give promise of being outstanding parties.

The Cliff Dwellers club is going to have "Le Bal Souvenir de Montparnasse" on Saturday, April 29. The announcements, an amusing mixture of French and English, state that "For your delectation, Les Cliff Dwellers have transformed the clubrooms into the famous Atelier P. de Terre Julien, on the Rive Gauche. When the portals open at 7 o'clock enchanting islands of hors d'oeuvres, set amidst sparkling seas of Strong Waters will await you. Artistes renommes, jolis modeles, pauvres poetes, charmantes Grisettes, will mingle in a mad, merry, milling foule, and no foolin'. All gaily costumed to represent the characters of their secret longings. And dinner will be served precis at 8. . . . Delightful divertissements, which will reach their zenith when our guest of honor, Maestro FREDERICK STOCK in person leads the Guillaumes du Mont [Mountainwilliams, the hillbillies of Montmartre] in a Session de Confiture [jam-session a vous]. Any costume from Boucher to Picasso."

Saddle and Cycle to Have Dress Party.

The Saddle and Cycle is to have a fancy dress party, too, on Saturday, April 22, with "cocktails on the house and dinner at 8." The words of the invitation wind snakily across the page, which is decorated with a white and a black mask, an eye and several stars. "Disguise is obligatory—prize for best disguise—prize for best costume—unmasking at midnight" are some of the phrases that promise a "night of romance."

The Country Club of Evanston is going to have a dinner-dance on Friday, April 21, with a floor show that is certain to be of great interest. For it is to be performed by members, and all the music, lyrics, and dance routines in it are the work of members. Mrs. Roger Sherman [Leslie Wilson] has written a monolog to music which she will give in the manner of Beatrice Lillie. Mrs Edward M. Tourtelot Jr. [Madeline Tripp] has organized a quartet of three men and herself that will sing one of her songs and two by William Porter Sullivan.

Mrs. Tourtelot also will do a girl and boy singing act with Carol Alton Jr. They will sing a song of hers and one written by Charles Hunter Lindsay.

Betty Lindsay Will Sing "Picture Book."

Mr. Lindsay's sister, Miss Betty Lindsay, the star of the show, will sing "Picture Book," a composition by Mrs. Francis G. Fabian Jr., who until last October was Miss Gretchen Hauschild of Minneapolis. She wrote the number to be played at her wedding reception. It is to be staged quite elaborately this time with four or five couples dancing. There also will be two girl choruses.

The Tavern is going to have a party for the new members, but it's for men only, so the wives will have to find other amusement the night of Monday, April 24. The party is to be a "spring muster of the crew." There will be uniforms to mark the Actress' Wit.

Samuel A. Marx, returned from a stay in Bermuda, brings back a story about Gertrude Lawrence, who opens Monday in Chicago in The Skylark. Miss Lawrence had a house in Bermuda last summer. When she was looking for one she received word that she could have a house with gardens, five baths, heat and other considerations, and the gardener and butler for $30,000 for the season. She replied that if they meant $3,000 she would take the house. If not, they should please send photographs of the gardener and butler.

Bodenheim Back.

Maxwell Bodenheim, poet and novelist, colleague of Ben Hecht and Floyd Dell and others of Chicago's literati in the early '20s, is back in town with his corncob pipe and his oral profundities. Bodenheim wrote a number of his books during his residence here: Against This Age, Blackguard, Introducing Irony, Replenishing Jessica. Bodenheim will read from his verse tomorrow evening at a reception in his honor at the home of the Stuart Engstrands at 7 West Walton place, and Jack Conroy, novelist, will read from the work of H. H. Lewis, plowboy poet of the Missouri gumbo.

'Grand Illusion' Is War Story of Prison Camps

"GRAND ILLUSION."

An R. A. C. production.
Released through World Pictures corporation.
Directed and written by Jean Renoir.
Presented at the Apollo theater.

THE CAST.

De Boeldieu	Pierre Fresnay
Von Rauffenstein	Eric von Stroheim
Peasant woman	Dita Parlo
Rosenthal	Dalio
An actor	Carette
A surveyor	Gaston Modot
A soldier	Georges Peclet
A teacher	Edouard Daste

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

"Grand Illusion" is a French production which has been widely discussed and was, I understand, declared by the National Board of Review of Motion Pictures to be "the best film of the year to be produced anywhere." [I don't think that.]

It's a war film, minus actual conflict; a story of men in prison camps. A sad, desperate, eloquent argument against the futility of war. As for the title—what an illusion—that one war will end other wars!

Much of the action takes place in a prison camp. . . . The outstanding characters are Marechal and De Boeldieu, French airmen, and Von Rauffenstein, a German who brings down their plane—and who treats his prisoners with the consideration due their rank.

With De Boeldieu, of his own high caste, he strikes up a comradeship. These two, men of intelligence, appreciate war for what it is . . .

Having almost dug their way out of the prison camp where they are first incarcerated, Marechal, De Boeldieu, and Rosenthal are transferred to a feudal castle and here, now, Von Rauffenstein, incapacitated for further active service, is established as warden. . . .

Events leading up to the escape of Marechal and Rosenthal, and episodes having to do with their stay in the farm home of a German woman who has lost everything in the war but her little daughter—and a cow—are of absorbing and moving interest.

Produced by Alexander Korda.
Released through United Artists.
Directed by Brian Desmond Hurst.
Presented at the Garrick theater.

THE CAST.

Suzanne	Corinne Luchaire
Yvonne	Edna Best
Dr. Georges Marechal	Barry Barnes
Renee	Mary Morris
Mme. Appel	Martita Hunt
Mme. Remy	Elsie Shelton
Mlle. Arthemise	Margaret Yarde
Alice	Lorraine Clewes
Nina	Glynis Johns
Julie	Sally Wisher
Mlle. Renard	Enid Lindsey
Mlle. Pauline	Phyllis Morris
Mlle. Dupont	Nancy Roberts

On the Garrick screen another French production is presented for your consideration.

The tale is concerned with the lives lived by girls in a French house of correction before and after the advent of a humane superintendent.

Corinne Luchaire, a young French actress with looks, poise, and personality, plays a wild young creature who, unjustly sentenced, wars against discipline and is forever trying to escape. . . .

Comes Yvonne, the new superintendent—in love with the reform school's doctor. She would do away with bars and rule the girls through kindness rather than the rod. . . .

Through her intervention Suzanne is taken away from labor and permitted to work in the laboratory.

Does she fall in love with Dr. Georges Marechal—and he with her? I shall let the picture answer that question and also reveal what leads up to and away from a certain romance. . . .

The girls are all excellently portrayed. An outstanding performance is contributed by a little wild cat known as Mary Morris.

Edna Best [formerly Mrs. Herbert Marshall] is charming as the earnest young superintendent. The brutal ladies who have ruled before her time are unsavorily characterized. . . .

The film moves fast and has quite a few laughs.

But I DO hope we're not in for an epidemic of "dead end girls" as the ones in this piece are advertised. Certainly the "dead end" boy market is becoming flooded.

See you soon.

Looking at Hollywood by Ed Sullivan

Listen, Kids.

Hollywood, Cal., April 13.—It arrived in the morning mail from Prof. E. D. Snow, at Port Chester High school, a clipping from the Port Chester Daily Item. . . . He had penciled an arrow pointing to the "Twenty Years Ago Today" feature, and the item said: "Twenty years ago today the senior class at high school held the annual elections. Most popular boy, Laurence Cornwall; most popular girl, Mildred Gregg; most athletic boy, Edward Sullivan, et cetera."

For some reason or other, as you kids will learn as you grow older, you feel always that it was just a few years ago that you were in high school. . . . Then you see yourself listed in a twenty years ago today item, and you get hep to the fact that you're getting along in years.

All over the country there are tens of thousands of youngsters who will sit down after school this week or next and vote in the annual class elections. . . . Perhaps to those of you who are voting a graduate of the class of '18-'19 can tell you of some of the things that will happen in the course of twenty years.

Along the route some old buzzards will sell you a bill of goods on a war, and when the bands start playing it's going to be tough for you to stay out of it. . . . Now, these old buzzards sold some friends of mine a bill of goods back in 1918 and the bands played and the flags waved.

The only ones who weren't fooled by the noise and hurrahs were the mothers, because they could shut their ears to the bands and hear their sons groaning as bayonets were plunged into their stomachs. . . . The old buzzards who promoted the war are still living, most of them, and they'll be living after the next war, because for some reason they never expose their own stomachs to bayonets.

In twenty years since we sat in Miss Jenne's English class and marked our class election ballots I've learned a lot of things. . . . The most important thing I've learned is that this is a short span we live, and at its best difficult. . . . So the best way to live life is to help other wayfarers. . . . Be nice to people, be helpful, be considerate. . . . Consider each person you meet a human being as you are a human being. . . .

Life is much too short for hatreds and bigotries.

Remember that there is nothing too good for your own family, your parents, your sisters, and your brothers. . . . Others will desert you and disappoint you, but your family will be on the sidelines rooting right up to the last whistle. . . . It is more important to be a big guy and an all-right guy with them than any one else, because that's for the record. . . . At times you'll think they're old fashioned and don't understand you, but don't worry, they understand you—and overlook it!

In twenty years you find these things to be true: That religion is good for you. . . . That there are more decent people in the world than stinkers, and that you'll get more help than hindrance. . . . That it's stupid to be dishonest, stupid to be a criminal, stupid to be a liar.

That a crook who steals a dollar could, with less effort, make two honest dollars. . . . That personal honor and reputation are your greatest assets and the law of averages operates in favor of decent people. . . . That success is the most overrated of all mirages, that self-made men would be less boring if they genuflected to lady luck, and that all tombstones read alike.

You'll find, in twenty years, that life is no bed of roses and that you'll get kicked around until the teeth in your head rattle. . . . Yet if you go to the nearest hospital you'll find people so much worse off than yourself that by comparison you're in clover.

At the end of twenty years you'll realize that half of the things you worried about never happened and that you've had an exciting time. . . . It isn't a perfect world, but it's the best we've got, and the journey is worth the headaches and heartaches.

Woman's Place Still Is Not 'in the Home'

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Is it our talk of Victorian clothes and manners, of the "little girl" look, and the turn to femininity plus that, perhaps, may be putting the men in a hopeful notion about woman's place being in the home? That quaint remark seems so out of place today, what with women themselves thinking their place anywhere but in the environment suggested.

Anyway, something's up! On several occasions lately we have heard the men wax eloquent on the time worn theme of woman's place. The last one to speak his mind was Dave Apollon, who dields mighty tunes on his mandolin, the greatest performer in the world on this instrument, it is said. Dave claims to have been around a bit with wide open eyes, and his confessed desire to see women more contented within the sacred walls of home is based on his private observation that there's no stopping their high handed ways when they escape the four walls confines. Indeed, Mr. Apollon sees not the hoped for co-operation plan dreamed by the husband of the woman who works but the woman taking over the reins in true dictator fashion.

Perhaps if the wives would be contented to ride alongside the driver quietly, there wouldn't be discontent. But wanting to take over the wheel, as the gentleman of the house is demoted to the back seat, is what hurts and why men vote for the home as the place for us women.

We are not arguing for or against, knowing well that not many women out of that large body of workers aren't escaping home for the fun of it. They're working because the rent has to be met, insurance kept up, shoes bought for the children.

We are just reporting what goes on in masculine minds as we meet it from time to time. It's probably the "wish" force that is speaking rather than the 1939 reasoning mind.

The Housewife

Now that warmer weather is ahead and windows are opened more frequently curtains are apt to need laundering often. So keep them from flapping against the window screens out the window at night by installing those convenient little metal arms that hold them back.

These rods are about twelve inches long and are adjustable. When not in use they lie along the window frame. When you need them simply pull them out at right angles. Then gather your curtains and lay them back and over the rod. They'll stay in place there even on a windy night, and they'll keep clean much longer. These hold-backs are not at all expensive.

The Blind Side

By Patricia Wentworth

[Copyright: 1939: By Patricia Wentworth Turnbull.]

SYNOPSIS.

Ross Craddock's father turned Craddock House into flats and installed his old maid cousins, Mary and Lucy Craddock, in a flat apiece, on either side of the one occupied by Ross. After Mary's death Lucy prepared to take a trip, despite an order from Ross to vacate her flat because she objects to his attentions to her foolish young niece, Mavis Grey. Their cousin, Peter Renshaw is staying in Mary's flat while he settles her estate. Lucy gives her cousin, Lee Fenton permission to use her flat while she is away. Lee is in love with Peter. Rush, the porter mutters belligerently to Lee against Ross. Mrs. Green, the charwoman, says she is ill and asks Lee for a drink of brandy. That evening Peter prevents Bobby Foster, Mavis' suitor, from making a scene in a night club where Mavis is with Ross. Peter is awakened in the night by a crash. He sees Mavis running from Ross' flat and Ross cut and bleeding. Mavis had thrown a decanter at him. Peter lets Mavis stay the rest of the night in his flat. Later he is again awakened and sees Mavis again coming from Ross' flat. She says she went to retrieve her purse. Lee awakens from a nightmare to find herself covered with blood. Her bloody footprints lead from Ross' door. Lee knows she walks in her sleep. In terror she washes away the blood stains and goes to tell Peter. Ross' valet arrives and finds Ross has been shot and killed. An old maid tenant tells how she saw Mavis coming from Ross' flat twice. Rush turns over to the police a cigaret case he found belonging to Bobby Foster. Lucy, who didn't go away after all, admits coming to Craddock House after 2 a. m. and seeing a figure hurrying out the door and going up to find Ross murdered. She fled after finding Mavis' compact. Lucy tells that Ross was married years before to an actress, that he was never divorced, and had lately stopped paying her. Bobby Foster disappears and he is charged with the murder. Mavis also disappears. Ross' ex-wife is found in Birmingham and she has an alibi for the time of the murder. Bobby Foster calls Peter and begs for a loan. Peter persuades him to give himself up. While Peter is with the inspector Mrs. Green calls. She says there is something she withheld because of fear. The inspector tells her to come right over, but she doesn't appear and can't be found. Peter learns from Lucy that Mary had old photographs of Ross' wife. Peter looks them up and finds one of her in the rôle of a charwoman—the image of Mrs. Green. Her sister is suspected of impersonating her in Birmingham.

INSTALMENT XLI.

A DYING CONFESSION.

"I'm going with you, inspector," said Peter. "Lucinda, lend me a pound. One needs a margin on a wild goose chase. Better make it two, or even three. She may have gone to Jericho. What happens then, inspector? Do we charter an aeroplane? What—a whole fiver? Lucinda how prodigal! By the way, you'd better make Lee go to bed—she's all in." He kissed them both and ran to catch up with the inspector, who had already begun to descend the stairs.

The last of the summer daylight was gone long before their train reached Doncaster. The inspector displayed a most unexpected agility. As the train slowed down, he had the carriage door open and was out upon the platform before it came to rest. He and Peter stood unobtrusively on either side of the exit. A local constable came up, spoke low, and went through into the booking hall.

Some twenty passengers had alighted. There was no one who could possibly have been Mrs. Green.

The slow train came in ten minutes later, and they took up their places again, standing one on either side of the ticket collector, but beyond him so that they were not seen by the passengers as they approached.

Only some half dozen people got out when the train stopped, and four of these were men. Of the two women one was both tall and bulky, with great cushioned shoulders, enormous hips, and a heavy rolling walk.

Last of the six came a woman in a neat dark coat and skirt and a close black hat. Copper curls rolling up from under the brim, an eye veil standing out stiffly like an inverted halo, tinted cheeks, and a bright scarlet mouth—these things held Peter's eye. A picture of Mrs. Green, wispy, bedraggled, and down at heel, rose to the surface of his mind. The woman who was coming toward them along the platform wore thin silk stockings, and shoes with flashy buckles and heels like stilts. He saw Mrs. Green's foot in a bulging shoe with a burst seam.

He looked at the woman in black, and still saw Mrs. Green. It was like an effect in a film—one picture superimposed upon another, both pictures there together, flickering, combining, separating again. He felt horror and the keenest excitement he had ever known For no reason that he could have named he was quite sure that this was not Mrs. Green, who had served her turn and was no more, but Aggie Crouch—Rosalie La Fay—Ross Craddock's wife. No, Ross Craddock's widow—she had most efficiently seen to that.

He looked across at Inspector Lamb. His eyes gave a scarcely perceptible signal as the woman came up ticket in hand. The two of them stepped forward together and blocked her way.

The shock was absolute. It caught her on the peak of her success and knocked her spinning. The risks had all been run, the price had all been paid. She was secure, triumphant, utterly unprepared. And then, right in her path, the inspector whom she had tricked, and Peter Renshaw whom she had left to bear the blame. She stopped, and froze before their eyes. Her chin dropped. The color stood out ghastly on cheeks turned suddenly gray.

The inspector's hand came down on her shoulder. He began to say his piece. "Agnes Craddock, alias La Fay, alias Green, I arrest you——" But he got no farther than that. She wrenched from under his hand, whirled round, and darted back across the platform through the first open carriage door, and, banging it behind her, out on the other side.

Peter stood where he was. He had identified her, but he would do no more. He saw the inspector snatch at the carriage door and climb in. The air was suddenly full of loud commotion and noise—the shriek of a whistle, the roar of an oncoming train. Porters ran, the ticket collector joined them, passengers who had just given up their tickets came streaming back. He saw them run, he heard them shout, and he heard the grinding and clanging of the train which came to rest against the far platform.

"It got her!" he said, and leaned against the wall. "Ran right in front of it she did, and it caught her and knocked her flying. I dunno if she's dead or not, but I'm to ring up for the ambulance." He wiped his face with his sleeve and stumbled through into the ticket office.

Peter Renshaw came back to Craddock house on the Sunday afternoon. He thought, "Well, it's all over now. Bobby's safe, and I don't give a dam whether Mavis is safe or not. No need to either, Mavis being very well able to look out for Mavis Grey." He thought, "Lee and I can get married. I can take her right away out of this, and I hope to heaven we never see Craddock House again."

He rang the bell of Lucy Craddock's flat, and when Lee opened the door he picked her up and held her close, and didn't say a word.

When they were in the sitting room he said in an odd, unsteady voice, "Where's Lucinda?" And Lee said:

"She's lying down. I think she's asleep."

They stood looking at each other. Lee's lips trembled.

She said, "Why don't you tell me what has happened?" And Peter said:

"It's all over—she's dead. It's a good thing—better than being hanged. When she saw old Lamb and me she lost her nerve and bolted—right under a train. Horrid business. They got her to a hospital, and she was able to make a statement. Old Lamb says she was as clear as a bell. She dictated a confession. I've got a copy of it here. Come and sit down."

He took out a number of folded typewritten sheets. She sat down on the sofa. Peter sat beside her. They read the confession together.

"My name is Agnes Sophia Crouch. My stage name is Rosalie La Fay. I married Ross Craddock at the Marlyebone register office on August 25th, 1917, when he was over from France on ten days' leave. That was the only time we lived together. When he came home after the armistice he'd had enough of me. He said so. Said he'd been a fool to marry me. Said I was older than him.

"His father didn't like it, but he played up. There wasn't anything against me, and so I told the lawyer. And old Mr. Craddock made me an allowance. It was three hundred a year to start with, but when the depression came he cut it down. And then he cut it again, and when he died Ross brought it down to twenty-five, and then this last year he stopped it altogether. Well, I wasn't going to stand for that.

"I thought I'd come up to London and smell round a bit. I thought I'd manage it so that no one would know. I left my room in Doncaster, and I got my sister Annie—she's Mrs. Love, and a widow—to take a room in Birmingham and call herself Miss La Fay. There's enough likeness for a description of one of us to fit the other. But first and last, all Annie knew was that I'd got business in London and didn't want anyone to know I was there. She thought I was getting a divorce, and she sent my letters on to me care of the postoffice. She didn't know anything more than that."

Child Senses Respect to His Intelligence

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

In trying to help earnest but puzzled mothers whose little boys and girls are showing marked signs of stubbornness, our column has been devoted to the subject for two days.

As you know, it's infinitely easier to prevent a thing than to cure it. That holds for stubbornness as well as for other behavior. But, cure or prevention, two procedures we recommended yesterday were, first, treating even your very small child as if he were an intelligent human being, which he is. If you start that way when you first get your new puppy, he begins to get the idea.

That was one suggestion. The other was that you grant him every possible desire, within reason and based on a true understanding of his needs. On the chance that you, perhaps, being an inexperienced mother, would like me to go further and explain just what I mean by this advice, I will.

Let's take the first idea today.

To treat your child as an intelligent human being you must be convinced that he is one. Then you'll respect that intelligence and you'll find yourself spontaneously doing things to develop it. You'll find yourself doing things such as this:

You'll find yourself asking your child to do things, not ordering or commanding. You know, you'll speak as you would to a friend, and how that clears the way!

Doesn't it irk you when any one assumes the tone of a superior officer? It starts up your resistance at once. Then why do it with a child? Your voice when you ask pleasantly can still be effective, because it will hold a taken-for-granted tone. Children don't mind that kind decisiveness, they like it. They know then "where they're at." They don't want to make decisions about every little thing. We know best and it's up to us to put over what we want with the least possible fuss, and with the nicest possible feeling.

If you know your child's intelligent you'll make clear, when it's reasonable and he can understand, why you ask what you do. After a while he'll have faith in your requests. And in time you'll even gain unquestioning obedience when the situation requires it.

One last thing in this connection. You will answer your child's questions. This is a new world and you're his key to it. He can't unlock its mysteries alone.

Hits WPA Art Project for Aid to Bad Painting

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The fiftieth anniversary exhibition of the Chicago Society of Artists has opened at 227 North Michigan avenue to continue to April 22. It is much as previous exhibits by this society have led us to anticipate—the walls are hung with modern art, much of it poor painting rather than modern. Particularly is this true of the various contributions from the Federal Art project. It is irritating to have brought home so graphically the mediocrity of talent and inspiration that public money is both supporting and encouraging.

If you can overlook the WPA pseudo-art, there are several adequate paintings in the exhibit, paintings which would count as good work in any company. There are "Old Blacksmith Shop" by Tunis Ponsen, "Winter Landscape" by Norman McLeish, "Still Life" [of English walnuts and a brown paper bag] by Maurice Ritman, "Front Porch in Winter" by Laura Van Pappelendam, "Living Quarters" by Oscar Van Young, "Composition" [exquisitely painted] by Macena Barton, "In the Spring of the Year" [one of his loveliest] by Emil Armin, and "Summer Storm" by Frances Foy.

The exhibition is amusing, when it is not depressing, because of the multiple presence of weird and incredible compositions. If these Chicago moderns had ability and talent their flights into the beyond might afford a certain amount of pleasure, but as it is their extravagancies are handicapped by their limitations.

Flora Schofield has a one man exhibit of her paintings at the Cordon club. When I went to see them I found a group of visitors looking busily. The best they had to say for them was: "I don't like them, do you?" Well, I don't—either; do you? And this is not because Mrs. Schofield is not a persistent and energetic painter. She is. She wins prizes. She gets into all kinds of shows. However, her painting is modern, dry, dull, more than a little monotonous in color variety. At present she seems to see objects perpendicularly, which gives her paintings a singularly squeezed and narrow look. However, you may like them.

Nellie V. Walker, one of Chicago's most gifted sculptors, has a difficult time of it when it comes to an exhibit. One simply cannot transport large marbles to a little gallery. The Tudor gallery, Chicago Woman's club, is doing the only thing possible in giving Miss Walker an exhibit by showing photographs of many of her more brilliant and lovely compositions. Sharing the gallery is Florence Gray with a little group of wood carvings and small sculpture. It is a nice show.

No more dry skin

Dry, harsh, and lined skins respond to the rare balsamic oils in Helena Rubinstein's NOVENA NIGHT CREAM. Leave it on overnight, let the rich oils return soft, silken smoothness to your skin. 2.00.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

"How much did you lose this evening, darling?" was Mrs. Dub's greeting to Mr. Dub, on his return from his favorite bridge club.

"Two dollars and ninety cents," Mr. Dub admitted with a deep sigh. "I had the rottenest cards! Held only one good hand all evening, and let me show you the break I got on that one!" He laid out the following hand:

"South, dealer.
"Both sides vulnerable.
"North-South, 60 part-score.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 heart	1 spade	2 hearts	Pass
2 spades	Pass	3 clubs	Pass
3 diamonds	Pass	4 hearts	Pass
6 hearts	Pass	Pass	Double
Pass	Pass	Redouble	Pass
Pass	Pass

"I was South," Mr. Dub explained. "I think you will agree, my pet, that this was one time I didn't overbid and that the six heart contract we reached was more than justified. But look at those five hearts that East had! I did the best I could to make the contract, in spite of the horrible break, but, of course, I couldn't. West opened the club ace and shifted to a spade. I put up dummy's ten on the wild hope that it would hold the trick, but East covered with the queen and I had to win with the ace. Then I laid down the heart ace to see how bad a trump break I was going to get—and I saw, all right! I overtook the club queen and led the club jack. East discarded a spade and I did likewise. I led the club ten and East ruffed, so I overruffed. I then led the jack and ten of hearts, overtaking in dummy, and pulled East's last heart by leading dummy's king. On the third heart I threw a diamond, and on dummy's fifth club I threw another diamond. So all I needed now was the successful diamond finesse. But, of course, I couldn't be that lucky! West had the king and I was down one. On the next hand the opponents went game and rubber, and that ended a lovely evening."

I don't know what Mrs. Dub had to say about all this. Perhaps she clucked sympathetically, but I do know that Mr. Dub passed up a beautiful opportunity.

After winning the second trick with the spade ace and, at the third trick, laying down the heart ace, thereby discovering the horrible trump break, Mr. Dub should have given earnest consideration to the probable lay of the diamond king. He should have reasoned that West's spade bid, which had been shown to be jack high, was almost certainly bolstered by the possession of the diamond king, as well as the club ace already led. East's double of the slam had obviously been predicated on his partner's overcall and his own holding of five trumps. The diamond king would be neither necessary to, nor a material part of, such a double, since it would lie under South's diamond bid.

Having decided that all the evidence favored West's holding the diamond king, Mr. Dub should have played as follows: Before leading to dummy's club suit, he should have cashed the spade king. Admittedly, this play would risk a ruff on East's part; that is, West might well have held a six card spade suit. But that was a risk that would have to be taken in order to play against the diamond king in the West hand. After cashing the spade king, the club queen should have been led to dummy and overtaken, and now on the club jack it would do East no good to discard. He might as well trump. Mr. Dub would overtrump, then cash the heart jack and overtake the ten spot to draw East's last trump with dummy's king, while he, himself, discarded his low spade. The two good clubs now would be led and Mr. Dub would discard his four and nine of diamonds. With two cards left in all hands, dummy's would be a spade and the diamond jack. East's would not matter. Mr. Dub's holding would be the A-Q of diamonds. West would be "up the creek." He would have to hold a spade to overlay dummy's remaining spade, hence would have to blank the diamond king. Thereupon, Mr. Dub would lead dummy's diamond jack and triumphantly go up with the ace, to drop the king and establish the queen.

I venture to say that Mr. Dub's $2.90 loss would have been amply covered if he had fulfilled this one contract.

The Younger Set Goes to Dances in Doll Dresses

BY RHEA SEEGER.

The sentimental dance dress designers have launched some more heart breakers . . . this time, "doll dresses." Living up to the label, they come in fragilly thin, crisp cottons, old-fashioned materials like lawn dimity, swisses, and sheer organdies.

Added to the lure of lawn are the yards of beading through which a busy modern girl is supposed to string a new ribbon every time the dress is worn! And shades of our swooning ancestors, these dresses are further embellished with lace edged flounces, short puffed sleeves, and a waistline that takes a sash of angelic hue to match the narrow ribbon in the beading.

Bodices are the snuggest scraps of material yet fastened to a wide and billowing skirt. Square cut necklines fore and aft have the same fetching whiffs of fine lace and embroidered edgings. See these late arrivals and you'll gladly trade two of your shirtwaist whimsies for one of the doll creations. This loot, of course, is destined for the very young streamlines. They're the girl graduate type of things; fresh, winsome, wistful; the sort of thing doting mothers have been trying to force on protesting offspring for years as something "picturesque" and fitting.

The poor darlings [the mothers] are in for a good shock this spring. . . . Not a single dissenting report will mar the smoothness of a shopping expedition. These "doll dresses" are new, superflattering, and potential stag line shakers. The younger set will take them out of circulation with record breaking speed.

various grades in members—"gobs," warant officers and admirals—and they will be provided by "the management."

South Shore Follies to Be Given Tonight.

The South Shore Country club will be unusually gay tonight and tomorrow night. The annual South Shore Follies will be given.

Mrs. Fred Herendeen returned from Bermuda just in time to arrange a large party for the show, which her talented husband has written and produced.

Because every one who attended the recent barn dance at the Vassar House restaurant had such a good time the committee has arranged another one for tonight. Any comfortable clothes, slacks, overalls, etc., will be in order. A corn husking contest will be one of the features of the party and the winner may kiss the prettiest girl. A cow will be brought in for a milking contest.

Websters Entertain for Daughter Today.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sanger Webster of Kenilworth will entertain at a cocktail tea today for their daughter, Inez, and her fiancé, Dr. George Emerson, son of Dr. and Mrs. George Edward Emerson of Boston. The marriage probably will take place in the fall.

Mrs. William Brooks Greenlee and Mrs. Frederic W. Upham are entertaining for the three women's boards of the Children's Memorial hospital at a tea at 4:30 o'clock today at the Casino. Mrs. John P. Wilson, president of the women's boards, and Arthur G. Cable, a member of the board of directors, will speak.

Guild Auxiliary

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

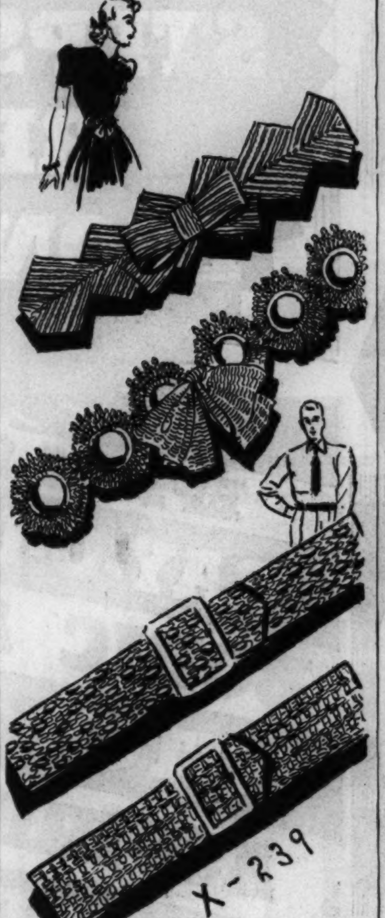
Crochet Design Fashions Belts for Spring Wear



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Crocheted belts may be worn with other ensembles as well as with crocheted outfits, and they may be substituted for lether or fabric ones. Men's belts usually are crocheted of a strong carpet warp, linen or crochet cotton. Women's belts may be made of the same materials and also of crêpe, mercerized cotton, or heavy eight ply cotton material which has the appearance of wool.

For the instructions in crocheting the four belts, No. X-239, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Central Eleanor Club.

The Central Eleanor club will hold a membership meeting tonight. Dinner will be served from 5:15 to 7 o'clock.

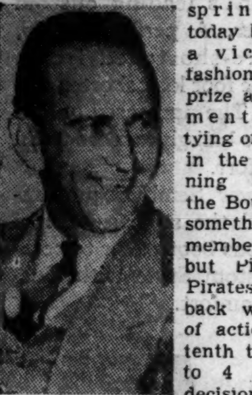
PIRATES BEAT COMISKEY CLUB IN TENTH, 5 TO 4

Pound Dobernic to Break Tie.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]



Luke Appling.

Owensboro, Ky., April 13.—The White Sox concluded the traveling portion of their spring training today but not in a victorious fashion. Their prize accomplishment was the tying of the score in the ninth inning to afford the Bourbon belt something to remember them by but Pittsburgh's Pirates bounced back with a lot of action in the tenth to win a 5 to 4 exhibition decision. It was the National leaguers' third triumph in seven engagements with the Chicagoans.

The setback, which left the Sox ahead, 10 to 9, in their pre-season toil against major competition, can be charged principally to a couple of turbulent innings involving Bill Dietrich, owner of the arm which was operated on sixteen months ago and still remains a problem. The bespectacled fellow had a shaky first inning, in which one scored, and a stormy sixth that saw three Pirates skip across the plate. Then Thornton Lee southpawed effectively for two innings, after which came Rookie Jess Dobernic, who lost the decision in the tenth.

Cy Is Quite a Pitcher.

There was some excuse for the Sox not hitting properly during the Dietrich régime. The excuse was Cy Blanton, who was trying out his dreaded curve preparatory to opening the season for the Pirates at Cincinnati next Monday. Five innings convinced the curly haired expert, who previously had pitched a full no-hit battle against the Cleveland Indians, that he was ready for the honorary assignment. During his tenure there were only five Sox hits and one run, the latter being the result of a drive hoisted over the fence by Luke Appling. In the five remaining innings the American leaguers did a big batch of hitting against Bob Klinger, but most of the time failed to produce in the pinches.

The Sox climbed toward a tie on a pass to Henry Steinbacher and singles by Gerry Walker and Appling in the eighth. They finally got the tie in the ninth because of extra base help from both Mike Tresh and Al Bejma, but during the course of this rally Lee was yanked for a pinch hitter. This alteration brought Dobernic into the picture and, while he was good enough to get by in the ninth, he was plastered in the tenth. Young's single, a double by Brubaker, an intentional pass to Mueller, and a single by Klinger broke up the show.

Handley Is Improving.

Manager Pie Traynor of the Pirates received encouraging word today on the condition of Third Baseman Lee Handley, who was beaned in last Sun-

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

THE Chicago Bears and Chicago Cardinals report such a heavy demand for showings of the National Professional Football league's new film, "Champions of the Gridiron," that the picture is booked solidly through April, May, June, and part of July. . . . Application will be made for additional prints to take care of the requests pouring in from schools, clubs, and other organizations. . . . The Cubs are flirting with the idea of sponsoring a city-wide baseball school now that the bars are down against major league clubs signing sandlot players. . . . Chicago boys with promise of making good in the big leagues occasionally slip away from the home town clubs. . . . One of them is Phil Masi, the Boston Bees' young catcher, who looked so good in spring practice that Manager Casey Stengel sold his veteran, Al Todd, to Brooklyn. . . . One of the elephants in the circus at Chicago Stadium was born in Forbes field, Pittsburgh, twenty-eight years ago and was named Honus Wagner after the Pirates' great shortstop. . . . Its name later was changed to Jennie for reasons you already know, assuming that only intellectual giants read these pages. . . . At the suggestion of William Benswanger, president of the Pirates, Connie Mack is said to be eying a California training site for the Athletics in 1940. . . . This would make possible a strictly major league exhibition program among the Cubs, Sox, Pirates, and Athletics. . . .

Two former Purdue ends recently landed jobs as assistant football coaches. . . . Paul Calvert has been signed by Colgate and Emmett Lowery by Oxford university in Ohio. . . . Tug Wilson, Northwestern's athletic director, plans to shift his office to Dyche stadium this summer while Patten gymnasium is being moved to its new site. . . . George Franck, fastest of Minnesota's backfield men last fall, is out for track this spring to develop more speed. . . . The size of the crowd at Comiskey park on Monty Stratton day Monday will help to determine how much sentiment there is in baseball. . . . Seldom have fans been presented with so fine an opportunity to show their appreciation for a player's achievements. . . . For Stratton this may be his last thrill in the sport to which he had dedicated his life. . . . We hope it will be one he will remember always.

Crowding the Hero Bench.

Uncivil War Notes.

Who cares what Jack Thorne said about us in the Line Monday? The important thing is that he had to mention the Wake in order to make the Line. Being in the "back room," as he calls the Wake, is a lot more fun than trying to find Chicago's first robin or oldest tree or shortest street, especially in the weather we've been having. And in the Wake you do meet an awful lot of wits, which is better than meeting a lot of awful wits anywhere else. —Dorothea.

Through the Years.

In life we start with a lullaby,
Mother sings it soft and sweet,
Our warm little body is pressed
Close to her as we drift off to sleep.

In childhood our songs are changing,
It's a chant to an innocent game,
Whether it's hide and go seek or skipping the rope,
It's play music just the same.

In college the tempo is different,
The cheer leader's tune you hear,
As she spurs the team onto victory,
It's the greatest game of the year.

In youth we're lost in romance,
The music is simply divine;
I knew that I loved her all the while,
Now she's going to be mine.

In old age the music is wistful,
We often are looking through tears,
But I'm glad I've heard all the music
From babyhood down through the years. —Anne Jesty Rogers

Boston Beats Toronto, 2 to 0; 3d Cup Victory

TORONTO, Ont., April 13.—(AP)—Two goals by young Roy Conacher, one early in the first period and the other in the third, gave the Boston Bruins a 2 to 0 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs tonight in the fourth game of the Stanley cup hockey playoffs.

A crowd of 14,173 watched the 22 year old representative of an illustrious Toronto hockey family all but crush their hopes of winning the series. Trailing now three games to one, the Leafs must win all the remaining games, with the scene shifting to Boston Sunday night.

Mel Hill, scoring hero of Boston's semi-finals with the New York Rangers, aided Conacher in both goals and Bill Cowley drew an assist on the second.

Although Boston chose to play cautiously, Conacher scored his first goal with only two minutes of the game gone when Bingo Kampman was in the penalty box.

Boston's second goal came as Hill relayed a pass out of a scramble in center ice and Conacher took it on the run, bearing down within ten feet of Goalie Turk Broda and firing into the same corner of the nets his first goal hit.

Fight Decisions

At Chicago Coliseum—Tony Musto beat Lem Franklin [10]; Milt Aron beat Milo Theodorescu [7]; Paul Hartnek and Henry Wacker drew [10]; Dick Kist knocked out Wilbur Dunn [2]; Al Reiss stopped Mickey Hayes [3].

At New York—Pedro Montanez beat Bucky Jones [8]; John Thomas beat Billy Lancaster [6].

MUSTO DEFEATS FRANKLIN; ARON ALSO TRIUMPHS

BY FRANK MASTRO.

Tony Musto and Milt Aron, products of Chicago Golden Glove tournaments, slugged their way to victory in the Coliseum last night.

Musto pounded out a ten round decision over Lem Franklin, also a Golden Gloves alumnus, and Aron was awarded a verdict over Milo Theodorescu, claimant of the European 147 pound title. Aron's victory came when his rival from overseas was prevented from coming out for the eighth round because of a cut eye. The decision reverted to the seventh round.

The most exciting fight on the card in the opinion of the near capacity crowd of 8,219 was the one between Aron and Theodorescu. These spectators, who contributed gross receipts of $14,436, went wild as Theodorescu sent Aron spinning from one side of the ring to the other in the first two rounds.

Milo Fights Back.

Aron found the range in the third with several rights to the face, but Milo came back in the next round to hold Milt on even terms. Aron forged to the front in the fifth and in the sixth a right opened a cut over Milo's left eye. In the seventh Aron staggered his foe with a terrific right to the jaw. After examining Milo's injury between rounds the referee called a halt, giving Aron the decision.

It was Aron's seventh consecutive triumph.

Though the grudge aspect was present throughout the Franklin-Musto meeting, the fight itself did not live up to advance expectations. After the first two rounds, when Franklin drove his roly-poly opponent to the ropes with rights to the heart and ear, big Lemuel's best wallops went amiss. Musto repeatedly fought his way into close quarters and drummed on his antagonist's stomach with both hands.

Franklin Starts Fast.

As the bout opened Franklin rushed Musto to the ropes and punished him with a series of rights to the head and body. When Musto covered up and refused to retaliate, Referee Behr halted the bout and inquired of Musto: "Do you want to fight?" Musto replied by throwing both hands at Franklin's head. At the end of the round Musto went to his corner on rubbery legs.

They exchanged rights and lefts for nearly a minute in a neutral corner in the second round. A barrage of blows made Franklin winch. He countered with a right which set Musto back on his heels. In the third Musto scored with several punches to the face and stomach which made Franklin hold on, but Musto caught a right on the nose as he rushed in.

Musto bewildered Franklin with his unorthodox style in the fourth and fifth rounds. In the sixth the men were so weary they could hardly raise their arms.

Hartnek, Wacker Draw.

In the first ten round contest of the card Paul Hartnek, Omaha heavyweight, surprised the fans by holding Henry Wacker of Taylorville, Ill., to a draw. Hartnek, who outboxed Lem Franklin in their Golden Gloves final two years ago, demonstrated that he still is a difficult target for a damaging wallop.

Referee Walter Brightmore voted for Wacker, 54-46; Judge Ed Hintz scored for Hartnek, 52-48, and Dr. E. Allen Frankel, the other judge, called it a draw. Hartnek weighed 185 pounds, twelve less than Wacker.

Dick Kist, former Danville, Ill., sectional Golden Gloves welterweight winner, knocked out Wilbur Dunn of Fond du Lac, Wis., in the second round of a scheduled five round bout. Kist had his hands full before sending Dunn to the canvas for the count with a left to the body in 1:24 of the round.

And Here, Fans, Is What You've Been Waiting For

Catching is NOT one of the Cubs' worries. These three are expected to give the National league champions a staff second to none. BURMAN SPOILS FARR'S RECORD; LOSES TO HIM

LONDON, April 13.—(AP)—Tommy Farr, one time British heavyweight champion, celebrated his homecoming at Harringay stadium tonight by winning a twelve round decision from Red Burman of Baltimore. Farr weighed 205½ pounds to Burman's 186½.

The victory broke a string of five defeats Farr absorbed during two years in the United States. One of these defeats was a ten round decision for Burman.

The crowd of 11,600, including Jimmy Roosevelt and Henry Armstrong, saw Farr send Burman staggering against the ropes time after time in the third, fourth, and fifth rounds. On the Associated Press score card Farr won seven rounds, Burman three, and two were even. The American's rounds were the second, ninth, and eleventh.

RIGNEY PITCHES AGAINST LEE IN WRIGLEY FIELD

North Siders Seek Seventh Victory.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Cubs and White Sox, who have clashed ten times in 1939 in the California and Great American desert phases of their spring exhibition season, this afternoon move their show into the home town. The Cubs, with Bill Lee pitching, will be hosts in Wrigley field to the Sox, who will start off with Johnny Rigney, and carry on with Jack Knott.

The Cubs enjoy a 6 to 4 edge on their adversaries but the ratio has not established the Cubs in an arrogant mood. They remember how helpless they were before Ted Lyons and Thornton Lee in the tenth game of the series in El Paso, Tex., on April 5. The National league champs took a 4 to 1 licking that day. And they rate Rigney, today's starter, a tougher pitcher than either Ted or Thornton.

The Cubs Want to Win.

By taking the game today, the Cubs would be assured of an even break in the spring series. To take the pre-season series, as per a once habitual practice, the Sox must win all four games remaining on the calendar. They think they can do that little thing. The Cubs say such an outcome is ridiculously impossible. But the point is the Sox have to stay in there, starting today.

The weather man appears to be going along with plans for a big week-end of baseball, with a climax in the Monty Stratton day in Comiskey park Monday. Things warmed up yesterday with a 27 degree jump in temperature over Wednesday and another jump in the right direction is assured for today, though the meteorologist fellows didn't seem certain they could deliver as much sun as the Cubs had yesterday for their homecoming drill in Wrigley field.

The Boys Are Ready.

The Cubs got home at 9 o'clock yesterday morning and worked out from 12 o'clock till 2. Aside from several bad cases of sniffles, the lads apparently were suffering no ill effects from their ice carnival with the St. Louis Browns in Kansas City Wednesday.

Dick Bartell, ailing Cub shortstop, was in uniform. He exercised gently, much after the fashion he practiced after his release from the Avalon hospital on Catalina Island and the Hollywood hospital in Los Angeles several weeks ago. Just when he'll be in the lineup remained problematical. Manager Gabby Hartnett is not expecting him to be able to play in the National league opener in Wrigley field next Tuesday, but Dick, convinced that his ankle bruise, or whatever it is, is all right, is clamoring for action, he says.

Charley Drake, the Cub sick bay bulletineer, announced late yesterday that Augie Galan, another of the Cub casualty lads, will be permitted to leave Illinois Masonic hospital and don a uniform today, provided the weather turns out to be as warm as advertised.

Dizzy's No Invalid.

Dizzy Dean whose ranking as the Cubs' outstanding invalid has been challenged by Bartell and Galan, said after yesterday's workouts that he didn't want his name in any of Mr. Drake's clinical brochures for the simple reason that he no longer considers himself an invalid. Diz will start the Stratton day game, as Gabby Hartnett announced last January with tongue in cheek. Dean's arm is not strong, because of pampering, he claims, but he's no invalid, remember that.

Monty Stratton will arrive in Chicago from his Texas home this morning and will accompany the Sox to the game in Wrigley field.

The starting lineups today will present several players local fans have not seen in Chicago costumes. These include Eric McNair of the Sox and Gus Mancuso, Hank Leiber, Jim Gleeson, and Steve Mesner of the Cubs.

COLONELS WIN, 3-2, AS BREWERS GET ONLY 2 HITS

Johnson's Homer Spoils Shutout for Wagner.

Louisville, Ky., April 13.—(AP)—The Louisville Colonels, behind the two hit pitching of Charley Wagner, defeated the Milwaukee Brewers, 3 to 2, today in the opening game of the American association season before 9,598. A walk to Heath and R. Johnson's homer over the right field fence in the seventh deprived Wagner of a shutout. The other safety off Wagner was a single by Zydowski in the fifth.

The Colonels, held to four hits by Ken Jungels and Les Willis, who hurled one inning, scored all of their runs in the first on an error by Mattick, a single by Morgan, a double by Spence, which tallied Mattick and Morgan; a walk to Reese, and a double steal on which Spence scored.

ILLINI GYMNASTIC TEAM IS FAVORITE IN NATIONAL MEET

University of Illinois gymnasts, led by Capt. Joe Giallombardo, are favorites to repeat their recent Western conference victory and dethrone the University of Chicago as national champion in the 1939 N. C. A. A. meet tomorrow night. It will be held in Bartlett gymnasium, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Giallombardo is considered a sure bet to retain his tumbling title, although his flying rings championship is endangered by Delver Daly, Big Ten champion from Minnesota, and Norman Parrish of Southern California.

Paul Fina, another Illinois performer, is among the favorites in the horizontal bar events. Fina also has been outstanding on the parallel bars, but probably will not be able to upset Capt. Erwin Beyer of Chicago, defending champion.

Illinois' third potential first place winner is Harry Koehneman, who recently won the side horse event in the Big Ten meet. Beyer of Chicago is the defending champion.

The 20 foot rope climb, an event rarely included in collegiate gymnastic meets in this part of the country, will be an added feature.

Ray Belardi of Army, who has equaled the world's record in this event, is the favorite. Belardi has lifted himself the 20 feet in three and eight-tenths seconds to tie the world mark. His chief competition will come from Bob Sears, another West Pointer, who won in last year's national meet.

Southern California, with potential point winners in every event but the horizontal bar, is the most likely team to spring a surprise. James and William Roberts have the parallel bars, tumbling, long horse, and side horse events well in hand.

ILLINOIS, INDIANA OPEN BASEBALL SEASON TODAY

Bloomington, Ind., April 13.—[Special.]—Indiana university's sophomore baseball team will meet Illinois here tomorrow and Saturday in a two game series which will open the Big Ten season for both teams.

The Hoosiers, defending Big Ten co-champions, will have five newcomers in the lineup. Illinois, always a factor in the title chase, again is one of the favorites, having a veteran club.

Coach Paul Harrell of Indiana has selected Dale Gentil as starting pitcher for the first game. Carol Cox probably will start Saturday.

WESLEYAN NINE GETS CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION BID

Bloomington, Ill., April 13.—[Special.]—The Illinois Wesleyan baseball team has been asked to take part in the celebration of baseball's centennial anniversary at Georgetown, N. Y., in June, Fred Muhl, acting director of athletics, announced today. Wesleyan will play Cornell university of Ithaca, N. Y. The probable date of the contest is June 15.

En route east the Titans may meet Ohio Northern, and there is a possibility that the University of Virginia will also be played at Cooperstown.

Pleasant and Novak Win; in Semi-Finals

San Francisco, Cal., April 13.—[Special.]—Golden Gloves boxers from the east and middle west continued to score as the National A. A. U. boxing tournament reached the semi-final stage tonight. Among the winners were two Chicago glovers, Johnny Pleasant, lightweight, and Tony Novak, heavyweight.

Pleasant gained a decision over James Edgar of Detroit, while Novak pounded out a three round victory over Lewis De Weese of Kent, O.

John Forte, flyweight of the New York Golden Gloves team, set the early pace by knocking out Nick De Posta of Stockton, Cal., in the first round and Beebe Rich of Kansas City, Mo., maintained it when he won a decision from Allen Ritchie of New Orleans, La. In another bout for 112 pounders José Mercado of Honolulu beat Eldon Chadek of Omaha, Neb.

Bill Speary of Philadelphia, A. A. U. and Golden Gloves bantamweight champion, went on by defeating Eddie Yasui, Japanese from Honolulu, and Bill Eddy of Flint, Mich., A. A. U. featherweight title holder, rallied in the second round to defeat Thomas Campbell, Kansas City Negro. John Farren, South Boston, Mass., also reached the 126 pound semi-finals by gaining a decision over Ritchie Shinn, San Francisco.

It Goes On and On; Budge Now Leads, 16-5

Houston, Tex., April 13.—(AP)—Donald Budge of California walloped Fred Perry of England in the twenty-first meeting of their professional tour. The scores were 6-0, 6-3, and gave Budge the advantage, 16 matches to 5. Budge teamed with Ben Gorchakoff to defeat Perry and Walter Senior in a fine three set doubles match, 6-3, 6-3, 10-8.

ROOSEVELT ARM READY FOR FIRST PITCH MONDAY

Washington, D. C., April 13.—(AP)—Pitcher Roosevelt reported today that his arm was in good shape for the opening game of the American league baseball season next Monday.

The President accepted the invitation of Clark Griffith, president of the Washington club, to attend the opener against the New York Yankees and to throw out the first ball.

Griffith and Ford Frick, president of the National league, presented to the President annual passes on behalf of both the major leagues.

Cancel Missouri Game, N. Y. U. Paper Demands

New York, April 13.—[Special.]—An editorial calling for the cancellation of the football game between New York university and the University of Missouri, scheduled to be played here on Nov. 11, 1939, appeared in today's Bulletin, official undergraduate newspaper of New York university. The newspaper's stand was based on the the recent refusal of the University of Wisconsin's athletic department to allow its track team to participate in a meet with Notre Dame and Missouri in Columbia, Mo., on April 15, after Ed Smith, Wisconsin Negro hurdler, had been barred.

ANOTHER GREAT CARSTAIRS WHISKEY

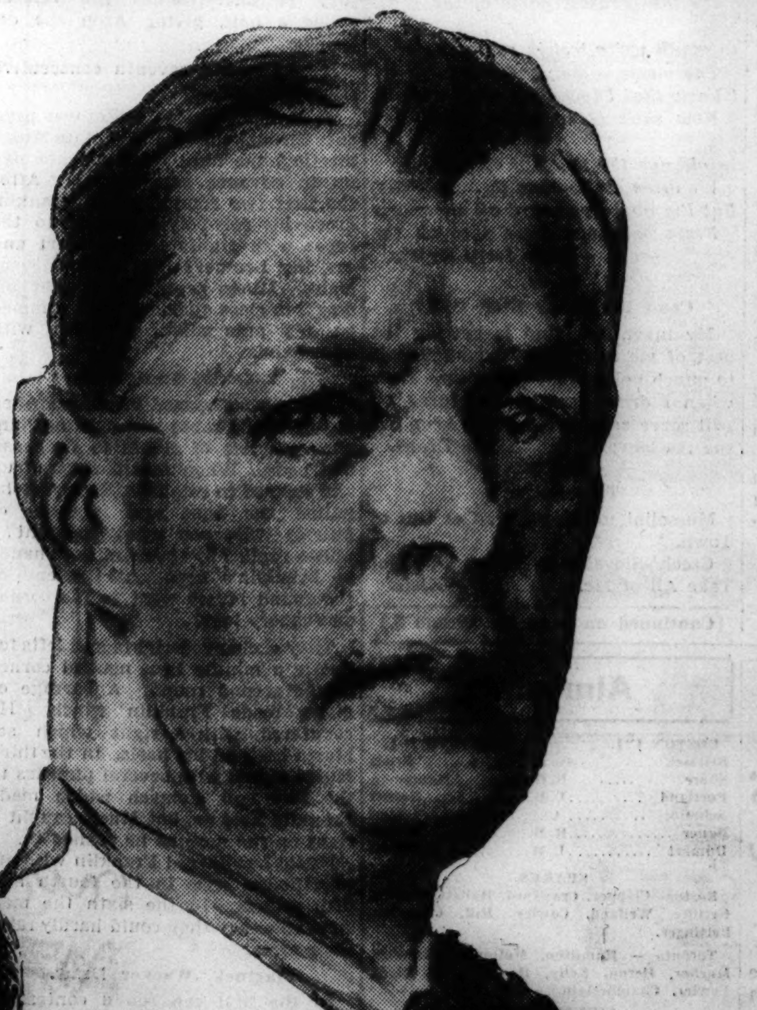
Harmony
Blended Whiskey
90 PROOF

LIGHT IN BODY, light in price : : : but extravagantly generous in flavor, Harmony is a smooth, delicious blend of selected whiskies by Carstairs.

Combining the best-liked features of several kinds of whiskey, Harmony pleases practically every taste. Priced for popularity, but rich in the same outstanding character as Carstairs' costlier blends. Just say—"Let's have Harmony!".

They call him an "Amiable Fussbudget!"



But his friends respect his choice of whiskey, because it is based on facts

YES, John Connors* IS a factual man. As treasurer of a big corporation, he has to be. Naturally, when John first heard of Carstairs he wanted the facts. He got them!

He found that Carstairs is 86.8 proof . . . the identical proof of many expensive Scotches! Then he learned that every drop in Carstairs is aged 4 years or more. Next he discovered that Carstairs is blended not of one kind of whiskey alone, but of several kinds; combining the richness of straight whiskey with the light body and delicate bouquet of several other whiskies.

*The name "John Connors" is not intended to refer to any specific individual, but merely to a type; the type of "man who cares".

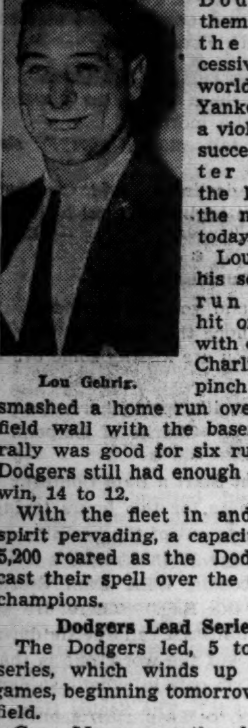
DODGERS MAKE YANKEES DAFFY; WIN 4TH IN ROW

Gehrig Gets Four Hits in 14 to 12 Defeat.

Norfolk, Va., April 13.—[Special.]—Desperate by the humiliating prospect of having the Brooklyn Dodgers bowl them over for the fourth successive day, the world champion Yankees launched a violent, but unsuccessful, counter offensive in the last half of the ninth inning today.



Lou Gehrig.

Lou Gehrig hit his second home run and fourth hit of the game with one man on. Charlie Keller, pinch hitting, smashed a home run over the right field wall with the bases full. The rally was good for six runs, but the Dodgers still had enough of a lead to win, 14 to 12.

With the fleet in and a holiday spirit pervading, a capacity crowd of 5,200 roared as the Dodgers again cast their spell over the exasperated champions.

Dodgers Lead Series, 5-2.

The Dodgers led, 5 to 2, in the series, which winds up with three games, beginning tomorrow, in Ebbets field.

Gene Moore was the shining light for the Dodgers. He rammed three home runs over the right field fence and drove in a total of eight runs.

Freddy Fitzsimmons and Oral Hildebrand were the mound rivals for the first six innings, with Fitz emerging ahead by a score of 8 to 5. Joe Beggs and Red Evans pitched the final three innings.

The Yanks concluded their southern exhibition activities with 18 victories and 10 defeats. The Dodgers' complete record is 16 victories against 11 defeats. Score:

Brooklyn ....002 024 303—14 13 3

Batteries—Fitzsimmons, Evans, and Hayworth; Hildebrand, Beggs, and Dickey.

CARDS DOWN EVANSVILLE, 4-2.

Evansville, Ind., April 13.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, behind the pitching of Bob Weiland and Clyde Shoun, defeated Evansville of the Three Eye league today, 4 to 2. Shoun hurled hitless ball in the final four innings. Joe Medwick started the scoring for the Cards, his double in the third inning driving in two runs.

St. Louis..............002 010 010—4 8 1
Evansville ....000 200 000—2 3 1

Batteries—Weiland, Shoun and Owen, Franks; Mahon, Lambert, Lamanna and Reed, Rheinhardt.

No. 2 ATHLETICS WIN.

Charlotte, N. C., April 13.—(AP)—Earl Mack's No. 2 division of the Philadelphia Athletics won a 9 to 1 victory over Charlotte of the Piedmont league today. George Caster, Henry Pippen, and Nelson Potter, each of whom pitched three innings, held Charlotte to five hits. Score:

Charlotte ....000 000 100—1 5 5

TIGERS STOP REDS, 7-5.

Portsmouth, O., April 13.—[Special.]—The Detroit Tigers went to work in the fifth and sixth innings today and defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 7 to 5, in the first of four final exhibition games. In those two innings the American leaguers obtained all their runs.

Detroit ....000 043 000—7 11 2

BEES WHIP SENATORS, 5-1.

Washington, D. C., April 13.—[Special.]—The Boston Bees scored their second straight victory over the Washington Senators today, 5 to 1. The Senators were held to six hits by Jim Turner and John Lanning. The National leaguers got nine safeties off Joe Krakauskas. Score:

Boston ....000 212 000—5 9 2
Washington ....010 000 000—1 6 3

RED SOX ARRIVE HOME.

Boston, Mass., April 13.—(AP)—Frozen out of their exhibition game in Newark, N. J., Boston's sun tanned Red Sox came directly on to the Hub today, arriving a day ahead of schedule and appearing, as Manager Joe Cronin proclaimed, "in topnotch shape."

THREE EX-CUBS HAVE FIELD DAY; GIANTS WIN, 13-5

Knoxville, Tenn., April 13.—[Special.]—The Giants turned on the power today against the Cleveland Indians and Cliff Melton pitched in midseason form. The result was a Giant victory over the hapless Tribe, 13 to 5.

The Giants clubbed bespectacled Johnny Broaca, former Yankee hurler, and Joe Dobson for 15 hits.

Mel Ott, with a homer and two singles, led the attack. Ken O'Dea contributed two doubles and a single that figured in five runs, Billy Jurges hit a triple and a single to drive in four runs, and Frank Demaree celebrated with a double and a single and, with two passes, figured in four runs. Score:

BROWNS WIN IN TOPEKA, 9-1.

Topeka, Kas., April 13.—(AP)—A ninth inning run kept Bill Cox, St. Louis Browns right-hander, from shutting out the Topeka club of the Western association today. The Browns won, 9 to 1. Cox held the Kansans to three hits in the first eight innings.

Home runs by Myril Hoag and Sam Harshany in the fourth off Pitcher Bob Williams started the Browns' attack. Harshany also drove in two more runs in the seventh with a single. Score:

PHILLIES WIN, 19 TO 0.

Greenville, S. C., April 13.—(AP)—Jim Henry held Greenville of the South Atlantic league to four hits today while the Phillies pounded out an easy 19 to 0 victory. The game was called at the end of the seventh to allow the Phils to catch a train for Philadelphia. Score:

ATHLETICS LOSE AGAIN.

Kinston, N. C., April 13.—(AP)—Pounding out 15 hits, the Williamsport, Pa., Grays of the Eastern league again defeated the Philadelphia Athletics today, 10 to 6. Score:

Philadelphia ....032 001 000— 6 7 5
Williamsport ....103 032 01*—10 15 3

WISCONSIN GETS FIVE HITS; BEATS BRADLEY, 3 TO 2

Peoria, Ill., April 13.—[Special.]—Bill White gave up only five hits today, but when his Bradley Tech mates couldn't touch Bob Henrich and Ken Fjelstad, dropped a 3 to 2 decision to Wisconsin.

It was Bradley's first defeat after victories over Illinois and St. Louis. The two teams play again tomorrow and finish their series Saturday. Score:

Manhattans Reinforce Team for Peel Cup Soccer Series

The Manhattan Brewers, who meet Sparta Sunday in the first of a two game series for the Peel soccer cup, yesterday reinforced their team because of injuries to three stars. Billy Ogilvie has been signed to play in the middle line, Alec Robb will move to outside left, and Tommy Erbe will be brought from St. Louis to take Weck Henney's place at full back. Jimmy Lillie and Clem Cuthbert are the other casualties. Sunday's game will be played in Sparta stadium.

Two Hitless Games Open Prep League

Two more names yesterday were added to the Chicago Public High School league's building list of no hit pitchers.

The latest youngsters to enter the league's hall of fame are Gregory Schultz of Parker and Bob Possehl of Harrison Tech. Schultz, a southpaw, struck out seventeen of the twenty-two batters who faced him in the seven inning contest and led his team to victory over Harper, 12 to 0. Schultz, who is 19 years old and a senior, issued only one walk.

Weather Man Relents.

Possehl had nine strikeouts and yielded three walks as his teammates triumphed over Englewood, 4 to 0. Possehl, sophomore right hander, is 16 years old. The brilliant performances by Possehl and Schultz featured the opening schedule which had been postponed because of bad weather.

Lindblom, the defending champion, and Calumet were victors in two other outstanding contests on the program. Lindblom defeated Phillips, 13 to 2. Pitcher Burke of Lindblom yielded only three hits.

This Was a Riot.

Coaches of Waller and Roosevelt spent an exciting afternoon watching their teams play one of the strangest games in the history of the league. Waller made only seven hits, but triumphed, 18 to 7. Wallace made nine of its runs in the first inning on nine errors, three walks and three hits. Roosevelt made a total of 14 in the game. Scores:

After an operation on Handley's crushed left ear, surgeons said his condition was excellent and that they were more confident than ever that no basic fracture of the skull exists.

Lloyd Waner led off the Pirate first with a two bagger, which Rosenthal almost picked off the right center field fence. Manush fanned and Bell, subbing for Johnny Rizzo, who has some sort of a hand complaint, punched a single past Appling to score Waner.

Then Trouble Starts.

Dietrich's unhappy sixth inning opened with Vaughan's line triple off the right field fence. Dietrich was so unnerved that he walked Suhr. Young banged a double into left center, Vaughan scoring and Suhr halting on third. Brubaker fanned and Dietrich thought he might get out of the jam by passing Mueller intentionally. The scheme failed. Klinger was figured for a double play ball, but spoiled the strategy by beating out a tap over which Dietrich stumbled, Suhr scoring. L. Waner dropped a looping single in right and Young scored.

The Sox bid for the tying runs in the eighth but fell one shy. Steinbacher opened with a pass and went to third on Walker's Texas league single to center. P. Waner threw to the wrong base, so Walker went to second. Appling's third hit was a single to right, Steinbacher and Walker counting.

DERBY HOPEFULS RACE IN BRIGHT KEENELAND SUN

Opelika Triumphs Before Blue Grass Throng.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lexington, Ky., April 13.—Kentuckians opened their own horse racing season this afternoon at Keeneland. To this picturesque course, set down in the heart of the parklike blue grass country, came a crowd that was both critical and enthusiastic.

Derby candidates divided the interest with 2 year olds which had been bred upon the neighboring farms. Through an afternoon of sunshine they raced while the spectators, favored by mild weather, wandered from the stands to the paddock or stood upon the vividly green lawns to chat leisurely about some likely looking horses.

The first race, appropriately, was won by a colt carrying the blue and white colors of Keeneland's president, Hal Price Headley, bred upon his own farm, sired by one of his own stallions and foaled by one of his own mares. Ramases was the youngster's name and it was his first start.

Derby Hopefuls Step Out.

The third race of the afternoon brought out four Kentucky Derby candidates, J. C. Milam's Opelika and Decatur, Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' Sports Writer, and Headley's Atatime. It resulted in a victory for Opelika, with Sports Writer second. Rude Awakening, which is not nominated for the Derby, finished in third place, three lengths ahead of Decatur. Atatime ran sixth.

Charles Kurtsinger, making his first appearance since changing his mind about retiring, rode the winner. His last previous mount was War Admiral in the match race with Seabiscuit on Nov. 1.

The race, a sprint of six furlongs for maiden 3 year olds, started out as a duel between Opelika and Sports Writer. As they turned into the stretch, the Milam colt began drawing away. Then Rude Awakening came up swiftly and for a few strides took second place from Sports Writer. The latter accepted the challenge however, and showed enough drive to regain second place by a neck, two lengths behind the winner.

Roll and Toss Wins Fifth.

Derby candidates also dominated the fifth race, Mrs. Payne Whitney's Roll and Toss coming home in front, while E. F. Woodward's Viscounty was taking second place. Eddie Arcaro sent Roll and Toss to the lead soon after the start of the mile and a sixteenth run. He kept him there throughout, winning by a margin of a length and a half.

Roll and Toss, which broke away for a canter of half a mile while the field was going to the post, had enough energy left to go the distance in 1:45 2-5, which was not particularly good, in view of the fact that the track had dried out pretty well.

Warren Wright's Derby hope, Easy Mon, performed creditably against a group of older horses in the $2,500 Phoenix handicap which featured the day's program. He ran second to the Dixiana colorbearer, Torchy. The latter set the pace from the start, led by two lengths into the stretch, and won by a length. Easy Mon closed resolutely, holding a margin of two and a half lengths over The Fighter from W. F. Morgan's stable.

Fans Move Right In.

Keeneland's personal, informal manner is carried even to the saddling of the horses. On most tracks, the public is held at bay by fences while this ceremony goes on, but not at Keeneland. The folks walk right in and gather in circles around each horse while the groom holds him and the trainer saddles him.

The first race was particularly interesting to the crowd, not only because it marked the opening of the season, but also because nine of the twelve horses entered never had raced before.

In this race there was no past performance to guide them, so they used their judgment. The winner's price shows how good that judgement was. From a field of untested horses, so many chose Ramases that he paid only $10.80.

SEEKS CONTRACT OF JOHNNY OROS, LEADING JOCKEY

Bowie, Md., April 13.—(AP)—Mrs. E. Graham Lewis, New York sportswoman, is dickering for the contract of Apprentice Jockey Johnny Oros, the nation's leading rider, with 103 winners this year, it was learned at Bowie today.

Oros booted home three winners the first afternoon Mrs. Lewis saw him ride. She immediately directed her trainer, Louis Feustal, to see whether the lad's contract could be purchased from his father, John Oros, trainer, now in Kentucky.

Watt Elliott's Dorothy Pomp outlasted J. Kugelman's Modern Age to win Bowie's featured fifth race, a six furlong event for $2,500 platers, by a head in 1:14 4-5 today.

The winner and second horse closed equal choices and the finish thereby gave favorite players their first victory in seventeen races over a three day stretch.

O'HARA WOULD BUY GULFSTREAM TRACK, HE SAYS

Providence, R. I., April 13.—(AP)—Walter E. O'Hara, former managing director of the Narragansett Racing association, said tonight he has made a bid to purchase the Gulfstream race track at Hollywood, Fla.

The announcement came after a conference here attended by O'Hara, John C. Horning of Pittsburgh, president of Gulfstream, and Attorneys David I. McCahill of Pittsburgh and W. H. Kilbourne of Washington, D. C.

REPORT HORNER DETERMINED TO VETO LANTZ BILL

Springfield, Ill., April 13.—(AP)—Gov. Horner has expressed vigorous opposition to the Lantz bill which would abolish the three man state racing commission, it was reported authoritatively today.

One of the main reasons the governor cut short his convalescence from a serious illness in Florida was to return to veto the measure if it passes the house, according to statehouse sources.

The three members of the racing commission, sharply criticized as dictatorial by a senate investigating commission, were appointed by Gov. Horner.

The Lantz bill, already passed by the senate, was drafted by the committee which investigated the suspension of John D. Mikel, Carlock, Ill., horse breeder and trainer, by the racing commission. The measure would abolish the present commission and substitute a racing board of three salaried members.

Gov. Horner was represented as concerned by the attack on the racing commission members, Leo Spitz, Walter C. Peacock, and William Schlake, all of Chicago.

WHAT'S ONE MORE CUT TO ROPER? HE KEEPS ON BOXING

Los Angeles, Cal., April 13.—(AP)—Jack Roper, after some 16 years as a virtual unknown, suddenly finds himself a valuable piece of bric-a-brac, the challenger for Joe Louis' world's heavyweight boxing crown next Monday.

As Co-Promoters Mike Jacobs and Tom Gallery continued to issue optimistic predictions on the success of California's first heavyweight title bout in 30 years, and Champion Joe whacked methodically away at his training, attention was centered today on Roper and a razor-thin slit under his right eye.

The cut came in the final seconds of a sparring match with the promoters sitting at the ringside watching the venerable fighter. Their interest was intense enough when Roper abruptly discarded his slipping headgear, but when a butt from the sparring partner sliced open Jack's cheek, Jacobs demanded the workout be abandoned. But Roper, blood trickling from the cut, laughed and waded in to finish the round.

BOLDEN SEEKS SEVENTH VICTORY AGAINST RANKIN

Nate Wants Recognition as Middleweight Foe.

Nate Bolden, 1937 intercity Golden Gloves middleweight winner, will attempt to use Oscar Rankin, California slugger, as a stepping stone in a twelve round bout tonight in White City, 63d street and South Park avenue.

A victory will give Bolden recognition as Illinois' leading challenger for Solly Krieger's championship. Bolden will be in quest of his seventh triumph in thirteen professional engagements.

Supporting matches:

Johnny Balmer, Peoria, vs. Meyer Alper, Montreal [4], 140.
Pete Ferrand, South Chicago, vs. Eu Eullen, south side [4], 140.
Mario Christopher, west side, vs. Jim Diamico, Rand A. C. [4], 138.

Amateur boxers from Kankakee and Chicago will meet in a series of contests this evening in the Madison Athletic club, 4711 Madison street. . . . Three bouts will support the wrestling show headed by Jim Londos and Joe Savoldi in Louisville, Ky., Derby eve, May 5. Orville Brown tackles Fritz Von Schacht, Patrick Lansdowne faces Billy Thom, Cecil Pedigo encounters Bill Cantrell. . . . Wladek Zbyszko will wrestle Victor Soldat in the windup encounter of the mat card tonight in Columbia hall, 1700 West 48th street. . . . An amateur boxing team representing Sammy Mandell, former lightweight champion, will appear in Coulon's gymnasium Monday.

The annual fathers-sons, mothers-daughters' night of the Lake Shore Athletic club will be held tonight with a program of boxing and sports exhibitions offered by boys and girls of the Lake Shore Juniors. Rudy Hoffman, athletic director, will present C. Y. O. boxing bouts, including Wayne Fidler, C. Y. O. champion, vs. Jesse Garcia; John Cahill, C. Y. O. champion, vs. Mike Sanchez; Harry Sparrows vs. Larry Jordan, and John Devereaux vs. Bud Ryan. Three professional wrestling matches also are scheduled.

The Illinois boxing commission yesterday postponed until May 1 a decision on the application for reinstatement of Jimmy Adamick, Midland, Mich., heavyweight, and James Brady, his manager. Adamick was suspended for one year following his fight with Jack Trammell in Mills stadium last June 8. Brady was suspended for five years. . . . Billy Williams, whose real name is Michael W. Kutscher, appeared before the commission to protect his one-third interest in Tony Musto's purse for Musto's bout with Lem Franklin in the Coliseum last night. Musto is seeking to break his management contract with Williams. The commission, which recognizes the Williams-Musto contract, ordered Musto's purse withheld until today's special meeting of the board. After a statement for Musto's training expenses is approved Tony will be paid 66⅔ per cent of his net guarantee. The other 33⅓, which is claimed by Williams, will be held in escrow by the commission pending settlement in a court of equity. F. M.

TWO SEC CHIEFS QUITTING AFTER TRIBUNE EXPOSE

Charge of Collusion Is Recalled.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 13.—Two top ranking officials in the public utilities division of the Securities and Exchange commission have resigned, it was learned today, after recent disclosures by THE TRIBUNE of a questionable situation in the division.

The officials are C. Roy Smith, director of the public utilities division, and L. A. Pettit Jr., assistant to Smith. No successors have been selected, although the commission has a number of candidates under consideration.

Smith submitted his resignation shortly after William O. Douglas, former chairman of the SEC, was appointed to the United States Supreme court, and also after THE TRIBUNE articles appeared. Smith's resignation becomes effective July 1.

Resigns After Senate Debate.

Pettit submitted his resignation, effective June 1, last week after the articles were debated on the floor of the senate during its consideration of the Douglas nomination. The nomination of SEC chairman to the court later was approved by a vote of 62 to 4.

THE TRIBUNE articles, which appeared March 19 and March 21, disclosed a secret hearing by the commission last fall on charges of collusion between Pettit and Victor Emanuel, active New Deal financier who is now chairman of the Standard Gas and Electric corporation, Chicago. Emanuel admitted at the hearing that he had helped Pettit to get his SEC job. Four of Pettit's subordinates testified against him.

The charges against Pettit were dismissed and he was retained. Of the four assistants who testified against him two resigned and two were transferred out of the public utilities division.

Evidence Not Made Public.

The transcript of the hearing and the report of an examining board have not been made public.

The resignations of the two officials are considered as evidence that the SEC will do its own house cleaning before any demands for such might come from congress. In addition to the two resignations other changes are expected.

Some sources attached significance to the naming of Commissioner Robert E. Healey, sponsor of the public utilities division, as acting chairman of the commission last Tuesday. It was believed he was put in to do a house cleaning job. But a high official source today denied this, saying Healey's selection was merely coincidental with his sponsorship of the utilities division.

Acting Chairman Is Republican.

Although a Republican, Healey has been acting chairman of the commission previously. He was selected by his colleagues on the commission to serve until a permanent chairman is elected, which is expected soon after President Roosevelt fills the vacancy created by Douglas' elevation to the Supreme court.

It was reliably reported that the commissioners, including Douglas, had wanted some corrections made in the utilities division for some time, in view of the investigation last fall. Official sources, however, praised Smith's work under the commission and said that he voluntarily assumed a large share of the responsibility for the situation which involved Pettit. In their letters of resignation both stated a desire to return to private business.

Background of Officials.

Pettit previously was associated with Victor Emanuel's father, Albert Emanuel, in their New York investment banking firm. Smith was formerly engaged in law practice in southern California and had extensive experience in the oil and gas fields. He came to the commission three and one-half years ago and was promoted from chief of the oil and gas unit to directorship of the utilities division. Pettit was already assistant to the director when Smith took that post.

A spokesman for the commission today defended the SEC's approach to the public utilities holding company act as sound and constructive, in view of the unexplored field which it entered. He said that it has been a very difficult job because there were no precedents, but that he was willing for the commission's opinions and accomplishments to speak for themselves.

Trying to Be "Constructive."

"We're just trying to do a constructive job," he said. "We're not trying to rule anybody. I don't see why anybody should have the slightest doubts about our supervision."

He said that holding companies who owed their existence to the government took advantage of the situation by wildcat financing and other misuses of trust. Not all holding companies were guilty of such practices, he said, but the existence of such conditions made corrective action imperative, which he believed has been carried out successfully.

Roosevelt Signs Tax Bill on Public Employes' Pay

Washington, D. C., April 13.—(AP)—President Roosevelt has signed the bill wiping out immunity of federal and state employés from income taxation. The measure, which a secretary said the President signed last night, permits the federal government to tax the salaries of state officials and employés, and state governments to tax the salaries of federal officials and employés.

Libby, McNeill Sales Making Gain This Year

Operations of Libby, McNeill and Libby were unprofitable last year, but sales began rising last fall and have maintained the improvement to date. Edward G. McDougall, president, announced yesterday. Included in other reports made public during the day were several showing larger earnings in the first quarter of 1939.

Edward G. McDougall.

Libby, a leading canner of food products with headquarters in Chicago, reported a net loss of $3,354,276 for the fiscal yead ended Feb. 25, 1939. The preceding fiscal year's operations had yielded net profit of $2,777,792, equal to 89 cents a share on common stock.

Stocks Excessive in 1938.

McDougall said last year's unfavorable results were due to price reductions resulting from the excessive stocks of the preceding packing season, with markets weak throughout most of the year. The company finished its last fiscal period with inventories well below the preceding year, however, and is now in a much more favorable inventory position.

Conditions within the United States, McDougall said, were responsible for the reduction in sales volume from $74,716,418 in the 1937 period to $66,306,930 last year. Business outside the United States was the largest in the history of the company. Indicating an improvement in domestic business, he said, "Our sales trend took a turn for the better in the fall of 1938 and since then our canned goods have been moving in satisfactory volume."

Notes Payable Are Reduced.

Notes payable which amounted to $11,953,159 on Feb. 25, a reduction of $762,576 from a year earlier, had been further reduced to $8,942,000 by April 10, 1939, he said.

Samuel M. Jasper has been appointed treasurer of the company to succeed Dwight E. Hillyer, who was made controler, to succeed Fred J. Steffens, resigned.

Berghoff Brewing corporation reported first quarter net earnings of $82,872, equal to 27 cents a share, compared with $60,807, or 20 cents a share in the first three months of 1938.

G. Heileman Brewing company announced first quarter net income of $41,043, against $35,087 a year earlier, representing 13 and 11 cents a share on common stock in the respective periods.

Less satisfactory results were shown by Hiram Walker-Gooderham & Worts, Ltd., liquor company. Its net profit declined to $1,365,538 in the three months ended with February, from $1,672,342 in the corresponding months of the preceding year. Earnings were $1.69 and $2.15 a share in the respective periods. For six months ended with February net income was $3,161,459.

SenateApproves More Time for Bankers to Pay Loans

Washington, D. C., April 13.—(AP)—The senate approved today a bill extending from next June 30 to June 30, 1942, the date by which officials and directors of Federal Reserve member banks must pay all obligations to their banks. Chairman Glass [D., Va.] of the senate banking committee has estimated that 2,000 bankers owe member banks 32 million dollars. If the June 30 deadline for repayment had not been extended the 2,000 bank officials would have been dismissed.

UPTURNS IN BUILDING BRING MORE PROFIT TO U. S. GYPSUM COMPANY

Inceased operations in the building industry during the first quarter of 1939 brought substantially higher earnings for the United States Gypsum company, it was indicated by a report issued yesterday. The company announced its profits in the first three months rose to $990,696, equal to 71 cents a share. This was an increase of 44 per cent over net income for the first quarter of 1938, amounting to $688,348, or 46 cents a share.

United States Gypsum was able to improve its net earnings for twelve months ended with March. The total was $5,027,845, equal to $3.75 a share, compared with $4,697,696, or $3.47 a share, in the preceding twelve months.

TVA PREPARES TO EXTEND TAX ON ITS UTILITIES

Knoxville, Tenn., April 13.—(AP)—The Tennessee Valley authority met growing pressure today with a plan for broadening its tax payments to compensate valley states for the loss of revenue resulting from sale of privately owned electric utilities to public agencies.

In addition to increasing state tax payments to Tennessee and Alabama "to some higher figure" than the 5 per cent of gross electric revenues now paid, the authority proposes to extend payment to include Kentucky, North Carolina, Mississippi, and Georgia.

EASTERN CITIES FEEL PINCH OF COAL DEADLOCK

New York May Buy or Lease Mine.

New York, April 13.—[Special.]—With coal operators and labor still unable to agree on a new contract covering the Appalachian fields, the pinch of a coal shortage is being felt in the east. Little coal has been mined in the huge Appalachian fields since March 31, when 338,000 United Mine Workers [C. I. O.] withdrew from working pending the signing of a new contract.

Because of the tenseness of the situation Mayor Fiorella La Guardia of New York City today warned the negotiators that the various New York City institutions might buy or lease a mine to maintain their coal supply.

Warns City Must Have Power.

"But we must have electric current in this city of seven million persons where most of our power is generated by steam," he warned. "Now is the time to start worrying about the situation, not when the coal supply is exhausted."

La Guardia, who addressed the negotiators briefly today, asserted that the city's electric light and power industries now have on hand only sufficient coal to keep them running three to six weeks.

One large industry in New York state has already been forced to curtail its activities because of a coal shortage. George W. Johnson, president of the Endicott-Johnson corporation, Binghamton shoe manufacturer employing 20,000 persons, said the plant would have to be closed for a week starting tonight and that there would be a 50 per cent reduction in the operating rate for the following two weeks.

Less than Week's Supply.

Only about a six days' coal supply is on hand, Johnson said, and it takes about four days to bring coal from the mines. He appealed to Secretary of Labor Perkins to use her influence to get the miners back to work as soon as possible.

Already the use of coal has been restricted at the United States Military academy at West Point. Heat is being reduced. At the nation's capital it was said that the large buildings could be heated for eight days by dividing the available supply of coal.

Employment on the railroads already is being restricted because of the drop in their coal carrying business. At Richmond, Va., an official of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad estimated that the shutdown in the coal fields had thrown between 2,500 and 3,000 of the road's force out of work.

He explained that 80 per cent of the road's tonnage in the area is

Rail Freight Trafic Is Cut by Coal Tieup

Cessation of soft coal mining in the Appalachian region since April 3 has cut deeply into railroad freight trafic. This was disclosed yesterday by the loadings report of the Association of American Railroads for the week ended April 8.

Shipments of coal tumbled 58,274 cars from those in the preceding week and 44,678 from those in the same 1938 week. Coal freight has declined steadily in the last few weeks, but the precipitous slump last week was caused mainly by the shutdown of mines as a result of the union wage contract expiration.

Total Loadings Brought Down.

Loadings of all freight last week totaled 535,470 cars, a decline of 68,771 cars, or 11.4 per cent, from those in the preceding week; an increase of 13,421, or 2.6 per cent, from those in the 1938 week, and a sharp drop of 175,609, or 24.7 per cent, from those in the corresponding week in 1937.

The shrinkage in railroad freight was not caused alone by the decline in coal movement. Loadings of miscellaneous goods—the principal industrial group—fell 8,050 cars from those in the preceding week. Shipments of grain, live stock, forest products, and ore also were reduced.

Two Groups Show Increases.

DAME FASHION SMILES ON RIBBON COMPANY AND BOOSTS ITS SALES

Dame Fashion has caused a revival in the business of Century Ribbon Mills, Inc., Irving Levy, vice president and treasurer, yesterday told stockholders. He explained that women's fashions are featuring ribbons for the first time in years.

"Ribbon sales gained nearly 10 per cent in the first quarter of this year over the first quarter of 1938," Levy said. "As a result our earnings for the three months ended March 31 are likely to run between $50,000 to $60,000 in contrast to the loss of $17,586 in the first quarter of 1938."

STOCK EXCHANGE WILL PUBLISH ITS 'AD' POLICIES

New York, April 13.—[Special.]—Advertising policies of the New York Stock exchange for its member firms have been set forth for the first time in the issue of the Exchange Bulletin which will be published Saturday.

Members are told that the committee on public relations, which supervises advertising, "has no intention of suggesting any limit upon the scope of the imagination and the ingenuity of member firms which may be interested in the possibilities of intelligent, productive advertising." More advertising with striking typography and the lavish use of illustrations is encouraged.

The announcement in the bulletin does not indicate a change in policy. Member firms, however, may hold that there has been a change because they have assumed for years that any advertisment other than the most conservative would be rejected by the committee.

Texas Oil Find May Be Worth 20 Millions

Houston, Tex., April 13.—[Special.]—H. M. Naylor, an old time oil driller whose big strike in Fort Bend county has the oil industry puzzled, went about his business as usual today. Although he may realize $20,000,000 from his holdings, Naylor hinted only that he may buy an airplane with some of his new money.

H. M. Naylor.

Naylor's well developed into one of the largest producers of its kind on the Texas Gulf coast yesterday. Its pressure increased and forty-five barrels of 36.8 gravity crude oil flowed each hour from the 7,800 feet deep hole. Inspectors representing the Texas oil regulatory body said the well if thrown wide open might produce 30,000 barrels of crude oil a day, worth $1 a barrel.

Naylor found oil at Thompsons, a one time ranching center, on land overlooked by the major companies. He holds 3,000 acres and his well is near the center of the tract. If the 100 feet of oil sand recorded in Naylor's well exists over the entire 3,000 acres, experts said his holdings outright would bring about $20,000,000 on the present market. Throughout most of his life he has known the hardships of the oil business.

ROOSEVELT GOLD POLICY BRANDED BLOW TO WORLD

Program Is Failure, Says House Group.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 13.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt's reduction of the gold content of the dollar to 59.06 per cent of its former value has worked tremendous damage to the entire world, according to a report filed in the house today.

Rep. Chauncey Reed.

The report was submitted by a Republican minority of the committee on coinage, weights and measures headed by Representative Chauncey W. Reed [R., Ill.]. It challenges a Democratic majority report that recommended extension of the President's power to alter the gold content of the dollar until June 30, 1941. Under the present law, this authority expires June 30.

The majority report merely expressed agreement with the President's statement last January that the international monetary and economic situation is still such that it would not be safe to permit the executive's powers to lapse.

Extending the President's power also would extend the 2 billion dollar stabilization fund for another two years. A report on an annual audit of operations of the fund, the bill provides, must be made annually to congress as well as to the President.

The measure will be considered by the house next week and is expected to develop a sharp fight.

Whole Program Held Failure.

The object of devaluation of the dollar, according to the minority report filed by the Reed committee, was the "reflation" of 1932 prices to the 1926 level, with stabilization presumable thereafter.

"On this basis the program has been a complete failure," the report states.

President Roosevelt assumed, the report continues, that an increase of 69 per cent in the price paid for gold by the United States and the broadened monetary base would stimulate a corresponding rise in commodity and security prices.

"Five years have elapsed in which prices could have risen as promised," the report states. "The wholesale commodity price index, however, shows that there has been an increase of but 6.5 per cent. Prices of farm products increased from 58.7 per cent in January, 1934, to only

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 13.—The stock market continued upward today, although early gains were reduced in late dealings. Trading was the slowest in a week, totaling only 861,880 shares. A total of 760 issues was traded, of which 430 advanced, 147 declined, and 183 closed unchanged.

The list opened irregularly lower and turned dull as traders awaited the British and French statements of policy regarding aggression in eastern Europe. Immediately after Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's speech was delivered a buying flurry sent prices of leading issues fractions to about two points higher. His speech was regarded mild.

Later the list turned dull again. A selling attack near the close pared the best quotations and in some instances forced prices into the minus column.

Leading steels were set back fractionally at the close. United States Steel lost ⅞ point. Chrysler closed with a small fractional gain after running about 2 points higher at one time. General Motors and Yellow Truck slipped back to previous finals. The low priced Continental Motors issue turned active and made a fractional gain. United States Rubber, Goodyear, and General Tire were lower, but Goodrich added a minor fraction.

Oils turned in a good performance. Socony Vacuum attracted much attention to gain 1 point. Texas corporation rose 1½ points. Others showed fractional changes. Chemicals were buoyant. Allied climbed 6½ points and du Pont 3¼. General Electric was active and higher. Westinghouse added 1 point.

Rails pushed ahead for a time but gave way in late trading.

New York Bonds.

New York, April 13.—(AP)—Secondary rails gained fractions to a point or more in a hesitant bond market today. Industrials were mixed, with fractional gains predominating. United States governments showed gains ranging up to 10-32, with a few maturities off 1-32 to 3-32ds.

Up a point or more were: Great Northern 4s of '46 series G, at 91⅞; M-K-T 5s of '62, at 24; Nickel Plate 4½s, at 44⅞; Penn Dixie Cement 6s, at 94; Southern Pacific 4½s of '68, at 44½, and Western Union 5s of '60, at 59.

The foreign dollar list firmed toward the close. German 5½s of '65 were up a point at 18. Italy 7s climbed ⅞ to 57.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago stocks advanced fractions to a little more than a point again yesterday. Transactions amounted to 31,000 shares. The Chicago Tribune average closed at 9.31 against 9.15 Wednesday.

Midland United 6 per cent and 7 per cent prior lien shares both moved to new highs for the year. The 6 per cent stock closed at 4¼ up ⅜. The 7 per cent stock gained ¼ to 4¼. Chicago corporation, the most actively traded issue, advanced ⅛ to 1⅜.

Great Lakes Dredge scored the widest advance among the 10 most active stocks moving up 1 to 20½. Of 109 issues traded, 67 advanced, 20 declined, and 22 closed unchanged.

Bank Stocks.

Advances of $1.50 to $3 were made by leading Chicago bank stocks yesterday, dealers reported. Continental Illinois shares climbed $1.50; American National, Chicago Title and Trust, and First National, $2 each, and Harris Trust and Northern Trust, $3 each.

MINNEAPOLIS FLOUR.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 13.—(AP)—FLOUR—Carload lots, per brl in 98 lb cotton sacks: Family patents, unchanged, $5.05@5.25; standard patents, unchanged, $4.10@4.30. Shipments, 21,540 barrels. Bran, $21.00@21.50 per ton.

Commodities

Several commodities brought higher prices yesterday, while a few declined. The list showing upward tendencies in futures trading at New York included rubber, copper, coffee, lead, and wool tops.

The small advance in copper futures came in the face of statistics showing a substantial gain in domestic stocks, and a slight advance in world supplies. Domestic stocks at the end of March totaled 320,446 tons, or 11,538 above the February total and 1,739 more than at the close of March, 1938. World supplies aggregated 506,391 tons at March 31, an increase of 13,277 over the February total.

An upturn of 0.06 to 0.07 cents a pound in coffee futures was accompanied by news that business in the cash market at New York was the most active in several weeks. The domestic sugar contracts finished with small gains and losses, while the world contracts lost as much as 0.02 cent. Other commodities at lower levels included hides, cottonseed oil, and cocoa.

PLAN TO SOFTEN BUSINESS SHOCK IN EVENT OF WAR

GovernmentBureauHeads Hold Conferences.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 13.—Administration officials have taken President Roosevelt's comments on war seriously. They have been holding a series of conferences on means for keeping markets on an even keel in case of a major crisis arising from the European situation.

George L. Harrison, president New York Reserve bank, at conference.

It was disclosed today that officials of the treasury, agriculture department, and the Securities and Exchange commission have been meeting for discussion of such a contingency and ways of meeting it.

Critics of the administration said that such actions by the officials, along with the President's now famous remark when he left Warm Springs, Ga., last week that "I'll be back in the fall if we don't have a war," have done more to cause alarm than the European events.

Others Regard War Unlikely.

One conference was held last night and another this morning. Among those attending were Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr., Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, SEC Commission Jerome Frank, Marriner S. Eccles, chairman of the federal reserve board; George L. Harrison, president of the New York Federal Reserve bank, and Ganson Purcell, director of the SEC's trading and exchange division. The White House was represented through one of the participants.

A spokesman for the conferees said that the major objective of the meetings was to find every conceivable means of maintaining business normally and to soften any shocks that might arise from the European crisis.

Prepare for Emergency.

The spokesman said that, although there was no positive feeling that a general European war was in the offing, it was felt that the "only sane and intelligent thing to do" was to prepare for any emergency. "We're trying to do the constructive thing and be helpful," he said.

It was understood the officials agreed that there was no need for any additional legislation and that there was ample authority in existing laws to cope with any emergency. This same sort of study was carried on during the crisis of last September which led to the famed Munich conference.

Although the spokesman said everything would be done to keep markets open in case of a crisis, it was recalled here that the SEC now has power to close the stock exchanges, under orders from the President, for a period not exceeding ninety days.

Expect Other Markets to Comply.

The commission has no legal powers of closing over the counter markets, but it is expected a voluntary closing could be effected through such a recommendation from the SEC, which has been working closely with unlisted dealers on formation of a voluntary regulatory organization, as provided in the Maloney act.

The SEC has made a study of the 1914 panic, which closed the markets on the occasion of the world war outbreak, and believes that this history would prove valuable in the remote possibility that this catastrophe should be repeated.

The Commodity Exchange administration, operating under the department of agriculture, has no powers for closing commodity exchanges, such as that given the SEC, so either voluntary appeals or emergency legislation would be necessary in this instance.

Two Air Lines to Expand Chicago-New York Service

Two air lines operating between Chicago and New York will expand their service to meet increased demands of travelers, it was announced yesterday. United Air Lines will add a third nonstop flight with midafternoon departure from Chicago beginning tomorrow. American Airlines will inaugurate a third nonstop flight beginning Sunday. Each line, in addition, has six other daily flights to New York making one or more stops.

BUSINESS BITS

Fred D. Fagg, dean of the school of commerce of Northwestern university, will direct a series of "business clinics" for the Chicago Association of Commerce. The purpose will be to formulate a "Greater Chicago" program, according to Oscar G. Mayer, president of the association. Business leaders will be selected as chairmen of the "clinics."

Dr. Melchior Palyi, economist for Stifel, Nicolaus & Co., Inc., will speak at the Midwest Paper Credit conference today in the Drake hotel.

O'e Marvin of the Austin State bank has been reëlected president of the Association of Chicago Bank Women. Other officers are: Vice president, Irene Bliss, Chicago Title and Trust company; secretary, Helen Burke, Lake Shore Trust and Savings bank, and treasurer, Marie Wissig, American National Bank and Trust company.

Dean C. Smith, pioneer mail pilot and flight captain for American Air Lines, has been appointed director of sales for the St. Louis, Mo., division of the Curtiss-Wright corporation.

BANK CLEARINGS FALL IN LAST WEEK; STILL MORE THAN YEAR AGO

New York, April 13.—[Special.]—Bank clearings in the twenty-two leading cities of the country in the week ended yesterday were $4,526,432,000, off $986,460,000 from the aggregate of the preceding week, but up 9.6 per cent over $4,130,427,000 in the corresponding week last year, Dun & Bradstreet reported today. A year ago a sharp decline of $1,491,701,000 was recorded between the two similar weeks.

New York City clearings in the latest week totaled $2,707,227,000, which was up 10.6 per cent from $2,448,681,000 recorded in the corresponding week a year ago. Aggregate of the twenty-one cities outside New York was $1,819,205,000, representing a gain of 8.2 per cent from $1,681,746,000 recorded last year.

Chicago clearings stood at $277,300,000, or 10.9 per cent ahead of $250,100,000 in 1938.

BOOTLEGGING OF GOLD CHARGED; 12 MEN INDICTED

San Francisco, Cal., April 13.—(AP)—A dozen men were indicted today and still other charges were projected by the government in its cross-continent cleanup of an alleged bootleg gold gang. Twelve of thirteen men arrested yesterday in simultaneous roundups here and in Oakland, San Jose, and New York City were named in indictments charging conspiracy to violate the federal gold reserves act.

The thirteenth, Edward Friedman of San José, was named in a complaint filed by Thomas C. Lynch, assistant United States attorney, charging conspiracy to acquire gold bullion illegally.

Lynch reported details of the operations were not fully known, but he indicated that certain jewelry stores "acquired" gold coins from hoarders and others in violation of the gold reserves law. An agent of the group bought up these coins paying $30 for $20 gold pieces and proportionate rates for other coins. These then were taken to New York, where they were paid for at the rate of $30.50 for $20 pieces. There they probably were melted into bullion or converted into bar gold for sale at the prevailing rate of $35 an ounce.

WESTERN UNION MEETING STILL IN PROXY SNARL

New York, April 13.—[Special.]—The Western Union Telegraph company annual meeting adjourned again today as tellers failed to work their way out of the proxy count tangle which snarled the session yesterday.

After a brief gathering following yesterday's adjournment, a further adjournment to noon next Monday was voted.

There seemed little question but that the management would elect all of its directors. Newcomb Carlton, chairman of the board of Western Union and chairman of the meeting, announced yesterday before adjournment that the management had deposited proxies representing more than fifty per cent of all of the outstanding shares of the company.

The adjournments are being forced by the large amount of work connected with the counting of the proxies. The independent committee headed by Arthur C. Flatto brought in a large number. It was asserted that the minority proxies were not in alphabetical order and the Flatto committee yesterday afternoon wished to do that work today.

Engineering Construction Awards Rise to High Level

Engineering construction awards in the week ended yesterday totaled $80,867,000, the fourth largest of the year, Engineering News-Record reported yesterday. The total was $57,624,000 in the preceding week and $79,373,000 in the corresponding period of 1938. Comparative figures [000 omitted] follow:

	Last wk.	Prec. wk.	Last yr.
Public	60,003	45,927	25,861

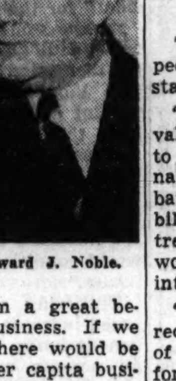
MASS OUTPUT RECOVERY KEY, NOBLE ASSERTS

Hopkins' New Aid Gives Views on Business.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 13.—Edward J. Noble, the new $1 a year assistant to Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins, today told a press conference that the key to recovery lies in mass production.



Edward J. Noble.

The representative of big business, who left the chairmanship of the Civil Aeronautics authority to take the commerce job with the expected title of undersecretary soon, said he has no fixed ideas on what he is going to do or recommend.

"But," he said, "I'm a great believer in volume of business. If we had a larger volume there would be a larger profit. The per capita business tax could be smaller and at the same time revenues to the treasury would be larger."

Familiar with Big Production.

The speaker is familiar with volume production, because he expanded a one room candy shop into a multimillion dollar corporation and he is the principal stockholder of Life Savers, Inc., maker of the confection which earned him a fortune.

On the means for achieving larger production, he said that the first requisite is "a belief of business that government wants to coöperate, and I'm sure from my talks with Mr. Hopkins that he sincerely wants that belief entertained." He expressed the opinion that "spirit and faith" had a lot to do with business recovery.

"Of course we must take action on a lot of things to help," the ruddy faced Connecticut Republican said, "but if every one believed that prosperity was ahead of us a great part of the battle would be won."

Noble said that among other things he will supervise the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. He expressed uncertainty over the relative position which Gen. Robert E. Wood, chairman of the board of Sears, Roebuck & Co., Chicago, would occupy as special adviser to Hopkins. Gen. Wood is scheduled to be here for four months in his advisory capacity.

There were faint murmurings that the Noble appointment was a resurrection of the late "business appeasement" drive of the administration. This was pointed to in explanation of what had become of the scheduled redefinition of the administration's anti-trust policy. This statement, prepared several weeks ago by Attorney General Frank Murphy, has been held up because of the European crisis, according to official sources.

BRITAIN PLANS TO HOLD MARINE INSURANCE DOWN

LONDON, April 13.—(AP)—The British government announced today that because of the large increases in marine insurance rates as the result of fears of war it would shortly introduce legislation empowering it to undertake reinsurance on shipping risks.

Oliver Stanley, president of the board of trade, told the house of commons in response to a question that British underwriters told the government a week ago that it was necessary "immediately to increase rates in some cases substantially."

Therefore, Stanley added, the government had decided in the interests of British trade to introduce legislation designed to hold rates down. He gave no details.

ROOSEVELT GOLD POLICY BRANDED INJURY TO WORLD

House Minority Report Calls Plan Failure.

67.2 per cent in February, 1939. While it is true that the index of prices has at times been higher than those quoted for February, 1939, the maximum rise in prices was only 19.7 per cent. This is far below the 69 per cent rise which it was confidently asserted would be brought about through devaluation.

"Incidentally, this increase in prices was due in greater measure to crop failures in the drouth years of 1934 and 1936, to the restriction policies of NRA and AAA, to such normal recovery forces as were permitted to operate, and to the demand for war materials in Europe and Asia."

Harm to World Told.

Turning to the international aspects of devaluation, the report states:

"The attempt by one nation to devalue its currency without reference to the rights and interests of other nations has resulted in depreciation battles between currencies and stabilization funds, which have done tremendous damage to the entire world, particularly with respect to international trade and finance.

"Nothing is gained by refusing to recognize the fact that the currency of one nation is, because of economic forces within that nation, weaker than the currency of a much stronger nation. If the stronger nation attempts to follow the depreciation of the weaker nation, it simply means that the weaker nation will further devalue and, to be consistent, the stronger nation again devalues."

End of Power Asked.

That harm would be done business by extending the President's power to change the gold content of the dollar is stated in the report. It goes on:

"Once business is assured that there will be no further tampering with the gold content of the dollar, it will begin to contract more freely into the future, enter into expansion programs of various types, negotiate international loans, and lay the groundwork for a substantial recovery not only in the domestic, but in foreign fields. There is no more deadening hand on business than the uncertainty of the value in which commitments will be paid in the future."

While the silver purchase act is not directly involved in the measure to be considered by the house next week, the minority recommends amendments to repeal the act in its entirety. Disastrous results of the silver purchase program are listed.

National Economy Threatened.

The report declares that the President's powers to inflate the currency by establishing arbitrary silver-gold ratios hang as a threat over the national economy.

"It would be entirely possible for the President within his discretion to raise the amount of currency in circulation to about $16,200,000,000," the report asserts. "Presumably this would result in raising the price levels approximately 250 per cent, other things remaining equal. In all probability it would produce such inflationary forces as to drive prices even beyond that level if the public became infected with inflationary fears."

FEARS OF WAR STILL DOMINATE GRAIN MARKETS

Uneasiness regarding the European political situation dominated the world's wheat markets yesterday. Announcement that war risk insurance shipping rates had been advanced sharply led to fears that hostilities might occur in the near future.

There was no material pressure on the wheat market. Although prices moved within narrow limits, closing trades on the Chicago Board of Trade were ⅜ cent higher. Liverpool prices were ⅛ cent to ¾ cent a bushel higher.

Bullish sentiment was increased by reports of a revival in the continental demand for American hard winter wheat. Sales of 500,000 bushels were reported. The United Kingdom bought 250,000 bushels of Canadian grain.

COTTON

A lull in the aggressive selling of cotton futures by Bombay and firmness in Liverpool resulted in higher prices for American cotton yesterday. Spot interests and speculators were fair buyers of futures. There was some selling of the deferred deliveries attributed to hedging against purchases of Brazilian and Argentine cotton. Closing trades were at gains of .02 to .06 cent a pound.

Spot cotton closed unchanged to .03 cent higher with New York, 8.66 cents; New Orleans, 8.43 cents, and Galveston and Houston at 8.15 cents a pound. Prices follow:

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

The market for steers and yearlings yesterday maintained its relatively high position above hogs and lambs despite a report by the department of agriculture showing a 13 per cent increase in the number of cattle on feed in the eleven corn belt states as of April 1. The increase over the same date last year was equivalent to about 160,000 head.

The department indicated that the movement to market of these cattle was expected to be only a little larger than in 1938 during April, May and June, but the proportion to be marketed after Aug. 1 was expected to be the largest in ten years.

Trading in steers and yearlings was rather slow, but the bulk went over the scales at about steady prices. Practically no changes occurred in the market for fat lambs. Hog receipts overran early estimates yesterday, resulting in a 5 to 10 cents lower price list.

PRESIDENT SEEKS CLOSER LINK WITH OTHER REPUBLICS

Requests Congress' Aid in New Program.

Washington, D. C., April 13.—(AP)—Congress received a request from President Roosevelt today to authorize close United States coöperation with the other American republics along economic, cultural, and other lines.

Mr. Roosevelt transmitted to congress, with a request for favorable consideration, a program of coöperative activities proposed by an interdepartmental committee last November. The committee's report includes seventy-four separate projects, one of which would be a survey to determine what products Latin American countries might produce and sell to this country without competing with United States goods.

Officials said most of the proposed activities could be undertaken without additional legislation, but that the office of the budget director recommended specific legislative authorization for some of the expenditures.

Explains Legislation.

The President said that the proposed legislation was "designed to authorize coöperation with any of the other American republics in accordance with treaties, resolutions, declarations, and recommendations signed by all of the twenty-one American republics at the inter-American conference for the maintenance of peace held at Buenos Aires, Argentina, in 1936, and at the eighth international conference of American states held at Lima, Peru, in 1938."

Among the projects is promotion of early completion of the Pan-American highway as far as Panama. Other proposals include:

Appointment of new agricultural attachés at Mexico City, Havana, Rio de Janeiro, and Panama City, and strengthening of the United States agricultural office in Buenos Aires.

Visit by Coast Guard.

Establishment of a tropical forestry experiment station in Porto Rico.

Day by Day on the Farm

By HOMER NEISZ

17-Year Locust Coming.

IF cicadas or seventeen year locusts make their appearance on the Tribune's Du Page county farm this spring, as expected, there will be scores of feathered enemies waiting for them. The cicada is due to hatch out this year, according to entomologists. The brood is expected to be heavy through northern Illinois.

Bird fans and landowners have been wondering which species of song birds might feed on the cicadas and thus wage war against them. We asked A. L. Nelson of the division of wild life, United States Biological survey, to tell us what information scientists had collected on birds which feed on cicadas.

These Are Cicadas' Foes.

From stomach examinations of birds, the scientists have obtained enough data to show conclusively that several of our well known song birds will do much to reduce the cicada hordes. Mr. Nelson's list of birds known to feed, at least to some extent, on the seventeen year locust follows:

1. The yellow billed cuckoo. This bird is sometimes called the rain crow. It will arrive in Chicagoland in May. We see them on the farm every summer, and apparently they nest there. The cuckoo is fond of caterpillars, especially tent caterpillars which make their nests in trees.

2. The common crow. According to the biological survey, the crow, a bird with a pretty bad record so far as depredations against song birds and duck nests are concerned, is given a high rating as a campaigner against the cicada. Scientists who examined the stomachs of crows during the years of cicada hatches found that these birds ate the insects before they were hatched out [the nymph stage].

3. The bluejay.

4. The catbird. This is one of our most famous songsters, and a fairly common resident on the farm, where it finds many ideal nesting sites in the brush and heavy undergrowth. Several have been trapped and banded on the farm.

5. The red headed woodpecker.

6. The English sparrow.

7. The robin. They are natural enemies of the insects.

8. The purple grackle. Ornithologists have found cicadas in their stomachs.

9. The cardinal. Next to the crow and the yellow billed cuckoo, the ornithologists have found that the cardinal is the most active enemy of the cicada. These birds, quite common on the farm, may be relied upon to go after the cicadas when they appear.

Mole Also Will Aid.

One small mammal, the common mole, is an enemy of the cicada. Rarely seen by farmers, the mole is a small burrowing animal that lives almost its entire life underground. It is about 6¾ inches long. The animal has large front feet for digging so it can excavate subterranean galleries with ease. The result of its underground labors often are in evidence on lawns and gardens in the shape of irregular ridges of earth which mark the course of its underground passages.

Inasmuch as it burrows and is hunting constantly for worms and insects, it's not surprising that the mole finds and eats cicadas before they emerge as fully developed insects.

IDLE FUNDS HELD BY BANKS CLIMB TO NEW RECORD

Nation's Stocks of Gold Also Set Peak.

Idle funds of member banks of the federal reserve system reached another new peak in the week ended April 12, the federal reserve board reported yesterday. Excess reserves totaled $3,880,000,000, an increase of $170,000,000 over the preceding week.

An increase of $138,000,000 in gold stocks was reported, bringing holdings to a new high of $15,430,000,000. Money in circulation declined $20,000,000 to $6,835,000,000.

A gain of $14,000,000 in commercial, industrial, and agricultural loans was reported by New York City member banks. Loans to brokers and dealers in securities fell $38,000,000. A decline of $4,000,000 in commercial, industrial, and agricultural loans was reported by Chicago member banks. Details follow:

Investors' Guide

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

STOCKS' WARTIME BEHAVIOR.

Investors' Guide: There is naturally a lot of speculative talk going the rounds about what stock prices would do if a European war should break out. Just as a matter of curiosity I examined a chart of the Dow-Jones industrial average in 1914 to find out what happened then. It seems that the stock exchange was closed for several months right after war broke out and that the Dow-Jones average slipped while the exchange was closed from above 70 down to 56. Does this indicate what happened to the "market," or is there some catch in it? —T. D. H.

Answer: There is something of a catch in the figures you give. As you say, the stock market was closed from the time the world war began, July 30, until Dec. 12, but the level of stock prices did not drop.

In the July-December interval the Dow-Jones average, which had included only twelve stocks, was changed to include twenty issues. Because of this the average of July 30 was not comparable at all with the Dec. 12 average.

The average of the twenty stocks was 56.08 on Dec. 12, actually a slight increase from the 53.73 average of the same stocks on July 30. The decline of more than 15 points in the Dow-Jones average was thus due to the change from twelve to twenty stocks and not to the action of stock prices.

Investors' Guide: I should like to have a little comparative data on mail order houses, showing the relative size and profits of Sears-Roebuck and Montgomery Ward. Which is bigger? Has their relative position changed much in recent years? Have both been consistent money makers? —M. R. S.

Answer: Sears, Roebuck & Co. is still, as it has been for some years, the largest mail order house and has made the highest net profits. Here is a brief comparison of 1938 operations of Sears and Montgomery Ward:

Year ended Jan. 31, 1939.	Sears-Roebuck.	Montg'y Ward.
Cost of sales and expenses	472,296,000	390,124,000
Net income	23,354,000	19,645,000

The sales volume of Montgomery Ward has expanded more than Sears' sales in the last ten years. In 1929 Ward's sales were about 67 per cent of Sears', but last year Ward's sold 80 per cent as much as its larger rival. The figures given include sales through retail stores.

Sears showed profits throughout the depression except for a net loss of $2,500,000 in 1932. Ward's had losses amounting to more than $14,000,000 in 1931 and 1932, but has been a consistent money maker since then.

WALLACE URGES WHEAT, COTTON EXPORT SUBSIDY

Blames Dictator Nations for Loss of Trade.

Washington, D. C., April 13.—(AP)—With world conditions in their present chaotic state, the United States must subsidize exports of cotton and wheat, Secretary Wallace told the senate appropriations committee today.

The wheat subsidy plan used this year has resulted in exporting 77,000,000 bushels, but unless some way is found to export part of the 11,000,000 bale cotton surplus "it would be suicidal" for the south, Wallace said.

At the same time, he praised Secretary Hull's reciprocal tarif program for increasing world trade.

Puts Blame on Dictators.

"But actions of the dictators have kept that policy from meeting full success," he said. "The reciprocal trade program has not brought back to the farmers of the United States more than a small portion of their lost markets for wheat, and due to world conditions cannot do so in the future."

Testifying at hearings on a proposed increase of $400,000,000 in farm benefit funds, he indicated he favored an increase, but did not say to what extent. The money should be supplied, he said, reiterating a position he took some months ago, by the imposition of processing taxes on agricultural products.

The wheat export program has cost between 25 and 30 cents a bushel.

Some Experts Disagree.

Although there was no official comment at the state department on Wallace's reference to the trade agreements program, it was apparent that trade experts there questioned some of his statements. When asked about the subject, they said Secretary Hull was determined to go ahead with his program, and called attention to his recent statement:

"In spite of plausible indications and pseudo-logical inferences to the contrary, the drift toward complete national self-sufficiency is far from making ready headway in the world as a whole. While excessive barriers to trade continue to weigh heavily upon international commerce, the major part of world trade is still carried on by countries which are not attempting to be self-contained regardless of cost."

COTTONSEED CRUSH DROPS.

The census bureau has reported cottonseed crushed in the 8 month period, Aug. 1 to March 31, totaled 3,845,336 tons, compared with 5,500,950 tons in the corresponding period a year ago.

EASTERN CITIES FEEL PINCH OF COAL DEADLOCK

New York May Buy or Lease Mine.

coal and, when no coal is being moved, the management could do nothing else but reduce employment.

Meantime the subcommittee composed of representatives of the operators and the unions have been getting nowhere. John L. Lewis, president of the C. I. O. and one of the four union negotiators, said today that the miners would refuse to return to work unless the operators would grant complete recognition of the union.

The operators have announced that they are willing to sign the old contract, which was in effect for two years, but the unions are demanding a closed shop and certain other points, including the elimination of the "penalty clause" which provides that miners taking part in unauthorized strikes shall be fined.

At Charleston, W. Va.—in the heart of one of the largest coal areas in the nation—representatives of the United Mine Workers have asked the authorities for food and clothing from the Surplus Commodities corporation. There are about 100,000 miners in the state out of work. No official action has been taken on the request.

FOOD PRICES DIP.

Retail prices of food declined in the month ended March 14, the bureau of labor statistics announced. The bureau's index, based on the 1923-'25 average, was 76.4, compared with 76.8 on Feb. 14 and 78.6 on March 15, 1938.

SENATE PASSES BILL FOR TVA TO BUY POWER UNIT

Washington, D. C., April 13.—(AP)—The senate passed and sent to the house today a bill by Senator Norris [Ind., Neb.] amending existing law to permit the Tennessee Valley authority to purchase the electric utility properties of the Tennessee Electric Power company.

The measure would authorize the TVA to issue up to $100,000,000 in bonds to finance this purchase.

Meet on Final Details.

New York, April 13.—(AP)—Wendell L. Willkie, president of Commonwealth and Southern corporation, and representatives of Tennessee Valley Authority plan to meet here within two weeks and iron out the remaining problems affecting the controversy between the private and public body, it was learned today.

Called technically to discuss purchase by TVA and associated communities of the Columbus division of the Mississippi Power company, and the northern division of Alabama Power company, C. & S. subsidiaries, the conference will actually take up the long mooted "line of demarcation" between private and public power sales, it was said.

"How I Got a Loan of $100

"I needed $100 in a hurry. I dreaded to ask friends for a favor. And I had no security for getting a loan at a bank. What was I to do? Fortunately I heard about Household Finance and so went to a nearby office. The manager was courteous and friendly. He merely asked me a few simple questions. The next day I got the money, with 20 months to repay. Only my wife and I signed the papers. I was delighted to get a loan so simply and promptly."

Whether you are married or single, if you need a loan of $20 to $300 the manager of the Household office near you will be glad to discuss your problem with you in complete privacy and without obligation. Why not phone or visit him today?
